To those great souls who dreamed and toiled for us; who labored, that we might have life; who watched and prayed for us; to those whose faces were the first to smile upon us in our helpless infancy; to those hands which so tenderly cared for us throughout our thoughtless, youthful years; to those hearts that have ached in our sorrow, and rejoiced in our gladness; to those spirits inspired by the purest and greatest love; to the Mothers of the class of ’31, this volume is reverently and affectionately dedicated.
Foreword

IN publishing this Edition of the ASODECOAN, it has been our purpose to bring to the students and alumni, a history of Atlanta-Southern for the year 1931. We have endeavored to include the names, faces, and activities, and to so arrange the various sections of the book, that, in after years, when we chance to scan these pages, we may find them a means of taking us back through the vistas of memory, where we may live again the many happy hours spent from childhood through the life in our Alma Mater. If this has been accomplished, our efforts will not have been in vain.

Just as this annual is about to go to press, we are grieved to learn of the death of the beloved Dean of the Faculty, Dr. Thomas P. Hinman. Dr. Hinman had been a Professor of Oral Surgery in the Atlanta-Southern Dental College since 1892, and Dean since 1917.

So well known was he in his profession, both nationally and internationally, that it would be a useless repetition to give here his many outstanding achievements. A brief summary of his life will therefore suffice.

Dr. Hinman was born March 4, 1870, in Stratford, Canada, and was brought to the United States by his parents when he was one year of age. He spent the great majority of his life in Atlanta, Ga., and established in that city one of the largest dental practices in the United States. He received his D.D.S. degree from the dental department of the Southern Medical College in 1891, which institution was later taken over by the Southern Dental College, and finally became merged with the present Atlanta-Southern Dental College.

He was president of the National Dental Association in 1915, which later took the name of the American Dental Association, and was a delegate to the International Congress of Dentists which met in London in 1914. He was the organizer of the Atlanta Midwinter Clinic, which has met in Atlanta yearly since 1911.

His value to science was publicly recognized by the University of Georgia in 1924, when he received from that institution the degree of Doctor of Science. Dr. Hinman was also prominent in business and art circles in Atlanta. He was a man of broad interests.

In his death the dental profession and the country at large has suffered an irreparable loss. His was a great influence—one that will linger long in the hearts of the members of the dental profession. In death as in life, this influence will continue to uplift and inspire others to nobler achievements.

Greetings to the Class of 1931

By S. W. Foster, D.D.S., F.A.C.D., President

The Atlanta-Southern Dental College

Four years have passed since most of you left the college of arts and entered these halls in quest of your professional education. I have been interested and indeed happy as I have watched your educational progress. I often have been reminded of the words of Aristotle, "Education is an armament in prosperity and a refuge in adversity."

The greater part of your life has been spent striving to obtain your education. You are soon to reach your coveted goal. Yet you have laid only the foundation upon which is to be built your real education.

The ideal education contemplates the development to the highest degree of all the latent faculties and talents of the mind and body, mental, physical, artistic and moral.

Few have the qualities of receiving a complete education, but all possess certain talents and powers which may be developed to a capacity of doing certain things well. They are acquiring a broader and deeper education with every additional accomplishment.

Probably the most successful education is that which will enable one to make perfect a few things necessary for daily performance on the stage of life.

Your future educational problems engage your professional life. You will be confronted with perplexing difficulties. Do not become despondent, but rather take courage when you see around you men who have attained renown in your profession or in other special lines. Know that those who have gone before and who have become famous in your profession were once young and are human, even as you are. Shakespeare said, "I think the King is but a man as I am."

Let me adjure you not to permit your education to cease with the receipt of your diploma. Identify yourselves with all organizations or movements which have for their purpose the advancement of your profession.

Read diligently current dental magazines and literature. Know that those who have become illustrious were once starting as you are. You are not only capable of following in their footsteps, but of rising to still higher achievements.

In the language of Edgar Guest:

"The great were once as you, They whom men magnify today Once groped and blundered on life's way, Were fearful of themselves, and thought By magic was men's greatness wrought. They feared to try what they could do, Yet fame hath crowned with her success The selfsame gifts that you possess."

"Oh, Youth, go forth and do! You, too, to fame may rise; You can be strong and wise. Stand up to life and play the man— You can if you'll but think you can; The great were once as you. You envy them their proud success? 'Twas won with gifts that you possess."

After Graduation, What?

By Ralph R. Byrnes, D.D.S., F.A.C.D.

Executive Dean, The Atlanta-Southern Dental College

To candidates for graduation the question often occurs: "What kind of living shall I be able to make after getting my diploma?" That is a perfectly natural and logical question. A dental graduate should be properly compensated for the labor and expense entailed in obtaining his professional degree.

But there is something more—of perhaps greater importance—which the neophite should ask himself: "What shall be my place in society?" One would be inclined to say off-hand that his niche in society shall be that of a professional man—that of an important worker in health conservation. But that cannot satisfy nor constitute a well rounded life. It does not fully answer the question.

Therefore, after years of preparation we are yet confronted with deciding whether we are to be just dentists or something more—shall we "climb the high way" or "grope the low" or shall we be numbered with the "rest" who "in between on the misty flats, drift to and fro."

Let me urge you to make the fine distinction between being known simply as a dentist and being regarded as an individual. A professional degree cannot make a personality; it just catalogs a man vocationally. While it is true that a doctor's degree will give the young graduate a certain advantage in his social relations, it cannot breathe into him the warmth and glow of a rich personality.

By "personality," I do not mean the ability to be an expert "back-slapper." Geniality that is simulated produces an unfavorable impression. True personality sets one aside from all others. There are many qualities which go to make up this subtle attribute called personality.

Interest in the civic and educational affairs of one's community is essential. The dentist should not evade his full responsibility of citizenship. But may I stress another factor—that of culture?

"Culture is not a possession, like real estate." It is a state of mind. Extensive education is not absolutely essential to culture. Culture means more than etiquette and dress. One of the surest approaches to it lies in an appreciation of the aesthetic in life. No happiness can be greater than that of the mind that has become sensitive to the beauty that surrounds it. Seek the beautiful in art, literature, music, philosophy, nature-study, or even in conversation, if you will—but seek it. Such appreciation will pay you dividends in happiness and will enrich your soul. When you establish yourself in your community, establish yourself not merely as a dentist, but as an individual, a personality.

If you will strive to do this, your place in society will be all that can be desired, and you will help build for the graduates who follow you a richer heritage of public esteem.

“It is better to be small and let your light shine than to be large and cast a shadow.”
J. A. Broaddus
GLEN ALLEN, VA.
"J. A."
Ψ Ω; Φ Γ Δ

"J. A." is a well known and popular figure on the A. S. D. C. "Campus." Ordinarily, he is quiet and not in the least forward, but don't think he can't take care of himself if the occasion demands it. We have always wondered what he would look like with a smile upon his face, but feel sure that behind that serious countenance, lies a heart of gold and the stuff to make good. Best wishes for a successful career.

W. C. Brock
CARROLTON, GA.
"Bill"
Ξ Ψ Φ

"Bill" came to us from Emory University and during his years with us, he has won the highest admiration and respect of the faculty and student body. He is a true friend and gentleman in every respect, and as a student, stands near the top of the class in both operative and theoretical work. As a clear thinker and a man among men we predict for him a successful future in his chosen profession.

J. W. Brownlee
STARKE, FLORIDA
"Speedy"
Ψ Ω

Here 'tis, dear reader, the smallest member of the class. And he's just another proof of the old saying "the best goods come in smallest packages." "Speedy" doesn't believe that one comes to college just for a big spree; he has his pleasures, but at the same time is a consistent worker, ranking high in scholastic achievements. His accomplishments here will be but stepping stones to greater things.

"You never know what you can do till you try."
E. R. Bufkin
HATTIESBURG, MISSISSIPPI
"E. R."

To fulfill a cherished philosophy that a man is a man because of the kind of education which he possesses, "Boofkin" chose a path of thorns, and made of it a bed of roses. Running the gauntlet of two years in Emory, and three busy years in Atlanta-Southern, he has ended the race with a record stamped with ability as well as information. In spite of his practical application to an intensive line of study, he has gone far into the realm of friendship. May he gain an even more enviable record in the years to come.

O. H. Chitwood
FORT PAYNE, ALABAMA
"Hugh"
ΞΨΦ

Fort Payne's loss was Atlanta's gain, when "Hugh" entered the college in the fall of '27. Since then, he has endeared himself in the hearts of all who have been privileged to call him their friend. He couples an irresistible personality with a deservedly famous "line." When "Hugh" gets behind a proposition, it is a signal for all its opponents to withdraw to a great distance. "Hugh" has not made his first million yet, but is destined to become one of our outstanding alumni.

Ralph Coffey
BURNSVILLE, N. C.
"Ralph"
ΔΣΔ

A bare four years ago, a very handsome young man boarded a train in Burnsville with a ticket to Atlanta and a head full of hopes and ambitions, leaving behind him a multitude of lonesome and broken hearts. But ambition must not bow to love, so this fair "Campus" received unto its bosom one who is destined to, some day, be seen in the Hall of Fame. As one of our most active and popular members, "Ralph" leaves a gap that will remain for years to come.

"Think of the future, forget the past, and make the best of your present."

Here’s a man without an enemy! This long-lengthy-good-natured boy comes to us direct from the farm, with a heart as big as his feet. He is of a very quiet nature, and never speaks unless spoken to. The many friends he has made are sure to be everlasting. He is steady, sincere in his purpose, and will soon reach success. May luck be with you always.

OPELIKA, ALABAMA
“Red”
ΨΩ; ΦΧ; ΦΣΚ
“Red” is one of the reasons why Opelika is so well known. He is a fellow who is always at work, and seems to obtain a lot of kick in putting out hard labor for no other reason than the satisfaction that his work has been well done. With his smile for everyone, and quiet attitude towards the world, his prognosis seems good. May he go hand in hand with success and happiness.

W. S. Durham
COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA
“Bull”
ΞΨΦ
“Bull,” as he is known by everyone, hails from the sandlapper state. He possesses an unusual personality and artistic temperament, which, together with his air of dignity and confidence will no doubt carry him to top of his profession. His background is excellent, as he inherits sturdy qualities from a long line of professional ancestry.

“Accept your fate but keep striving.”
L. H. Edwards
LATTA, SOUTH CAROLINA
"Count"
ΞΨΦ

It would take more than a paragraph to tell all we know about this unique character. To us, it seems strange that "Count" did not enter the automobile business, as he is considered an authority on cars. For him we predict a busy future; here's hoping it will be in line with his profession, but we fear it will be in the car exchange.

W. L. Ezzell
CONCORD, NORTH CAROLINA
"Easy"

"Easy" is as "Easy" does;—Easy coming, and Easy going,—and one wonders if he ever gets there. Time means nothing in the life of this six-foot Tarheel. We have heard him say that the only time he will ever hurry, will be to rush up and nab the sheepskin. However, "Wendell" has the old spirit and fight when needed and no one will ever be found who possesses such a likeable disposition. Best o' luck, "Easy," and may alarm clocks never bar your way to success.

Wm. J. Fabris, Jr.
LYNDBURST, NEW JERSEY
"Bill"
ΔΣΔ: ΑΤΩ

"Bill" happens to be the only Yankee in this year's crop of embryo tooth-pullers, but by diligent work and perseverance, he has managed to overcome that handicap by a big margin. Democratic in his dealings with everyone; never forward, yet always ready to help others. "Bill" is an all-round good fellow, and we've enjoyed having him with us. Here's hoping that his root canal cases in the future, will be bigger and better than ever;—"Come back and see us, 'Bill.'"

LAWNDALE, NORTH CAROLINA
"Cy"
ΨΩ
During the past three years, A. S. D. C. has been signally honored by the presence of one, "Cy Brevard." How we do love to hear him elucidate on certain subjects. He adds that humorous touch to everything he says. "Cy" is liked by all, and though he leaves us in body, his spirit will linger on.

F. A. FINLEY, JR.
EASLEY, SOUTH CAROLINA
"Red"
ΔΣΔ
"Red" is a boy of sterling character. He has an enviable record theoretically, and a practical knowledge, which goes to make an ideal student and operator. Aside from being an excellent student, "Red" has a winning personality, which has won for him many friends, in and out of A. S. D. C. With these qualities, we are sure that success awaits him.

J. W. GAINES
SENeca, SOUTH CAROLINA
"Shorty"
"Shorty," though small in stature, is blessed with intelligence deluxe. He believes firmly, that — "When better questions are asked, Gaines will ask them." Nevertheless, he is a hard worker, and clever technician. May you before long, climb high on the ladder of success.

"It may be all right to be content with what you have; never with what you are."
F. R. Garrett
PURITAN MINES, WEST VIRGINIA
"Frank"
ΔΣΔ
When Frank said good-bye to the coal mines of West Virginia, he left the pick and shovel standing as was, a silent monument, which would bear mute testimony to his desire for higher and better things. As to his good qualities, we cannot make a complete analysis, but we can say, that he is a man of industry and energy, and one who by his friendliness and hard work, has become exceedingly popular with the student body and faculty.

C. H. Gentry
SPARTANBURG, SOUTH CAROLINA
"Kerk"
ΨΩ
"Kerk" came to us as a transfer from Maryland, where, judging by the caliber of his present work, he received a sound preliminary training in the fundamentals of dentistry. During the past two years we have been more than proud to have him as one of our classmates. Always ready to delve into the whys and wherefores of every perplexing subject, he has been a boon to many of us in times of distress. We know that if he applies his originality to the difficult problems of life, he is sure to make his mark in the world.

R. W. Genung

"R. W."
ΨΩ; ΣΤΔ
Russell hails from the sunny land of Florida, and brought with him the sunny smiles and personality that makes all of us admire him. In him, we find that happy combination of a good average student, who invariably passes his work, and yet finds time to keep up with the many phases of life in general. We wish for him a future of continued and greater success in the vocation to which he has been called.

ENSLEY, ALABAMA
"Generous"
ΞΨΦ

"Generous" Green comes to us unassuming and unspoiled, from the thriving suburb of Birmingham, the home of industry. He is rightly named, for by his disarming mildness of nature and perpetual spirit of good-fellowship, he has set for us a standard of unselfishness, worthy of our every effort to attain. With his persistent diligence to duty, we hold no fears for the future.

M. H. HAGOOD
BREWTON, ALABAMA
"Met"
ΣΑΕ

During his three years with us, "Met" has achieved a success that is real and permanent. He is one of those unassuming men who would rather show you his virtues than tell you about them. Wherever he may go, that state will be getting a real man; equipped with a strong character, a winning personality, and a liberal mind. "Met" just can't fail.

"Ich Dien," a worthy motto, characteristic of "C. B." Unassuming, modestly distant, yet sociable and willing to aid; admired by his friends, and respected by his associates; a hard worker and a leader among his classmates. To him we wish all success and happiness. May his years of service in his profession be amply repaid through the medium of the benefits he confers upon others.

"Charlie"
ΔΣΔ
Charlie arrived in Atlanta with Florida sand in his shoes. High ideals and a winning personality have won for him many friends in A. S. D. C., and Atlanta. With the ladies, he is irresponsible, for his smiles have broken many hearts. As a student, he stands among the best, and a truer friend cannot be found. For him, we wish the greatest success, which we are sure he will attain.

W. A. Hines
KOSCIUSKO, MISSISSIPPI
"Wirt"
ΨΩ
"Wirt" hails from the small burg of Kosciusko (spelling not guaranteed), but since his four-year stay in the big city, has given up the ways of the miniature metropolis. An inborn reserve, a quiet and unassuming nature, and a good student, are some of the virtues which endear "Wirt" to those of us who know him, and will bear him far on the sea of life.

T. I. Hodges
BRINSON, GEORGIA
"Pete"
ΦΡΣ
No, dear readers, this is not Paul Whiteman; -- it is our own "Pete" Hodges. We will miss his wit, stories and companionship. During the three years he has been with us, his congenial character and jolly but sincere nature, has made us all his admirers. Whether or not fortune comes his way, he will succeed, for he is ever ready for a patient struggle, and will win in the long run.

"All that I am; all that I ever hope to be, I owe to my mother."
Luther Hughes
MADISON, ALABAMA
"Luther"
ΔΣΔ
We are glad that Luther gave up pill rolling, to come and carve teeth with us. Having entered the vast gates to the realm of knowledge, he immediately began a serious study of his chosen profession; not too serious, however, to prevent his giving plenty of time to the pursuit of pleasure as well as giving the fairer sex a break. So, Luther enters the wide world with a sincerity of purpose, and a jovial personality, which in itself, bespeaks success.

Vance Jackson
CLAIRMONT SPRINGS, ALABAMA
"Vance"
ΨΩ; ΛΧΑ
One of the best things in life is association with worth-while companions, and we thank our various gods for the opportunity of knowing "Vance." A serious-minded, yet fun-loving boy, with a definite goal set for himself and a wealth of determination to reach it, he has yet found time to enter into the spirit of college life, and to prove himself a cordial and sincere friend to his intimates, and a cheerful acquaintance to the school at large. The best that we can wish him, is that he may never lose his sunny smile and cordial manner.

D. W. Jones
HOLLAND, VIRGINIA
"D. W."
ΞΨΦ; ΙΤΚ
For an all-round good fellow, no one can meet the requirements more thoroughly than "D. W." A smile always adorns his pleasing countenance, and he is the slowest man to anger that we have ever seen. "Jones without his smile, is as a college without its tuition," they go hand in hand. As to his powers over women, the least said about it, the better. Suffice to state that as yet, he has not been caught in the matrimonial net, but we fear for his future in that field. So here's to you, Darden, old scout.

"Never repent for what you have done when you have done your best."
L. S. Jones
Pensacola, Florida
"Chick"
ΣΑΤ

"Lis" comes to us from the fair city of Pensacola, on the balmy Gulf of Mexico. During his stay at Atlanta-Southern, he has endeared himself to all by his quiet, unassuming manner. He is unselfish, patient, slow to criticize, tolerant of others, yet firm in his beliefs. We have no fears as to his future, but confidence, based on the efficiency which has distinguished his college career.

N. B. Jones
Opelika, Alabama
"Buford"
ΨΩ; ΘΚΝ

Here's a lad who hails from the small town known as Opelika, but his ability is not to be measured by the size of this little place. He joined us in the battle for the sheepskin three years ago, and has encountered the pleasures, pains and toils of dental college. You will never find one more conscientious and more thorough than "N. B." He leaves us with that unbeatable combination of brains and humor, and we feel sure that he will become a valuable asset to the profession.

A. C. Kimble
Americus, Georgia
"Andy"
ΨΩ

"Andy" is one of our good-humored boys, who is known for his big open heart. One whom you can always depend upon to do what he says, never boasting his own wares, caring little for the praises of the world, but prizing more highly the sincere confidence of his fellow students—that's "Andy." You can't help but like him, whether or not you know him. In his work here he has done well, and we are waiting to hear of the time when he makes a "killin'":

"Give to the world the best that you have, and the best will come back to you."
L. G. Knobeloch
CHARLESTON, S. C
"Irish"; "Knobby"

"Irish" has made an enviable record during his three-year stay with us. He is very ambitious, and has proven himself to be proficient in all phases of dentistry, by his tireless, conscientious work in them; therefore, we predict a successful career for him, if the character of his work is to be taken as an index to his future.

J. H. Lawrence
ELBERTON, GEORGIA
"Lawry"

Lawrence came to us from Wofford College, where, from all indications, he learned the art of studying and acquired the knack of concentrating. His record during his three years' stay at A. S. D. C. substantiate these facts. We feel that nothing short of success awaits such a hard and conscientious worker.

J. E. Martin
BARTOW, FLORIDA
"Elliott"

The fact that "Elliott" came to us from Florida, means nothing. He is a Kentuckian, though we have heard him say "I was reared in Tennessee." One knows how it is with preachers. An occasional "Little Elliott," is the only sobriquet to which Martin can lay claim. There are no singularities about him; he is a real man. May the cup of plenty overflow much for him.

"To be conscious that you are ignorant is a great step toward knowledge."
Robert Masten
WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA
"Chubby"

"The man with the big grin,"—Chubby is one of those chaps who, realizing the need of a conscientious performer in this world to get to the top of the ladder, has been a worker of consistent and dogged determination. He combines an inseparable blend of good humor with a bit of temper (just enough to make him human); and has a brand of seriousness that few of his fellow classmates possess. In other words, he's just a regular fellow.

H. W. Moore
CORBITT, NORTH CAROLINA
"Jack"

"Jack" (even he cannot explain the nick-name), came to Atlanta-Southern with a determination of purpose that was soon evident to all concerned. His quiet, unassuming manner, and willingness to help and co-operate with others, has made many life-long friends for "Jack." Though not given to loud talk, you can bet your last dime that whatever he says is almost, if not always, the gospel truth. He is expected to succeed in a big way by all who know him.

G. E. Mott
OAK RIDGE, LOUISIANA
"Dub"

We don't know exactly the location of Oak Ridge, but if "Dub" says Louisiana, it's all O. K. with us. We do know, however, that no man has ever gone through this college who was liked more than he. His attractive personality stands out wherever he goes, and our affection and best wishes join him on the rocky road to success.

"Honesty, hard work, and fair play: these shall be the rules and guide of my life in all its phases."
C. B. Murphy
HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA
"Murph"

"Murph," we are sorry to state, left the arms of his Alma Mater in the middle of his Senior year. While here, he made many staunch friends who are proud to call him "Pal." All we can wish is that he will return soon to the scene of earlier triumphs, and finish the work which he so nobly started.

J. B. McKee
PLASTERCO, VIRGINIA
"Mac"
ΞΨΦ; ΦΧ

"Mac" came to Atlanta with the intention of getting an education, and not merely a degree, and the fact that he has passed all his subjects with grades far above the average, shows that he has fulfilled his intention. "Mac's" affable temperament, frankness, and striking personality, have drawn to him a host of friends, whose consolation, on the eve of his departure, is that their loss will be some one else's gain.

W. K. Naftel
NAFTEL, ALABAMA
"Willie K"
ΨΩ

"I disagree with everything you say, but I'll fight to the death for your right to say it," this, in miniature, describes the incomparable "Willie K." He can tell the biggest yarns, about the queerest incidents, in the "bulliest" way. Not that we doubt the veracity of his statements,—no, not that; but we do recommend that the listener carry the proverbial salt with him, while the tales are being propounded.

"Let me live in the house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man."
R. S. Porter
SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

"Bob"
Ψ Ω; Δ Σ Φ

All during his three years with us, "Bob" has held to the idea that while in college, a man should develop mentally, spiritually, physically and socially. Result: a four square man. He is the kind of man who takes his work seriously and life good-naturedly. Without his volume of clean-dry humor, life for the rest of us would indeed be dull. Here's hoping that he "carries on" after graduation.

W. W. Rankin
MOORESVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

"Bud"
Ψ Ω; Δ Σ Φ

One seldom finds the conglomerate of virtues in one man, that "Bud" has so generously been endowed with. Maturity of judgment, tempered with the sagacity of experience: a tranquil disposition, made so by a strong character; a humorist of the highest type; friendly, yet never intimate; polite, yet never stiff—in a word, a gentleman. To "Bud"—Success!

"Robbie"
Δ Σ Δ

"Robbie" belongs to that group of students who came to college with a definite purpose, and who have been willing to work in order that they might receive the greatest benefit from their stay here. A more sincere man could not be found, and were Diogenes still searching for his honest man, we could point proudly to "Robbie," and so end the search. Our best wishes go with him for success in the great "School of Life."

“Kos”
ΞΦΦ; ΑΤΩ
If it takes a pleasing personality, an ever-ready friendly word, and a lending hand in time of need, to make a good fellow, “Kos” can truly be called a prince of good fellows. He has brought personality into the class of ’31, and it is with a feeling of irreparable loss that we see him leave. Although we say ”au revoir” with regret, wishing him the best of luck always, we do not say “adieu.”

Here indeed, is a man who realizes that he is the architect of his own fortune, and, as such, must rely upon his own strength of body and mind to attain success. He is self reliant and generous; hence, to such a man, one can only predict the utmost in happiness and success.

“Jo”
ΞΨΦ
Adjectives such as quiet, unassuming, serious, reserved, patient, and slow, do not hit the spot when it comes to describing good old “Jo.” Whenever you see him, he is dashing hither and yon, always rushing to get where he’s going, even though it might be the time honored 4:30 lecture. There will never be another just like “Jo,” and when all others are forgotten, memories of the “one and only” are sure to come back to us.

"Steve"

"Steve" first saw the light of day in Orleans, Vermont, and was initiated into the dark secrets of dental surgery at the University of Maryland. We are glad that he decided to complete his course in Atlanta, as he has been our "life-saver" by occupying the position of official note taker during his stay here. Although he has earned the title of "The class's quietest man," we feel sure that his brain is as active as that of brother Stukes, and that the dental world will hear much from him in the near future.

If but one word were allowed to describe Charlie, one would think at once of "debonair." Never has he refused to give a fellow student a helping hand; never has he bragged about his achievements, and never will it be necessary for him to take second honors from anyone in the field of dentistry. One can't wish him success; one must predict it.

"Kid"
Ψ Ω

A true individuality that is felt among students as well as instructors, is "Kid." The earnest and conscientious way in which he does his work; blended with the keenest sense of wit and humor, has placed him a step ahead of his fellow men, and has made it possible for the honor of president of the senior class to be bestowed upon him.

"Let no one influence you to be different from what your conscience tells you to be."

"Tige"

"Tige" is originally a Yankee, but has been in the Southland so long, we feel safe in claiming him to be a Southern gentleman. It would be impossible to give him the usual stereotyped write-up, and come anywhere near the truth. He has a pronounced individuality. We do not mean that he is selfish or egotistical; we mean that he is different. He does not follow the leading of the common herd, nor does he mind breaking precedent and bucking criticism. "Tige," as one of the best and most likeable students, is bound to make a go of it.

"Sam"
ΞΨΦ

"A big little man who has made good," characterizes "Sam." His many friends bear witness to the magnetism of the merry twinkle in his eyes. A good, conscientious operator, "Sam" smilingly looks now for bigger fields to conquer. He has a smile that is winning; a "line" that is pleasing; and more fair friends than a fellow can very well keep track of. As we greeted him with joy, we say farewell in sorrow. "Have a big time, Walker."

"Spike"
ΞΨΦ; ΘΚΝ

Some boys come to college to study; others come for a good time; "Spike" came for both, as may easily be ascertained by his scholastic record and popularity among the students and faculty. He combines a mountain of energy, with a potent "line," a winning smile, and an inimitable laugh. When "Spike" gets a whack at the world, two things will happen shortly:—he will convince some young lady that he has a good proposition for a life partnership, and he will make amalgam fillings as popular as a Royal Flush.

"If you can't say a good word for your fellowman, say nothing at all."
With the passing of the college days of "Dear ole Greg," we see success exemplified through two channels—girls' hearts and girls' teeth. He will always be master of the situation in both lines. Good-bye, Greg—we know that you will succeed in every undertaking.

George came to us three years ago, with his football shoes and shoulder pads not yet cleaned of their gore of many a hard fought gridiron battle. He soon realized that the technique of restoring a tooth was far different from that of backing a line. With this thought in view, George buckled down, and developed into a capable, a conscientious operator. "Knock 'em dead, George."

"Dan" left the cotton pickers in "Ole Miss." and came many miles to shift for himself in dear old Alma Mater. "Dan" never shirks responsibility, and always puts forth his best effort in every undertaking. He is sincere and straight-forward in his dealings with others, and behind that sober and sincere expression, lurks a wealth of good-nature and humor, that is known only to those closest to him.

Another man from the "Gator" state. You will go a long way before you find a better man than Harry. He has more real friends here, than Florida has alligators, and that's saying a lot. When he goes back to his old stamping ground, a full-fledged D.D.S., we hope that he does as well in the practice of his profession as he did in the preparation for it.

"Take the world as you find it, but do not leave it so."
Senior Class History

Our dreams of yesterday have come true at last! Little did we think that it would come so soon, for four years seemed like a long, long time. Now that we are honest-to-goodness Seniors, we like to look back at the good old days when we were in the Freshman class.

This college has never before seen a group of men with a spirit like that of the Class of '31. She started off with that same spirit, and it has been kept up throughout the years we have spent at Atlanta-Southern. Our Freshman year was a big event for most of us, even though we did spend a large part of the time looking for the key to the vulcanizer. Like all the rest, we have had fun along with our work.

Several of our classmates did not return at the beginning of our Sophomore year. However, new faces soon took their places at the laboratory benches. We had more work than usual to do, for all lab. work had to be completed by the end of the term, so that more time could be devoted to clinical work our Junior year. Soon our Sophomore days were over, and everyone began to look forward to the much dreaded work in the infirmary.

Well do we recall those first few days in the clinic! It was a nightmare to most of us then, but we look back on it now, with many pleasant memories. As a Junior class, we did unusually well, for we all took a great interest in our work, and put forth our very best efforts. Soon the stage-fright period passed, and we began to look forward to our Senior year and graduation.

Before we could realize that we were no longer Juniors, our last year was well under way. It seems strange to relate that none of us have worried half so much over State Boards and such matters, as we did our Freshman year. We are now ready and anxious to go forward in our profession, and give to the world the best there is in us.

Our stay has seemed but a short while, and it has passed too soon for most of us. We will leave behind many friends, but though they will be out of sight, they will not be out of mind. They have meant much to us in the past four years, and without such friendships, the time would not have passed so quickly. To the members of the faculty we are indeed grateful for the knowledge which has been so graciously given us. We now feel that we are better prepared to face the world, and, above all, to aid humanity.

D. C. Williams,
Class Historian.
WE, the Class of 1931, feel that we are the most fortunate class in college. We enjoy life no matter what happens. Let the rain pour or the sun shine, there is a song in our hearts, always. We are distressed by the ignorance which overshadowed our Freshman year; we are not burdened with the dignity which was so heavy during our Sophomore year; we are not saddened by thoughts of happy days that are to be no more and of serious days ahead.

To old ATLANTA-SOUTHERN we have endeavored to give our best. May our small bit be a substantial rung in the ladder of advancement.

"Lives of great men all remind us,
We can make our lives sublime;
And departing leave behind us,
Footprints on the sands of time."

Footprints! What a privilege it is for us to pass this way, to tread this path; yet, what are we leaving behind us? Are we making our footsteps permanent?

It has been our aim to make our steps so deep that nothing worthwhile would be erased. We have seen plainly the goal before us, and we trust our footprints may be such that others may be guided by them. May they be to the footsore students behind us as a highway to the desert traveler, a guide, a relief from weary searching.

We therefore pledge ourselves, oh ALMA MATER, to forge ahead, keeping the purpose always in mind. The splendid example set by many students who have gone before will be our incentive, and will keep us from treading on the shifting sands of desert land where footsteps quickly fade away.

“Tis better to have tried and failed than not to have tried at all.”
Junior Class History

On October 1st, 1928, the group that is now, with but few exceptions, the present Junior class, met at the Atlanta-Southern Dental College for the first time. Most of us were in a more or less confused and harassed condition, and naturally, were very pleasantly surprised to find an assemblage of sincere and considerate associates, instead of the snobbish upper classmen that we had been in contact with in literary colleges.

The first few weeks of our Freshman year seemed very nice indeed. We were invited out most every night, and always seemed to be having a wonderful time. Although there was plenty to study, the majority of us just gamboled along, enjoying life immensely.

However, after we had taken a few quizzes, and had been called down to Dr. Byrnes' office for a little discussion—well, we began to look at things in a different light, and decided that there really wasn't "anything mysterious" about it after all.

During the second lap of the journey, our lack of confidence dropped, and we became actually brilliant!—know it all Sophomores. After being informed by several of the instructors that our class was one of the best that had ever entered A. S. D. C., our heads, which already had a tendency to swell, became almost unsupportable.

Nevertheless, this over-confidence passed with the coming of the Junior year, and all of us soon acquired the necessary professional dignity.

Many of the fellows, upon passing their Soph. work, took advantage of the summer clinic, and worked there all or part of the time. Others, upon completing the year's work, were soon boarding trains for home, after first searching through their pockets to make sure that they had the necessary "tickets" that Dr. Enloe spoke of.

For the third time the old gang met again this year. A few were missing from the ranks, and several new ones added; but it still remained the same friendly, hard working bunch; all seeking the much desired D.D.S. degree. If we are fortunate enough to finish the remainder of this year, together with the Senior year, then we will have attained the goal we have worked for and looked forward to, the greater part of our lives.

R. H. Martin,
Class Historian.
Old Man and Wife

The youthful years, like revelers long gone,
Grow faint upon the senses. Now they know
The recompense that comes when young hearts go:
The gift of silence on a sun-flecked lawn.

They spend an hour with evening when the tall
Gaunt cedars yield their shadows, lean and gray,
And rise to meet the sun who comes to call
Each morning like a friend across the way.

They who have grown too wise for any speech,
Who feel a peace too deep for joy or pain,
Know there is nothing more the world can teach
Than what is learned in shadow, wind and rain.

And so, where lilacs brood and roses climb
Over a moss-green roof, they sit and wait
A dark, remembered hand upon the gate
As for an old friend gone a long, long time.

Sophomore Class History

The Class of '33 returned after the summer months, to an important year of its course;—the Sophomore Year. We were intent on making this year the best, for we knew that we had just entered the real technical work of our dental course.

The task of checking-in was rather customary, and, as usual, unpleasant.

When the whole class was present for first roll call, it was found that some of our former classmates were missing. We can only hope that they will be back in the near future to continue the work which they once began.

The "Slavery" this year, consisted of the making of crowns, bridges, plates, inlays, and what-not. Many a crown was burned up and nothing thought of it. Work was progressing rather smoothly, and we were even singing: "I wish I were a gold shell crown." We soon mastered Black's cutting instruments, and were able to apply our dexterous digital skill.

In Bacteriology, we learned that Bacteria do not disseminate by sprouting wings, and flying from hither to yon.

The Metallurgy lectures were regular afternoon teas, where everyone had a chance to talk. It was there that we learned about good old "Purple o' Cassius."

Dr. Boland's Physiology discussions were exceedingly interesting from "many stand-points."

And as for Chemistry, it was too broad and deep for most of us, and what we know about the subject could be written in six inch letters on any six inch piece of paper.

Next year we hope to show Dr. Enloe that his words of wisdom were not sown on unfertile soil.

We have just completed half of the journey we undertook; therefore, there is much history yet to be written.

Our sincerest hope is to continue our work in A. S. D. C. with the same interest and enthusiasm that we have had so far.

Freshman Class History

It was wonderful to most of us, even though we had attended some literary school before coming to Atlanta, getting acquainted with Atlanta-Southern, and trying to overcome that green personality; but it was impossible, so we continued on our Freshman career.

During the first few days, it was found that we had no trouble in disposing of our money. It was hard to realize that any one man (much less Freshman), could use so many books, dies, instruments, etc.; but through all the fog, we saw a light,—a beacon of encouragement. We couldn’t help but feel good when the upper classmen would pass by and say “Hello Doctor.” Of course, we felt sure enough swell then, but have since learned that it was merely an old A. S. D. C. custom.

Right from the beginning, Dr. Stegall had us playing with clay. We failed to see the connection, at first, and wanted to know why; and believe me, we found out plenty early. Following this, we took up the bones. Can you imagine that? They weren’t so large, but had so many angles, borders and surfaces, that we thought we had signed up for a course in Geometry. What we all were most interested in, was dissecting, of which we had heard and read a great deal. Now we have had the experience—“and how!”

On December 20th, we all took advantage of the holidays, and departed to cook that Christmas turkey. We returned to our work on January 5th, everyone reporting lots of fun and sport.

We have learned lots about tooth carving, and the uses of plaster of Paris, but are aware of the fact that there is yet much to learn, and many deep rivers and high mountains to cross. However, we are all going to put forth our best efforts toward making better men in our chosen profession.

Our history is short, but (pardon the ego), good; we hope to continue making it one of which everyone will be proud.

Fred S. Caddell,
Class Historian.
City Trees

There is a poverty that trees may show
From dearth of wholesome sunlight, winds and rains—
Old trees that press gaunt hands against the panes
Of tenements, like tombstones, row on row.
They are the trees around whose starved roots flow
Only the sweepings of the streets, the drains
Of black, tarred roofs,—and smoky, yellow stains
Of light are all the sunshine that they know.

How they must yearn, those brick-imprisoned trees,
For mellow slopes of hill where crystal clear
The rain comes ringing down,—where every breeze
Is redolent with mossy earth and flowers;
How like old men by penury made drear,
Silent, they bear the burden of the hours.

Glory To Them

Glory to them, the toilers of the earth,
Who wrought with knotted hands, in wood and stone,
Dreams their unlettered minds could not give birth
And symmetries their souls had never known.

Glory to them, the artisans, who spread
Cathedrals like brown lace before the sun,
Who could not build a rhyme, but reared instead
The Doric grandeur of the Parthenon.

I never cross a marble portico
Or lift my eyes where stained glass windows steal
From virgin sunlight moods of deeper glow,
Or walk dream-peopled streets, except to feel
A hush of reverence for that vast dead
Who gave us beauty for a crust of bread.

Recompense

Surely the time will come when we shall know
The passing of the dream that men call youth,
When blooms we nurtured in the long ago
Shall yield at length the sombre fruits of truth.
When that day comes our hearts will leap no more
At the bright call of youth, as breakers run
To greet the challenge of the shining shore—
Our days with light and laughter will be done.
But ours shall be the wisdom of old trees
Dreaming of countless summers come and gone,
Glory of westward ships on westward seas,
Beauty of shadow lace upon a lawn,
The sum of love beside a friendly fire,
And peace, that is the end of all desire.

“Why is Walker in such a hurry?”

“He just bought a text book, and is trying to get to class before they change the edition.”

Dr. Tucker: “If there are any dumb-bells in this room, please stand up.”

After a long pause, little Pete Hodges rises.

Dr. Tucker: “What, do you consider yourself a dumb-bell?”

Pete: “Well, not exactly; only I hate to see you standing there all alone.”
How to Keep from Growing Old

(1) When R. R. asks, "Why were you absent so many times?", just come back quick with, "None of your business." (The shock will send him into convulsions, and during the excitement, you can make your exit.)

(2) Walk around after Dr. W. Edgar, and turn on all lights right after he switches them off.

(3) Let Dr. Stegall catch you tossing clay.

(4) After "Shorty" E. gets through selling a patient on gold foil, pipe up, "No, Fred, I think you're wrong there, etc."

(5) Suck your teeth while Dr. Bud lectures.

(6) Stay awake in Dr. Huff's lectures (he will be so surprised he will probably have you stand on the platform as an example to the class, and so you will die of stage fright).

(7) When Uncle Shep says, "Wake up there, Boy," say nonchalantly, "Pardon me, but did you speak?"

(8) During one of Dr. Silverman's operations, politely ask, "Are you sure your hands are clean, Doctor?"

(9) Ask Dr. Scruggs to write a poem for Whiz-Bang.

(10) Have Kidney walk from his little nest, to the other side of the clinic, to check a prophylactic job.

(11) During "Bull" Hughes' lecture, sit in the last seat, and emit a long, deep MOO-O-O-O-O-O.

(12) Say to Dr. King, "Don't you think the shell crown is passé?"

(13) Ask Dr. Hill who his tailor is.

(14) Criticize this book.

Dr. Ballenger (to patient on operating table): "I like to be frank with everyone, so I might as well tell you that four out of five patients die under this operation. Is there anything I can do for you before I begin?"

Patient: "Yes, if you don't mind. Help me on with my shoes and pants."

* * * * *

Bragg: "Do you believe that a boy's future can be determined by his hobbies when young?"

Fisher: "Of course—my boy has a hobby of saving old magazines."

B.: "Ah—so he will be a journalist?"

F.: "No—a dentist."

NE of the old philosophers is credited with having said, "After all we do those thirds which we really want to do."

An analysis of our conduct from day to day really proves the correctness of this philosophy. Our accomplishments, yours and mine, are the direct result of a determination to accomplish.

Strange to relate, many of the world's greatest accomplishments are the outgrowth of dreams—sometimes just daydreams. Dreams only become realities when the dreamer has the determination to see them through.

The idea that you would attend Dental College and become a member of a noble profession was, at one time, more or less a dream. Remember? You possessed the determination to make that dream a reality.

And peculiar as it might seem, all of the time that you have been accomplishing your object, you have been dreaming of other things—among them a successful professional career.

Your ability to make this dream a reality again depends upon your determination; however, you must not handicap yourself by an uncomplimentary introduction to your patients. Remember—"A dentist is accepted by his patients as being as modern as his surroundings indicate."

Ritter's 40 years of experience is yours for the asking.

...you'll want your own x-ray unit

FREQUENT use of the x-ray is one of the ways by which the public is learning to distinguish the progressive dentist. More and more the leaders in the profession are installing their own x-ray units.

They find that making their own radiographs enables them to render better service, to make their time more profitable. They soon become expert in interpretation. And this ownership of an x-ray unit proves to be not an expense, but an investment from which they get a steady yield.

The Victor CDX Dental X-ray Unit has been a great factor in creating this vogue for individual ownership. The Victor CDX hangs suspended from the wall. It is electrically safe. Both transformer and tube, insulated in oil, are enclosed in the tube head. There is no high tension current exposed anywhere. You and your patient can touch the CDX anywhere while it is in operation. There is no danger of shock.

Let us send you the facts drawn from the experience of successful practitioners about this modern unit. It makes radiography almost as simple as photography. As you start out, you cannot afford to be without this important tool of your profession. Ask us for details of monthly payment plan.

CASH AND CARRY CLEANERS

We clean your cuffs, mend your lining, put buttons on that are off.

Dry cleaning revives and refreshes clothes—takes out all removable stains. Then skillful pressing restores all the smartness.

A trial is the best test. Send us your clothes for cleaning or pressing—then notice how shapely, spick and span they are when returned to you. You will see the difference and we believe you will continue to use our fine cleaning and pressing service.

DENTISTRY WANTS FACTS—NOT CLAIMS
WHEN BUYING DENTAL GOLDS--

During the year following announcement of the Jelenko Research Program, the response which we have had from the dental profession fully confirms our belief that dentistry today is eager for scientific knowledge to replace sales claims as the basis for selecting dental golds.

With the data available in our Research Bulletins; you can now plan dentures, bridges, clasps, bars and abutments to a predetermined weight, strength, resiliency and hardness, confident in their dependability under service conditions. Select your dental golds on the basis of service possibilities as shown by their physical properties — the only scientific basis and the basis on which all Jelenko Golds are sold.

Whether you construct your own dentures or send them to a laboratory, eliminate all doubt, guess and uncertainty by using or specifying, —

JELENKO TESTED GOLDS

Here is

25 years experience

for your use . . .

DURING the first few years of your practice when you are swiftly and surely adding to your years of study the deft and effective technique that comes only from experience, let us assume the burden of giving you the kind of prosthetic work you must have to succeed.

The exacting requirements of your profession will not permit the added strain of worry.

By letting us solve for you each new problem on prosthetic work, you will eliminate worry, save valuable time and assure your patients of completed work that can be turned out only by the most experienced and skilled craftsmen.

Every job completed in The EBERHART-CONWAY laboratories is backed by over a quarter century of experience, and is worked out by skilled prosthetic experts from the individual dentist's viewpoint.

As the South's foremost Prosthetic Institution we offer you not only the benefit of years of experience, but friendly counsel and co-operation on any problems related to prosthetic work.

Bite forms, mailing supplies, etc.,
gladly furnished upon request.

Did You Know That —

Joe Stukes’ middle name is “Theodilus?”

Cooper will never have a Class 1—Division 1?

15 per cent. of the Seniors are married?

85 per cent. of the remainder ought to be?

Ezzell has come to lecture on time only twice?

Vance prays every night for full uppers and lowers?

Chitwood has changed the angle of his hat to the other side?

Cooper fainted on his first visit to the Grady Ward?

Hall and Fabris did not make any money on this book (strange as it may seem)?

Can You Imagine—

Gaines not asking questions?
Ezzell in a hurry?
Anyone sleeping in Dr. Byrnes’ lecture?
Dr. Hughes in a one-piece bathing suit?
A debate between Dr. Hill and Dr. Jaynes?
A boxing bout between Dr. Silverman and Dr. Fike?
Mr. Enleett forgetting your name?
“Tip” Mizell lecturing without notes?
The Student Council functioning?
Stevens speaking above a whisper?
Joe Stukes with lockjaw?
Geo. Whitley without that CUTE little smile?
Lawrence making “Whoopee”?
“Little Elliott” not telling how many points he has off?
“Bud” Rankin with a black mustache?
Knobby making a bridge that didn’t fit?
Warriner practicing Dentistry?
Pete Stubbins getting less than 100 in a quiz?
Pringle as a train announcer at the Terminal?
Hansen giving a bawling out to big Mac?
What would happen if McKee lisped?
What would happen to Pete Hodges if all the tobacco mills closed?
Considerations of Vital Importance to the Equipment Purchaser

It is only natural to expect claims for excellence in design, materials, and workmanship in the manufacturer's description of his product. To anyone unacquainted with S. S. White methods and policies such claims would make little or no impression any more than the customary language of advertising. When, however, one gives a little thought to the history of a producing organization and to its recognized business policies, the printed words about its product have more significance.

The S. S. White Dental Manufacturing Company commenced its history in 1844 by making and selling only the best dental supplies possible of production. In its long business existence an enviable reputation for doing things right has extended to all parts of the world. S. S. White goods are accepted everywhere as the highest standard in dental supplies.

In the manufacture of dental chairs and equipment at Prince Bay, Staten Island, N. Y., the accuracy and thoroughness of construction simply reflect the general principles of S. S. White production. No detail is slighted, no parts are unimportant because they may be concealed from view, no work is done on the "good enough" basis. Likewise no material is used to save cost and increase profit, and compromise quality. That is why S. S. White engines, handpieces, steel goods, chairs, and equipment give years and years of uniformly excellent service. That is why generations of dentists have continued to purchase S. S. White products. That is the plain reason for their ultimate economy.

Upon request, we will gladly mail literature on S. S. White Operating Room Equipment, together with a booklet giving suggested technique for the utilities of the Accessory Table, and a general catalog of S. S. White Products.

Sometimes we wonder who is giving the lecture—Willie K., or the big shot on the platform.

We see where Jo Stegall will keep many an exodontist busy.—You see, Jo is a Pyorrhrea Specialist.

Charlie Stroud could never make a success as a movie camera operator—unless the audience can learn to read up-side-down.

We feel sure that Evan Taylor will never again refer to Exodontia as a mediocre course. (Ask Dr. Banks.)

No, children—that is not Charlie Chaplin—that is the head man up here.

Most flattering remark of the year—Photographer to Pete Hodges—"In that pose, you look exactly like Paul Whiteman."

Luther Edwards says he'd rather have 32 of Harry Johnston's root canal cases, than one of Claude Hughes' plates.

Our own "Stein song"—1-2-3-4; who are we for—Blitzstein, Kinstein, Weinstein.

"No Suh!" muttered George Andrew Jackson Washington Brown, "I wants to see dat big tall Top-Sergeant."

Blitzstein's new song—"I'm dancing with tears in my eyes, for the girl in my arms isn't jew."

A college year-book is a great invention,
The college gets all the fame,
The printer gets all the money,
The staff gets all the blame.

If the sweetest meat is close to the bone, Sharp must be some sweet daddy!

Dr. Tucker persists in relating his ancient rabbit yarn; can't something be done about it?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if all the senior write-ups were true to life?
HIGHER THAN YOUR OWN

The exacting specifications that we demand that S-C Alloy meet are more rigid, more stringent, than those formulated by the Profession itself.

That is why S-C Alloy is the choice of 75 per cent. of the college clinics, including your own. Its great adaptability lends itself to practically all technics with the positive assurance of ample crushing resistance, permanent whiteness, and freedom from shrinkage.

When you start your professional career, seek the protection to your reputation that S-C Alloy alone can give you.

In the production of fine books, or for that matter, fine printing of any sort there must be an adequacy of understanding and experience to plan and interpret. Of workers who have mastered their crafts. Of materials of the best quality. And of modern equipment and exact skill in its direction.

These sales and service offices and this manufacturing plant are evidences of an inflexible rule that adequacy must be maintained at.

In Closing

Before the cover closes on these pages, and before your perusal of their content is finished, let us express our gratitude to those who have been of invaluable service to us in gaining for the "Asodecoan" whatever degree of success it may have achieved.

Dr. Anderson M. Scruggs has helped materially with helpful criticisms and suggestions.

For the art work on the Sub-division pages, we are indebted to Miss Florence E. Hill.

Mr. Clayton Webb, Mr. Earl Sanders, and Mr. Ben Bailey, of Foote & Davies Company, have given willingly of their time and knowledge in making invaluable suggestions.

Miss Helen Morgan and Mr. Bill Bradley, of Southwestern Engraving Co., have taken care of our engravings most efficiently.

The pictures, taken by White Studio, are a vast improvement over those of recent years.

It is the sincere hope of the staff that this book will so impress the students that it will serve to allay the resentment felt toward those who are responsible for its publication.

The criticisms which have been directed at us, have decreased the desired interest in the annual, as well as lessened the co-operation which is so necessary to its success. In closing, we suggest that a greater interest in the "Asodecoan," the school's only student publication, a warmer spirit of co-operation with the staff, and a more friendly attitude on the part of the students, would serve to facilitate its work, make it infinitely more pleasant, and improve its standards.

—The Staff.

To Mother

"Ever the legions of sin will assail us
   Ever the battles in cities afar;
Still in the depths will thy spirit eternal
   Beckon us on like a piloting star.
Down the dim years do thy dead children call thee
   Wafted to sleep while the springtime was new;
We of the Present, thy Hope of the Future,
   Mother of mine, we pray unto you."

—Mae H. Hill.
