IT'S HERE!

Brother, this book may not mean much to you (because we got your name and picture mixed up) but it's a heckuva load off my mind. Besides, just think of all the guys who got their names and pictures right.

THE STUDENT ACTIVITIES COUNCIL
EMORY UNIVERSITY
Emory University, Georgia
IN 1838 fifteen freshmen and sophomores entered Emory College to become the first students of a school which was destined to become one of the South's leading educational institutions.

As the years went by, Emory grew. In 1915 the school was moved to Atlanta and was chartered as a university.

Now Emory is on the threshold of a new era—an era which has already seen the return to the campus of most of the pre-war functions and activities which were inert during the recent war.

Symbolic of this new life is the spirit of the hundreds of new students who have entered college for the first time and who are now meeting the responsibilities of a vast and fast-moving university. Just as college is a challenge and a new adventure for them, so the new era is a challenge and a new adventure for the University as a whole.

A view of life at Emory shows us how the University has accepted this challenge. For this reason, the editors of the Campus have chosen a year at Emory as their theme.

Scholarship, athletics, social life and other extra-curricular activities are included in a year under the Blue and Gold. The first whistle of football season, Dooley's presence at Frolic time, the annual Push Ball game—these are among the many scenes which are witnessed annually at Emory.

To portray these and many other events is the purpose of this book.

A YEAR

Across the tracks "Slobbovia C" was turned over to Theology students. . . . Other residents of our shanty town complained about the heat even more than the rest of us. . . . But it wasn't too bad.

Johnny Johnson had his troubles . . . new students hadn't heard of traffic regulations . . . a few decided that parking on the grass was a good idea.

At last we got a Student Activity building . . . small but better than nothing. . . . Down on Arkwright drive the two new dormitories were being finished. . . . Building . . . growing. . . . Out of the plans of men who 10 and 15 years ago could see a new Emory.

Athletics for all got a healthy boost. . . . Bulldozers . . . scrapers . . . once weapons, now helpers . . . growled their way onto the athletic fields. . . . In great hunks the land melted away. . . . The skeleton of the new gym pushed its way upward. . . . A dream and a wish coming true.

The time-worn old gymnasium comes down . . .

S U M M E R Q U A R T E R

A year at Emory . . . one year out of four . . . but 1947-48 was a memorable one. . . . It was one primarily of growth and planning for the future . . . but it had meaning for the present too. . . . Expanded faculty . . . increased enrollment. . . . It was the year that saw freshmen with no service experience enter the University. . . . It was a year that saw some semblance of "normalcy" return to the campus.

The Summer quarter got under way in typical fashion . . . standing in lines isn't the exclusive property of the army and navy. . . . But then it wasn't too bad. . . . It was the weather that made us cuss hot classrooms and peal down to T-shirts and jeans. . . . It was the hot weather, also, that brought out the girls. . . . Agnes Scott helped brighten up the Quadrangle as did our Nurses . . .

The ice-cool-looking marble buildings nestled down in the green of Druid Hills backgrounded the whole scene. . . . The first evidence of Emory's growing pains came with the wooden annexes. . . . Fishburne annex led the way with "A", "B", and "C" following. . . . Construction crews and trucks became part of the scene. . . . Some of us joined the work and helped scar the ground near Fishburne to hold pipes that were the bones of a greater Emory.
Then came the biggest news of the year. It came with no warning and it went out across the nation. One of the University’s greatest friends became one of its greatest benefactors. Howard Candler, out of his love and faith in Emory, gave the University $5,000,000. What the gift will mean, growth, progress, will be shown to those who follow us.

Down to the last day of finals the Summer quarter was a prevue of the future. A bright and growing future.

FALL QUARTER

With the coming of the Fall quarter the School of Business Administration flexed its muscles. Out of the cramped rooms of the Fishburne building down to the spacious and sparkling Rich Memorial. More evidence of Emory's growth, this newest building was given the University by Mr. Walter Rich, another of our finest friends.

With speeches covering Georgia and the nation, the drive for the Alumni-Student Activity building was relaunched. More growth for the future.

Along with the physical expansion Emory broadened its educational scope. The Oak Ridge Institute granted the University a leading role in peacetime atomic study. And enrollment reached an all-time peak. 3218 students on the Atlanta campus, 500 more at Valdosta and Oxford.

The blue of the navy sailed back to Emory but only temporarily. This time the University was given a bronze plaque in gratitude for its work in training naval personnel. Changes came also in the faculty and administration. J. G. Stipe was appointed to the post of Director of Admissions.

The University went international this quarter. Students from seven foreign countries registered. 397 married students benefited from big guns on students as campus elections neared. . . . 43 candidates announced their intention to run for Student Council.

More building. . . . Growth for tomorrow.

WINTER QUARTER

The Winter quarter accompanied by chilly blasts was the third period in this time of Emory’s growth. . . . Satisfied and rested students came back to the University after Christmas vacation. . . . It was cold waiting in line for books at “Stormy” Weather’s book store . . . but the effect of turkey dinners offset the frigid winds.

A Senior class organization was planned to bring together the largest fourth year group of men in the University’s history. . . . Post office box holders were thrown into confusion. . . . Authorities foreclosed on boxes whose rent was overdue . . . orders from Uncle Sugar. . . . Re-roofing of the Clifton road apartments was begun . . . and the last coat of paint was applied to the trailers.

our growth . . . in two years housing for married Emoryites increased from 16 units to 397. . . . The intramural football league teed off with the Junior-Senior clash. . . . When the dust of the Upper Athletic field settled the Seniors were on top 6-0.

The Concert Band made its initial appearance . . . more building for the future. . . . In keeping with the expansion program Alpha Phi Omega launched a drive to keep the campus grass in shape . . . “Keep Off” signs sprouted up everywhere. . . . The Ugly Man contest for the benefit of the Community Chest was copped with ease by Frank Jones. . . . The University began running buses for Clifton road dwellers so they could get to church.

Four professors were granted research allowances by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. . . . The Maintenance Department had to take on more men . . . work on all the new buildings was too much for the old staff.

Less than two months after the opening of the Rich Memorial building its donor died. . . . Mr. Walter Rich, beloved by Emory and the South, lived long enough to see the living memorial to his name take its place on the campus.

Mr. George Mew told of plans to make the University roads keep pace with the expansion of its buildings. . . . sidewalks . . . streets . . . would be widened. . . . The local politicians trained their
The ultra-modern cafeteria kitchen went into operation... conveyor belts took the place of the white-coated bus boys... This was the first step toward the completion of the Alumni-Student Activity building... the new kitchen will serve the dining halls when the structure is finished.

A one-night crime wave rolled over the campus... The Wheel's aspiring police reporters were out in force... The Library was broken into... but the big doors of Mr. Mew's safe stood fast... A few stamps... a few cigarettes... booty for the night.

Contributions poured in for the Alumni-Student Activity building... Nearly $300,000... The reality of the building grew nearer... The business school got a new dean... Professor Gordon Siefkin took over the office in the gleaming Rich building.

As the basketball season tipped off, Emory took its place in the National Collegiate Athletic Association... an honor for our intramural program... The Blue and Gold tank team opened the season... splashing six foes before falling to a power-laden Florida squad.

Three internationally-known theologians came to speak at the fourteenth annual Ministers' Week... Enrollment went up again... this time with 3227 signing for courses... University art went to the nation's capital... the Library of Congress asked for and received pictures and painting of the campus.

The Honor System came in for close inspection... The Wheel polled students and found most liked the idea of being on their own during exams... but they didn't understand the System... The medical school grew along with the rest of the University... through the gifts of anonymous donors the enrollment for the school was increased 20 per cent... as thousands cheered... The future was taking shape.

"The South's Sweetest Singers" invaded Florida and came away with a complete victory... A nursery was added for the children of Emory students... as the first set of twins bowed onto the campus.

As the quarter came to a close students went to the polls and elected a new president... as Emory kept growing.
WITH sincere respect and admiration, we dedicate this 1948 CAMPUS to Edward J. Shea, Emory's varsity swimming coach.

Coach Shea's successful work with the Atlanta Swimming Association and the Emory Varsity, as well as his prominence in Southern aquatic circles, has earned him the reputation of being one of the nation's top swimming mentors.

Since coming to Emory, Coach Shea's influence for the highest quality of athletic competition and sportsmanship has been felt throughout the campus. His untiring efforts to mold a good swimming team at Emory have always been looked upon with admiration by Emory faculty, students, and alumni.

Once each year students step aside and let their parents take over on the campus. On Parent's Day Emory opens the doors of all the buildings, and Mom and Dad get a chance to see if the tales Son tells about classroom work are really true.

A full program is planned each year to show parents just what a day at the University is like. Beginning with registration and ending with the Players production of the smash Kaufman and Hart hit "You Can't Take It With You", this year's Parent's Day attracted visitors from as far away as Michigan.

Downpours which soaked the campus on the day of the celebration did not dampen the spirits of nearly 400 parents. A morning convocation at which President White welcomed the parents began the formal program. The Glee Club provided the "South's sweetest music", and Dr. Albert Kissling rounded out the morning feature with an address.

The fraternity houses and the University cafeteria then took over as hosts, and the parents had lunch with their sons and daughters.

The afternoon got under way with the Debate Forum's varsity team providing a lively session for the visitors.

Next the parents were treated to a football game between the Junior and Sophomore classes. This was one of the better games of the year, and many visitors attended despite the soggy gridiron.

After the game, Dr. Goodrich C. White entertained with a reception where parents had an opportunity to meet and talk with Emory's president.

Climaxing the second postwar Parent's Day, the Players attracted a capacity house to their Fall presentation at Glenn Memorial Auditorium. Preceding the play, Emory's newest activity, the Concert Band, gave a half hour musical program.

Despite the rain, sponsors of Parent's Day proclaimed the 1947 affair to be one of the most successful in the series.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

GNATIUS A. Few could never have dreamed that the small manual labor school which he helped organize back in 1834 would grow into a great university with almost 4,000 students.

He was appointed head of a board of directors in 1834 to establish the school, and largely because of his efforts Emory College was founded in 1836.

For the opening term of the Georgia Methodist Conference Manual Labor School, approximately 20 students and three professors, including the superintendent, were present on old Oxford's campus. Under the direction of Dr. Alexander Means, superintendent, enrollment jumped to 60 for the opening of the second term in the year 1835.

In 1836 the Methodists founded Emory College and in a few years, it took over the staff and equipment of the old manual labor school. Its charter was signed by the governor of Georgia on December 10, 1836, and classes started the following year.

The small college had hardly gotten on its feet before the War Between the States began. Of course all the students filed off for the conflict and the school suspended operations until the struggle was over. Once before students had left the school to fight in an Indian war, but a plea from the college president to the governor sent many of them back to their books.

During the war Emory's buildings served as a Confederate hospital, and as a result were not in good shape when the school reopened. Twenty students, mostly veterans, gathered for the fall term in 1866, and the school began its long fight for existence again.

The Methodists felt the need for a strong university early in the 1900s, but finances were low. Asa G. Candler, prominent Atlanta business man, gave Emory $1,000,000 for an endowment in 1915, and as a result the school grew by leaps and bounds. Atlanta was chosen as the site of the new university and Bishop W. A. Candler was elected first chancellor.

The board of trustees met for the last time on the Oxford campus in 1919, and old Emory College was moved to the Atlanta campus to become the academic department of the new Emory University.
ARTS and SCIENCES
In order to give last-year men more voice in their graduation ceremonies and to promote closer cooperation with other groups on the campus, Seniors formed the Senior Class organization in September. This was the first effort in many years to bring together Seniors for a common purpose. All schools of the University are represented in the organization.

One of the principal functions of the Senior Class during the past year was to promote better understanding between students and faculty. A number of Senior-faculty smokers were held for this purpose. In cooperation with the Alumni Association, the Senior Class sponsored a barbecue at North Fulton Park during the Winter quarter. At the function, Seniors were inducted into the Alumni Association.

George Brown, Publicity Chairman; Robert Foster, Finance Chairman; Groves Hillard, Social Chairman; A. L. Horton, Research Chairman; Spud Jackson, Graduation Chairman; Shorty Lorentzson, Chairman of the Senior Class Committee; Jack Turner, Social Chairman.

Emory's Class of '48 was the biggest graduating class in the history of the University. The class was composed largely of veterans, though it included many younger students who had come to Emory directly from high schools. Because of the predominance of veterans, this group as a whole had a more serious outlook than the average peace-time graduating class.

But graduation was an event as anxiously awaited by veterans as non-veterans. In some cases it was the result of three continuous years of college, while for others it climaxed widely separated periods of study.

Alpha Kappa Pi
In memory of Fred Bolonkin, Emory graduate and campus leader, who died April 12, 1948. While in school he was president of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity, sports editor of the Wheel, member and secretary of Student Activities Council, secretary of Emory Christian Association, vice-president of the Interfraternity Council, vice-president of the Players and a staff member of the Campus. He was also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and Eta Sigma Psi.
The co-op is still a congregating place for students during off periods. Here they are just lounging around and sipping cokes.

Rat caps are back on the campus during the Fall quarter from now on. A freshman shows his three main worries in this pose: his rat cap, compulsory physical training and his studies.

Freshmen take their turn in line and get accustomed to this procedure if they are not veterans. The book store line is one of the first obstacles during their first two weeks on the campus.

Freshmen stop by to take a look at the main bulletin board near the Library building. The board is usually the center of a group of curious students during the breaks between classes.

Campus organizations post notices and bulletins here to keep the times and dates for meetings before the students.
EMORY'S School of Business Administration has shown more progress since the war than any of the other schools in the University.

Handicapped during the war by the small number of civilian upper division students in college, the school regained its feet at the end of 1945 to take the lead in Emory's march forward.

The school was founded in 1919 at the time the college moved to the Atlanta campus. Edgar H. Johnson was appointed first dean and organized the school to provide four years of instruction to prepare a student for a career in business.

This system remained in effect until 1942 when the school revised its curriculum to provide for two years of instruction in business. Requirements for entrance to the school were raised, and students applying for admission had to have completed two years in the college.

During 1941 the school had eight full time members of the faculty, but this number dropped to two during the war years. In 1945 the school had enrolled just five civilian upper division students. For all practical purposes it was merged with the college for the furtherance of the Navy V-12 program on the campus.

Since January, 1946, when Dean Craft took over, the school has undergone a thorough study and revision of curriculum to suit present needs of professional education for business. Its entrance requirements have been raised so that all students must have at least a C average in the lower division for admission to the School of Business Administration. These standards are higher than those of the college for upper division students.

The enrollment of the school reached its highest peak during the Fall quarter of 1947 when 193 students were enrolled in the school. The maximum number which the school can adequately handle is 200. In 1941 the school had 130 students enrolled for the four-year course.

In 1946 the economics department in the college of arts and sciences was abolished and its duties attached to the School of Business Administration. Under the present set-up, however, certain courses are offered by the school exclusively for students in the college. By taking over the economics department the school became responsible for approximately 40 more students who are economics majors.

The completion of the Rich Memorial building gave the school its home. The quarter-million dollar structure was completed in time for its occupation in September, 1947. It is a three-story building equipped with modern classrooms and offices and a spacious business library. It was donated to the school by the Rich Foundation.
In October 1947, a meeting of the Student body of the Business School was called by Frank C. Jones and Sam Smith, representatives to the University Student Activities Council. The purpose was to organize the Student Body of the Business School. A constitutional committee was appointed and the proposed constitution was approved by the SAC in November.

For the first time in the history of the Business School a president of this body was elected and a separate student council installed.

The aims of the organization are to promote a better understanding between the students of the school. Plans call for social functions to be held in this connection.

Dr. F. A. Cottle was chosen as the first faculty advisor.

EMORY'S School of Medicine is a direct outgrowth of five different medical schools. Its history dates from the founding of the first Atlanta Medical College in February, 1854.

Work for a degree in the College consisted of two six-month lecture courses. Graduates were decided by the "Black Ball" system with students receiving more than four black balls failing to get their M.D.

As a result of a faculty disagreement, the Southern Medical College was founded in 1878 and existed in direct competition with the Atlanta Medical College until 1898. The new medical school built two buildings beside the old college across the street from Grady Memorial Hospital. Side by side the two schools competed until both faculties decided that a combination would produce better results.

Before the combination was accomplished, however, the Southern Medical College attempted to convert itself into a full-fledged university by adding schools of dentistry, law and pharmacy. The dentistry school did begin classes, but the other two never materialized.

Financial difficulties caused the schools to combine in 1898 and their charter changes were completed in November of that year. The name of the new school was the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons. Its requirements were immediately raised to four six-month lecture courses which became effective in 1901. That year the graduation exercises were held in the old Grand Opera Hall, and the degrees were printed in Latin.

More competition was in store for Atlanta medical schools, however, and in 1905 the Atlanta School of Medicine held its first classes. Many of the city's first citizens backed the new school which stressed good teaching and high standards.

Their standards threatened to put the old school of Physicians and Surgeons out of business, but low finances soon compelled the new school to agree to merge the two institutions.

The merger was completed in 1913 and the new school immediately raised its requirements. In addition to the four lecture courses, one year of college was added.

Again finances ran short, and it became imperative for the school to work out another plan. About that time Asa G. Candler gave the money to establish Emory as a university, and the solution to the medical school's problem was found. After much consultation, it was decided that the Atlanta Medical School would become the School of Medicine for Emory University. Therefore, the medical school deeded all its property and equipment to Emory in 1915 and the transition was completed.

The school received a tremendous boost in 1922 with the completion of the Wesley Memorial Hospital on the Emory campus.

SCHOOL OF LAW

THE Lamar School of Law held its first classes in 1916 in a modern and fully equipped building designed especially for law instruction. In the new building students had access to a well-selected legal library of some 6,000 volumes.

The school, named in honor of Associate Justice L. Q. C. Lamar, 1845, of the United States Supreme Court, who was one of the early graduates of both the Georgia Conference Manual School and Emory College, continued for several years under temporary leadership. Judge Samuel C. Williams, formerly associate justice of the Supreme Court of Tennessee, was elected its first regular dean in 1919. He resigned in the spring of 1924, and Professor P. E. Bryan served as acting dean until the fall of 1925 when Charles J. Hilkey was elected to the deanship.

The catalogue stated that it was the purpose of the school to prepare its graduates for practice at the bar of any state; to provide legal instruction for non-degree students who might desire it for business or cultural reasons; and to develop in students "such a sense of honor and regard for professional ethics as will make them in the practice of law exemplars of the best traditions of the profession."

Since the South suffered no lack of lawyers, the school from the beginning has interested itself primarily in proficiency rather than the number of its graduates. In maintaining this ideal, the school's entrance requirements consisted of two years of college work. However, the requirement was waived frequently, and students were accepted after only one year of college training up until 1919.

At the outset, the school met difficulties when many of its students were taken in the draft or volunteered for World War I. In September, 1917, the school registered only 12 students and this number was reduced to two the following year. In 1917, a precedent was set however, with the admission of Miss Eleonore Raoul, first woman to enter the University. After 1922 the enrollment of the school increased steadily until World War II. Since that time the school has enjoyed its largest enrollment in history.

The school was admitted to membership in the Association of American Law Schools in 1921. At that time it was the only member of the association in Georgia and one of the few in the entire South. Further recognition was received in 1924 when it was the fifth Southern school to be given an A rating by the American Bar Association.

The vigorous policies of the Lamar School have contributed strongly to the improvement of legal education in the South in recent years. The School has continuously kept in mind the sort of training which will fit its graduates to adjust themselves to the practice of the profession, not only in the changing economic and social conditions of today, but also in the complex civilization of the future.

HE educational commission of the Southern Methodist Church was given the job of establishing a seminary in 1914 at some point east of the Mississippi.

Three prominent clergymen, Bishop W. A. Candler, Bishop Murray and Dr. Durham, were charged with the responsibility of producing a theological seminary on three months notice. One month later, Mr. Asa G. Candler's gift of $1,000,000 was announced, and the commission immediately set aside additional funds for the establishment of a School of Theology.

Since the newly-elected Wesley Memorial Church of Atlanta was available for class rooms, the school was started on September 23, 1914. The first group of students was comprised of 69 students representing 16 colleges and universities. This large enrollment was made possible by the granting of sustentation scholarships varying from $50 to $100 each.

The commission quickly gathered a faculty composed of some of the best scholars and teachers in the Southern Methodist Conference. Many of the men left positions with much larger salaries in order to instruct the new students in the ministry.

To graduates the school offered a bachelor of divinity degree or a certificate. To be eligible for the degree, a student must have completed three years of work in the seminary and must have received an academic degree. Students who completed their work in the seminary without the academic degree received the certificates.

In February, 1915, the seminary was named the Candler School of Theology in honor of Bishop Warren Aiken Candler, whose interest in ministerial education has caused him to project a preachers' training school in connection with Emory College as early as 1894.

It was early realized that courses in music and singing would be needed by the prospective preachers and missionaries. During the second year of the school, the courses were included and since 1928, they have been under the direction of Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey, director of the Glee Club.

The school moved to the University campus in 1916 with the completion of the Theology Building. Students roomed in Dobbs Hall and had their meals on the ground floor of Winship Hall. Until 1919, when the college was moved to the campus from Oxford, only students of law, theology and medicine received instruction on the Atlanta campus.

Dr. Plato T. Durham was the first dean of the school and also served as professor of church history. He was succeeded in 1919 by Dr. Franklin N. Parker. Dr. H. B. Trimble is the present dean of the school.

Many of the members of the faculty have been offered much more lucrative positions, but their realization of the importance of building an effectively trained ministry kept them at the school. In 1918 Dr. Parker was elected a bishop, but he declined to accept the place in order to continue his work with the young preachers.

A glance out of the Theology Building window shows the west end of the quadrangle and the front of the Law Building. Theologs gather here on the second floor to talk between classes.
One of Emory's most famous landmarks is the beautiful Glenn Memorial Church. Its glistening white steeple, towering above the campus, will long be the symbol of "home" for Emory's many theological students.
The Library School, like the School of Medicine, had its origin outside Emory University and became affiliated later. The Library School is an outgrowth of an apprentice class formed by Miss Ann Wallace to meet the need for technically trained librarians in 1899.

No tuition was charged until 1922, but a fee of $25 was charged for necessary supplies and books to be used in the course. The course of study offered was one year. A high school education sufficed as an entrance requirement.

Down through the years Andrew Carnegie supported the school and commended it on its plunge into a new field. Miss Wallace convinced Mr. Carnegie that the technical school would be a success and largely through her efforts, it retained his support.

In 1915 Miss Tommie Dora Barker became dean of the library school and served in that capacity until it became affiliated with Emory in 1930. At that time Miss Clara E. Howard was named dean, and the school moved into spacious new headquarters in the Asa Griggs Candler Library building on the Atlanta campus. Miss Howard served as dean until her death in 1935 when she was succeeded by Miss Lydia M. Gooding, acting dean. In July, 1936, Miss Tommie Dora Barker was appointed to the permanent deanship and has served in that capacity up until the present time.

The big year for the Library School was 1939. That year the school began to offer its full curriculum in the summer quarter and has continued that practice until the present time. More than 345 persons have enrolled in successive summer quarters since its beginning.

In order to allow students a chance to specialize, the school began offering elective courses in 1939. Also that year it conducted an institute on county and regional libraries. Sixty-eight librarians from seven states enrolled.

In 1940 the library school received an additional boost from the Carnegie Corporation of New York in the form of a grant of $100,000 for endowment.

The demand for librarians has increased to such an extent that the school has not been able to fill all of its requests for librarians. In 1939 the school received 122 requests for graduates compared to 709 requests in 1947.

In an effort to fill many of the desired positions, the school has increased facilities to take care of enlarged enrollment. Since 1930 when the school was made a part of Emory University, degrees have been conferred upon 507 students who are now employed in 50 states and overseas. The president-elect of the American Library Association is a graduate of the class of 1931.

Of the total number of graduates, 35 have been men.

THE School of Nursing had its beginning back in 1905 when the Training School for Nurses of Wesley Memorial Hospital was founded. Under the leadership of Miss Alberta Dozier Williamson the school was a strong organization throughout its existence as a separate unit from the University.

With the erection of the present hospital building on the Atlanta campus, the school was moved with the hospital and became a part of Emory University.

In January, 1944, however, the course of training was made an integral part of the University program and designated as the Emory University School of Nursing. At that time three comprehensive courses of study were made available for students on a level with other schools in the University. Later a program for registered nurses was included in the curriculum.

Miss Julia Miller, who became dean of the hospital school in 1943, became permanent dean of the School of Nursing when it was given that title in 1944.

The graduate program was instituted in 1946. It provides for two years of college, three years of practical nursing and one additional year of study. Nurses completing this course of study are eligible for the Bachelor of Science degree in nursing. Other students receive diplomas upon the completion of their training courses.

Students in the school have adequate library space available. Library facilities include the Candler (main) Library, Calhoun Memorial (medical and nursing) Library, the Law and Theology Libraries and the Carnegie (public) Library, located in downtown Atlanta.

Other clinical work is done according to the specialization of the students. The school is affiliated with: Columbia Presbyterian hospital, in New York; the Fulton County Public Health Department, of Atlanta, and the Milledgeville State Hospital for the Mentally Ill, at Milledgeville.

Students in the School of Nursing have established their own student government. It is directed by a student council composed of council officers, class presidents, faculty advisers and the Dean of the school. The council directs the recreational activities of the student body, selects members to serve on various committees of the School of Nursing and in general promotes policies of the University and the School of Nursing. This council in turn is represented on the All-University council. Student nurses also serve on faculty and staff committees of the School of Nursing.

Nursing students have been housed in the past in University dormitories whenever possible, but academic nurses have been allowed to live off campus.

The Graduate School has been more closely associated with the college than any other of the professional or advanced schools.

Since its founding in 1919 as an official part of the University, it has moved steadily away from the college, however, to the standing it now occupies as a separate and distinct unit. Due to the widespread choice of advanced studies offered graduate students, it is still closely associated with the college and its courses are offered through the various departments and divisions of the college itself.

Prior to 1919 graduate work had been done at Emory College at Oxford with from two to ten students working on their masters degree at a time. For many years the masters degree was given to those graduates with three years' standing who had been engaged in "literary occupations."

In 1885 this was changed to require a course of reading and an examination before the degree was bestowed. However, most of this work was done by students absent from the college itself who merely returned to take the examination.

After 1900 the degree was given only after a specific course of study. Usually two or three students were doing post-graduate work at Oxford under this set-up until the college was moved to Atlanta.

The Graduate School was regularly organized as such during the first winter in Atlanta with Dr. Theodore H. Jack as the first dean. The degrees of master of arts and master of science were granted only upon the completion of a normal residence of one scholastic year during which period nine courses were completed. These nine courses included both a major and a minor subject for study. An examination was given upon the completion of the prescribed course and a thesis was required. The main difference between college courses and graduate courses in the beginning was the additional reading requirements for graduate students.

As a result of the efforts of the Committee on Graduate Studies to improve the quality of instruction and to raise the standards for the master's degree, the Graduate School gained widespread respect and steadily increased enrollment until 225 students were registered in the school in 1936.

Dr. Jack became vice-president of the University in 1929 and was succeeded as dean by Dr. Goodrich C. White. Under Dr. White the school made a thorough revision of the degree requirements and of administrative procedures with reference to appointments to fellowships and scholarships, admission to candidacy, the submission and approval of theses and the conduct of the examinations for the master's degrees.

Dr. J. Harris Purks served as dean of the school for some time and was succeeded by Dr. Leroy Leomker, the present dean.

The main bridge leading from Haygood-Hopkins Memorial Gate to the Administration and Library Building.
The 1948 Campus staff took for its goal the publication of a yearbook which would meet the standards of the school and still come out on time. Many obstacles lay in their way as the year moved along, but with the combined effort of the staff members behind Editor John McKenzie, they completed their part of the contract by finishing up by the end of March.

The staff assumed its duties early in the summer of 1947, but many members slacked their pace as the going got tough. With only one month to go, McKenzie had to make drastic changes in the staff and pull in a great deal of outside help to complete the book according to schedule.

Individual pictures which were numbered when students posed caused much trouble for the men in charge. Many of the negatives were lost and many others were misnumbered before the staff had had an opportunity to order the necessary number to complete the book. Since the staff had to follow the numbers on each picture, mistakes in the book can be attributed to this cause.

AFTER several years of stumbling from one editor to another every quarter, The Wheel assumed an air of stability this year with the election of Tom Fulton for the last six months in 1947 and Rhea Eskew for the first half of 1948.

Fulton took over The Wheel with a hot typewriter on his desk. He believed that students wanted sensational editorials and news stories, and he gave it to them with everything he had.

No one was left out of the range of Fulton's biting comments. Only one organization received full Wheel support—the newly-organized University Traffic committee. This group obtained Fulton's aggressive backing and gained space in every issue of The Wheel during Fulton's regime.

With Rhea Eskew came a different editorial policy. The work of The Wheel was divided up in order to eliminate several of the 40-hour-per-week men and give others a chance to do some studying. Make-up was changed, and the editorial page and the news columns assumed a new tone.

Instead of attacking student organizations in general, The Wheel attempted to criticize where it deemed it necessary and offer suggestions at the same time.

The Wheel came through in February with an editorial by News Editor Ted Spivey which gained nation-wide publicity. The Wheel advocated the restricted admission of Negroes to the University.

Binford gives the story to Eskew, McKenzie and Johnson
The Phoenix has been in the process of establishing itself securely on the campus for the past 40 years. During that period it has been discontinued and re-organized more than any other student activity.

With the election of Alonzo McDonald as editor in September, 1947, The Phoenix departed steadily from its subtitle of "The South's Oldest Literary Magazine." He came out with a larger magazine printed on slick paper with color cartoons on the covers.

The arrival of The Phoenix on the campus during the Fall quarter left some of the more conservative elements at Emory dismayed. They decreed the death of the magazine before many more issues, but instead it picked up circulation and readers as it went its merry way.

Stories were written in a more informal manner, treating campus life humorously instead of scholastically. The articles were directed at a larger number of students instead of the few who were interested merely in essays and poetry.

At the present time it resembles the more conservative college magazines of other schools rather than the literary discussions of abstract subjects which fascinated several Freshmen and graduate students when the periodical started publication again in 1945.

PROBLEMS of student publications usually end up before the Publications Board. Aside from smoothing out difficulties which might arise, this body nominates editors of The Wheel, the Campus and the Phoenix and designates faculty advisers for these activities.

The Board is made up of student editors, members of the faculty, and men appointed by the Student Council. It is the coordinating body of publications, and one of its purposes is to help in improving the quality of Emory's newspaper, yearbook, and literary magazine.

CIRCULATION STAFF

THE job of getting publications to the students and faculty rests with the Circulation Staff. Each week the Staff distributes nearly 3600 Wheels to the campus and to the medical and dental schools, and once a quarter it delivers 3000 copies of the Phoenix. The distribution of 2500 yearbooks is another of its tasks.

Members of the Staff operate from their offices in the Law building where an extensive mailing list is kept for out-of-town subscribers.

NOW in its twenty-third year of publication, the Emory Alumnus is one of the principal means by which graduates are informed of the activities of the University and their classmates.

The Alumnus is published monthly with the exception of July and August, and has a circulation of nearly 4500. It is published by the Alumni Association which once a year sends copies to every graduate of the University.

The Emory University Quarterly is a general magazine whose contributions are drawn largely from the University family, and whose readers are for the most part the alumni and friends of Emory. It is now in its fourth year of publication.

The Quarterly specializes in expository, critical, historical, and biographical articles of the widest variety. Its contributions seek to represent every scholarly interest of the Emory community so written as to reveal their significance to the general public.

BEAUTY CONTEST

PLATO called beauty a privilege of Nature, and Aristotle said it was better than all the letters of recommendation in the world. No definition of the word is complete, but whatever it is, as long as there are men, there will be lovers of beauty—and beautiful women.

The editors of the Campus 1948 present this beauty section with one regret: we were unable to reproduce the pictures of all the beautiful girls which were submitted.

The judges made no attempt to select a complete section of glamour girls or sophisticates. They tried to look beyond sheer physical features. As Mr. Powers says in his letter, "The winners were selected on the basis of personality, character, and intelligence, as well as for natural beauty." For this reason, you should find on these pages a representative of almost every type of pretty girl.

Miss Mildred Hawkins, who was chosen by Mr. Powers as "Queen of the Campus 1948", serves as our sponsor. She was introduced to the Student Body at the Student Council sport dance on January thirty-first and was presented with the Hightower trophy at that time.

Ruel Hightower donates the beauty trophy for the beauty queen contest. Students bashful and bold alike turned in pictures of their favorite girls. Frexy Kelley gets first dance with beauty queen after presentation.
Our JUDGES

The pictures presented in the beauty section were selected by four people who the editors believe are well qualified as judges of beauty.

Because of the large number of pictures submitted and in order to realize both the man's and the woman's taste, it was thought best to have two separate judgings. A panel of three judges, consisting of Loren Walters, Director of the Models' Guild of Atlanta, Edith Hills Coogler, Fashion Editor of the Atlanta Journal, and Doris Lockerman, Woman's Editor of the Atlanta Constitution, chose the twenty pictures which appear on the following pages. From these, John Robert Powers of New York picked the first five beauties and the "Queen of the Campus 1948."

The judges admit that their task was not easy. We join them in hoping that our readers agree that the girls whose pictures appear on the next ten pages are "the fairest of the fair."

Panorama of an exciting council session, Debator Duke holds his audience spellbound.

Discus does it again.

. . . . . .

The Student Activities Council is composed of members from each school of the University as well as the college. These men and women are elected by the student bodies of their respective schools at bi-annual elections, half of the council standing for seats at each voting.

To the council belongs the responsibility for allocating to the various activities the funds set up by the University for this purpose.

The program of each activity is reviewed quarterly by the Student Council, in addition it requires that each student who participates in student activities which fall under Council supervision must maintain an academic average of "C" with no grade below "D".

The activities which fall under Council jurisdiction include: the Wheel, the Campus, the Phoenix, the Players, the Debate Forum, Glee Club, Lecture Series, and funds for the separate schools. The Council has the power to approve the appointment of the business managers of the various groups and holds them accountable for the finances of their groups.

Many other special events are planned each year to provide for the entertainment of the student body. The single event of most importance is the annual Dooley's Frolics which is held in the spring quarter. Gene Krupa and his band have been engaged to play for the Frolics to be held on May 7 and 8.

Past President Kelley delivers oration or ultimatum or present President Cobb records the words of wisdom when he was a loyal secretary.
THE year for fraternities was notable for a return to normality. The Interfraternity Council tried hard to become stronger, but the usual selfishness of each chapter weakened many constructive projects.

A turbulent four-day rush period indicated that fraternities had returned to pre-war strength and bickering. Armed with cases of cokes, firm handshakes, and numerous "pinks"—even they returned—frat men sweated out three parties per day. When the frosh walked the Row the KA's pledged a small army of 34, with Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta running a close second in numbers. SAE got only six, but quickly made a brilliant comeback.

After rush week, the Wheel and the frats who didn't do so well made the usual gripes over the violence of rush week. IFC prexy Stuart Watson appointed a committee to investigate, with SAE president Bryan as chairman. After two months of wrangling, rushing next fall—over the protests of KA and ATO.

During the year the Council "adopted" a European orphan through the Foster Parents Plan for War Children. Don Reisman and Ed Branan romped off to New York in the fall for the National Interfraternity Conference, had fun, and reported little. The exchange dinners were re-inaugurated and each Thursday evening chapters exchanged men for dinner. Under joint sponsorship of the IFC and the athletic department a plan was devised to present plaques for athletic championships.

The over-flowing chapters helped colonies of Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, and Lambda Chi Alpha organize and hope for a speedy acceptance of their charters. Sigma Pi and Pi Kappa Phi made comebacks, giving a total of 13 fraternities on campus and three more possibilities in the colonies.

Otherwise the year was quite normal—pinks, crowded house dances, and a new emphasis on athletics. Returning to pre-war standards, the all-fraternity scholarship average was above the campus average. Dean Rec gave his usual good-natured help. And, of course, all chapters vied for the best formal—the Phi Dels was the most expensive, the KA's had an Old South Ball, and the Sigma Nu's a New York band.

Chapter rosters were bigger than ever this year, and everybody decided to be smaller in the future.

The Honor Code, suspended during the war, was voted back by the students in the summer of 1946.

Re-establishing the Honor system has not been easy. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in creating student awareness and faculty cooperation. Steady improvement has been made along these lines and it is anticipated that in the near future the Honor system will be back to its pre-war standard.

The Honor Council has met frequently for long hours to give each individual case proper attention.

Every Tuesday afternoon the largest traffic court in Georgia meets on the Emory campus. Reversing the usual form of one judge and several policemen, the University Traffic Committee has seven judges and only one officer.

The number of cars appearing daily on the campus increased alarmingly after the war, and need for a regulating board brought into being the Traffic Committee.

Since its beginning the Committee has been called upon to mete out sentences to hundreds of students, but its primary job is one of public relations. Suggestions made by the committee to the administration have resulted in one way streets, an increase in the number of parking spaces from approximately 500 to over 1800, and many other traffic improvements.

Each day campus Policeman Johnny Johnson directs the flow of traffic of an estimated 2000 cars. He is an officer of the DeKalb County force, and is empowered to hand out official tickets. With students now familiar with traffic rules, however, he gets excellent cooperation; only 12 second-time violators have appeared before the Committee this year.

"The South's Sweetest Singers," under the alliterative title attached to them by a newspaper critic, have made tours of Europe twice and was the first college Glee Club to appear in Cuba. Concerts have also been given in principal cities along the Atlantic seaboard from New York to Miami, and as far west as New Orleans.

Under the direction of Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey there has been a consistent effort to emphasize not only good choral blend, but also sympathetic interpretation. Individual singers have been encouraged to cultivate their voices, and a number have become outstanding successes in the concert field. The club has adhered without variation to the performance of good music. Selections from the old masters, together with original arrangements of Negro spirituals, have placed the reputation of the club on a high plane.

Broadcasts on nation-wide hookups over the National Broadcasting Company, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the British Broadcasting Company have featured the Emory Glee Club. Phonograph recordings by RCA Victor and Metropole, an English company, have helped spread the reputation of the club.

ITINERARY

During the season 1947-1948 the Emory Glee Club made an extensive tour. Among the cities visited were:
- Albany, Ga.; East Point, Ga.; Macon, Ga.; Grinn, Ga.; Savannah, Ga.; LaGrange, Ga.; Tampa, Fla.; Miami, Fla.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Hollywood, Fla., and Boca Raton, Fla. In addition the annual Christmas and spring concerts were presented in Glenn Memorial Auditorium.

To the student body and theatre goers of Atlanta who have given us such overwhelming support in this our Twentieth Anniversary Season, the Emory Players wish to express appreciation. We have endeavored to present to the student body a balanced program of plays which would be both entertaining and educational. The some 2800 persons who attended our performances of the Kaufman and Hart Pulitzer Prize-winning comedy, You Can't Take It With You, on November 14-15, 1947, and the over 2000 persons who applauded our Winter Quarter Production, the drama of suspense, Death Takes A Holiday, are proof to us that this 1947-48 season has been one of the most successful in the history of the Players. Credit goes, not only to the student members of the Players, but to the non-Emory people who have given so generously of their time and services in assistance with our productions.

We were proud to announce in the fall of 1947, the establishment of the Claude S. Bennett Trophy which will be given annually at the conclusion of the Spring Quarter production to the person adjudged to have given the best performance of the year.

The Emory Concert Band was first introduced to the University in November when it played a pre-performance concert for the Emory Players. This was followed by a Christmas Carol program given on the campus on December the seventh. In 1948 the band played for the Players again, for the student body presidential election rally and presented its first full scale concert.

The band was organized in the summer of 1947 through the efforts of Professors Wiggins, Shiver, Rohrer, and of students Collins, McDowell, and Estes. In the fall quarter the student council approved the band's constitution and granted it a budget for the year.

Mr. R. O. Seitz was employed by the University as director. He is president of the Georgia Musical Association, director of the Henry Grady High School Band, and an instructor for the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

THE Emory Debate Forum is an outgrowth of two literary societies—Phi Gamma and Few. These two societies were constant rivals on the old Oxford campus.

When Emory migrated to Atlanta the societies continued to function separately for a while. However, after a while they fused and formed a forum. Although the societies have been revived from time to time, the forum has survived and has represented the University in many intercollegiate debates.

During the last war the forum was inactive. It was revived while Emory Rylander was president of the student body and Russell Thomas became its first post war manager. A varsity squad soon began touring the southeast. Since then the debaters have traveled to many colleges and universities to represent Emory in forensic contests.

During the past year there were approximately 25 active members of the forum, which met once a week in the Theology Building. The members of the varsity squad were picked from this forum, and new varsity debaters were added from time to time.

John Kelley, who had previously been debate manager, was chairman of the forum. Joe Duke was vice-chairman, Sam Stiles was debate manager and Joseph Jones was coach.

The debaters made several trips to various schools in Georgia in addition to travel throughout the southeast. The group also debated in New Orleans in a tourney which included schools from all over the United States.

ALPHA Phi Omega, national service fraternity was founded at Lafayette College, Easton, Penna., on December 16, 1925. The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega is “to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship, and to promote service to humanity.”

The Emory Provisional Chapter, formed in the Summer of 1946, was formally initiated as Delta Kappa Chapter on November 15, 1946. It had the distinction of being the largest group ever to petition the National Chapter for a charter.

Some of the service projects carried out this year by APO are: Operation of the second-hand book store, supervising the polls at student elections, publishing the student-faculty directory, and ushering for chapel, convocation, and lecture programs at the University Auditorium. In the field of community service, APO has had charge of raising funds for the Community Chest and the March of Dimes on the Emory Campus.

Top: Frank Jones receives award for winning APO “Ugly Man” contest. Funds raised went to the Community Chest.

Lecture Series presentations went on a 12-month basis last Summer. Increase in regular enrollment and the presence on the campus of a larger number of professional students prompted the stepped-up program. Each week during the Summer quarter, the Lecture Series sponsored a concert, a film and a lecture.

The wide variety of programs brought to the campus is intended to appeal to as many persons as possible. Each Tuesday afternoon and night great motion pictures of the past are revived for students and faculty in the auditorium of the Church School Building. For those whose interests lie in the field of classical music, a weekly two-hour record concert featuring the best-known names in symphony orchestra and opera is presented in the Fine Arts record room.

This year’s program was highlighted by the Harold Stassen lecture and the two appearances of Atlanta’s new symphony orchestra: Glenn Memorial Auditorium was filled for these events.

In keeping with its expansion plan, the Lecture Series now hope to create a student committee to help in arranging for guest lecturers.

Frances Perkins, former Secretary of Labor, spoke to a capacity audience in Glenn Memorial Auditorium.

The first annual Lecture Series organizational song was won by Alpha Tau Omega during the Summer quarter.

Mrs. Vera M. Dean gave listeners an up-to-the-minute report on Soviet Russia.
THE International Relations Club was founded at Emory in 1922 and has had the longest continuous existence of any non-social club at Emory. Membership in the club is by invitation and there were approximately 35 members during the past year. The majority of members are from the political science and history departments.

Meetings were highlighted during the year with speakers such as Wright Bryan, who addressed a joint meeting of the Emory club and Tech and Agnes Scott clubs. Chinese students on the campus have visited the club and engaged in discussions with club members. The British consul in Atlanta has visited the group on several occasions.

During the past year John Dickinson was elected Southeastern regional vice-president of IRC and Bob Foster was elected State president.

Meetings at which guest speakers appear are open to all students.

Engineers Club

The Engineers Club is founded on two basic principles: the promotion of the Department of Engineering both at Emory and afield; and the acquaintance of the students with conditions and developments in the fields of industry. The club's program regularly includes field trips, speakers and motion pictures.

The Club is an active organization of students and faculty who are interested in their educational development both in and out of the classroom.

THE Emory Geology Club was founded by the students and staff members of the Geology Department in order to promote the science of geology, to foster a spirit of comradeship among the respective members and to disseminate geologic knowledge for the betterment of all. It was for this purpose that the club was brought into being.

The club has been re-activated for only one year, but the membership has double in numerical strength. The members feel that the objects originally set forth as goals have been successfully achieved.

THE German Club is an organization designed to afford the student opportunity outside the classroom to use German and to hear it spoken. Members are students interested in German, and attendance is voluntary. Monthly meetings are held at which time programs in German are presented and German songs sung. The study and appreciation of German art, music, and literature are fostered. Every Friday a "Stammtisch" is held in the cafeteria, where students interested in German lunch together.

Each year the E.C.A. sponsors the Annual Religious Emphasis Week. At this time leaders of all faiths come to the campus to speak and hold meetings and forums.

During the Summer the E.C.A. holds a week-end retreat known as Kampus Kamp. Other activities of the organization include sponsorship of Parent's Day, the Soochow Fund, and daily Vesper Services.

WESTMINISTER FELLOWSHIP

THE Westminster Fellowship is composed of the Presbyterian students of the Emory Campus. The object of this organization is to aid and represent the Presbyterians of Emory by helping them to maintain contact with the church while they are at school.

The present goals for each school quarter are: to plan one major social event for the Presbyterian student body, to establish and maintain a close connection between the Presbyterian Churches of Atlanta and the Presbyterian students of Emory, and to maintain an effort to strengthen the student's faith during his college years.

The Baptist Student Union movement was first started in one of the Southern Baptist Colleges in 1918 when seven students decided that something was lacking in their campus religious organization.

In 1921 the Southern Baptist Convention officially recognized the movement and the Student Department, under the direction of the Sunday School Board, was organized.

In 1947 over 3,000 students attended the annual Baptist Student Conference at Ridgecrest, North Carolina.

The Emory B.S.U., after the war years, was recognized and its activities include visitation of Baptist Student, monthly mass-meetings, and various social functions, all of which are aimed at creating a more Christian atmosphere at Emory.

THE Canterbury Club of Emory University is composed of the Episcopalians on Emory's campus. A unit of the National Canterbury Organization, this group has its own constitution and functions as a member organization of the E.C.A. Though membership is automatic for Episcopalians, it is by no means restricted to anyone desiring to become a part of its activity.

The Canterbury Club set a regular schedule for Communion services and Evening Prayer services throughout each quarter. Once a month it is the habit of the club to meet with the Episcopal Club of Agnes Scott, and pleasant social functions planned through the year provide an excellent spirit of fellowship.

The Canterbury Club, in its program of service, instruction, and worship, brings the Episcopal Church to the Emory campus and into the lives of its members.

HILLEL COUNCILORSHIP

THE Hillel Councillorship is the organization of Jewish students on the Emory campus. It was founded approximately one year ago to become one of the 118 Councillorships and Foundations which are on American college campuses today.

The aims of Hillel at Emory are fourfold. It strives to provide a devotional life for its members, to promote interest in social action, to incite an investigation of the Jewish heritage, and to supply an outlet for qualities of leadership.

Under the guidance of its first two councillors, Rabbi Harry Epstein and Mr. Louis Schwartzman, Hillel has presented various cultural and recreational programs. Among them was the bringing of Madam Frances Perkins to Emory.

In all of its activities, working in conjunction with the Emory Christian Association, Hillel is striving to champion the spirit of brotherhood and human understanding.

Taking its name from the eminent John Henry Newman, distinguished scholar of the last century, the Newman Club is an organization for Catholic students of a secular college or university. Supervised by a priest who devotes his time to its interests, the Newman Club strives "to deepen the spiritual and enrich the temporal lives of its members through a balanced program of religious, intellectual and social activities"; to weld the Catholic students into a common union; and to assist the college or university and its students whenever possible.

The Newman Club was organized at the University of Pennsylvania in 1893 by five medical students. The Newman idea spread... and so widely that today almost every secular college and university in America has its Newman Club.

At Emory the Newman Club was organized in 1941.

HONORS
D. V. S. HONOR SOCIETY

In the Spring quarter of each year—since 1902—D.V.S. has recognized Emory’s leaders. The men chosen are those who have strived to promote the highest ideals of the University, and who through their service to Emory, are selected to this—the University’s highest honor society.

Founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776, Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest national honorary society in the United States. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote scholarship among the students of American colleges and universities. Membership is bestowed in recognition of high attainments in liberal scholarship. The requirements for election are based not only on recorded grades but involve, also, the range and character of courses elected, including a consideration of the moral character of the student, his general promise to the world of scholarship and society. Emory's chapter, the Gamma Chapter of Georgia, was established in 1929.

ODK is the national honorary leadership fraternity on the campus. Election to membership is based on character, leadership, outstanding participation in extra-curricular activities, and conspicuous service along other lines. Recognition by ODK embraces five fields: scholarship, athletics, social and religious activities, publications, and dramatics and music. Tapping ceremonies are held in chapel in the fall and spring quarters of each year. The activities of the local circle include sponsorship of the annual Freshman Day and Pushball Game and Leadership Dinners, which are held several times each quarter for the purpose of bringing together the leaders of all student activities for discussion of campus problems. The Mu Circle at Emory was founded in 1925.

ALPHA EPSILON UPSILON

ALPHA Epsilon Upsilon was first organized as an honorary scholastic fraternity at old Emory at Oxford in 1906. Superseded on the Atlanta campus in 1929 by Phi Beta Kappa, it became the junior college scholastic society.

AEU seeks to raise junior college educational standard by providing a spur to achievement, and to recognize and reward those who do excel in scholastic work. Students with average of 2.50 quality points are eligible for election at the end of the third quarter, while fourth and fifth quarter students are admitted with academic rating of 2.13.

To encourage high scholastic achievement, AEU presents a trophy each Spring to the sophomore who is considered to be the most outstanding in scholastic achievement among the members of the sophomore class.

This society was organized on the Atlanta campus in 1928 and was known at that time as the "Toreadors." The present name was adopted in 1930 and chapters were established that year at Oxford and Valdosta. The purpose of the organization was expressed by the founders as follows: "To create within the members of the freshman class an interest in extra-curricular activities which are of benefit to the University; to recognize character and leadership among the students of the freshman class." Eta Sigma Psi recognizes new members, who are outstanding in campus activities, twice a year, sophomores in the Fall quarter and freshmen in the Spring quarter. This society sponsors the following events: Recognition Day chapel ceremonies in the Fall quarter and the Annual Freshman Day Dance.

THE Society of Sigma Xi was founded in 1886 at Cornell University for the purpose of "encouraging investigation in science, pure and applied." The local chapter, known as the Emory Chapter of the Society of Sigma Xi, was installed in April, 1944. The chapter consists of members and associate members, including student or member of the University Staff, and also other members of the society who have become affiliated with this chapter. Election to full membership is based upon noteworthy achievement in original investigation. The activities of the society include the holding of meetings for the discussion of scientific subjects, financial support of investigations by grants-in-aid, publication of research, and the maintenance of national lectureship. Graduate students are eligible for nomination for election to associate membership provided they have shown unusual proficiency in scientific research and have been accepted as candidates for a degree and are engaged in acceptable scientific research.
Alpha Omega Alpha, highest honorary medical society, supplanted the 22-year-old Asklepios, local honorary society at Emory, in 1940. Membership in AOA is based purely upon the candidates' scholarship and moral qualifications.

RECOGNITION
EMORY "E" CLUB

Dick Blank (extreme left) and Marion Sams (extreme right), two "E" Clubbers on Emory's championship swimming team. Nelson Ribble, outstanding lineman for the Juniors for the 1947 season, elected on All-Emory squad. Eddie Hough—chosen to All-Emory team for his stellar play as center for the sophomores during the YMD season.

The "E" Club is composed of campus athletes who have received recognition for their outstanding ability and sportsmanship.

It is dedicated to the support of the present athletic system at Emory.

Among its functions are officiating at athletic events, entertaining and housing visiting teams, and leading in promoting the best relations between the athletic department and the student body.

Alpha Kappa Psi, national commercial fraternity, was founded at New York University in 1904. It is the oldest commerce fraternity and one of the largest of the college fraternities. From the beginning the objects and ideals of this fraternity have been to further the individual welfare of its members, to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance, to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein, and to promote and advance in institutions of college rank courses leading to degrees in business administration.

Pi Alpha is an honorary chemical fraternity. It was founded locally in 1925 for the recognition of outstanding men in the Department of Chemistry. Membership is extended to those men who have shown a marked ability and who intend to make Chemistry their life work.

The fraternity sponsors an open house each year to which are invited all the science departments and interested high school students from the neighboring territory. Attendance has increased each year and these open houses have been a real aid in bringing more of the better students to Emory.

Pi Sigma Alpha is the national political science honorary fraternity. Its objectives are to stimulate productive scholarship and intelligent interest in the subject of government. Accordingly, its members are selected not only on the basis of interest in and aptitude for political science, but also on the basis of high scholastic standing in all fields.

The Emory chapter, Alpha Epsilon, meets three times each quarter. These meetings are ordinarily devoted to discussions of governmental questions of current interest, led by guest speakers in active participation in some phase of public life. At present the fraternity is planning to issue quarterly a mimeographed paper containing resumes of research papers written by political science students.

Phi Delta Phi was founded at the University of Michigan in 1869 and is the oldest professional fraternity. The purpose of the fraternity is to promote scholarship, professional ethics, and culture in law school as well as to provide a common ground of interest in recreational pursuits.

Lamar Inn was founded at Emory in 1923, and with the exception of a two-year interval during the war has ever since been active.

In furtherance of the purposes of Phi Delta Phi, Lamar Inn adopted as its project for 1947 the dedication of a plaque to the honor graduates of the Lamar School of Law. Inscribed on this plaque is the name of the highest graduate in each class since the school was founded; and each year henceforth the name of the highest ranking graduate will be inscribed. The plaque was presented to Dean Hilkey at the annual alumni banquet on February 7, 1948. A second highlight of the banquet was the honorary initiation of two prominent Georgians: Presiding Justice W. H. Duckworth of the Supreme Court of Georgia, and E. B. Everett, Chairman of the Parole Board.

ATHLETICS
E. J. SHEA
Assistant Athletic Director

Edward J. Shea is Associate Professor of Physical Education. Since 1942 he has been the Swimming Coach. For the past two years, Emory has entered swimming teams in intercollegiate competition. Under Coach Shea's tutelage, the record has been impressive.

Ed Shea received his B.S. from Springfield College in 1941. He then came to Emory, where he received his M.A. in 1942. Coach Shea lives in Atlanta.

J. CHELLMAN

This is John Chellman's second year as Track and Cross Country Coach at Emory. John hails from Pittsburgh, Pa., but he makes his home in Atlanta now. Coach Chellman received his B.S. in Health and Physical Education at State Teachers College, Slippery Rock, Pa.

J. WYDRO

John Wydro was born in 1916. He resides in Oil City, Pa. Until the fall quarter of 1947, John was the Director of Intramurals. He is now in the laundry business in Oil City.

FIELD HOUSE

After years of operating without sufficient gymnasium facilities, the athletic department eagerly awaits the completion of the new field house, one of the finest in the nation.

G. COOPER

George F. Cooper returned to Emory this fall after a year as Athletic Director at Emory Junior College at Valdosta. He is now Director of Intramurals. George was born in Birmingham, Ala. He attended Jacksonville State Teachers College until 1936.

J. LITTLE

James Stewart Little was born in Portsmouth, Ohio, October 31, 1920. He won his B.S. at the University of Kentucky in 1944. Despite the time he put on his coaching duties, Jim managed to devote enough time to his studies to graduate from the Theology school at the end of the Winter quarter.
The Spring of 1947 saw an active sports program conducted in both intramural and interfraternity athletics. Student participation and team support were at a high level.

BASEBALL

There were four teams in the intramural baseball league during the Spring quarter: the Junior College, coached by Bo Holloman; the Senior College, coached by Ed Shea; the Theology school, coached by Dr. Rowlingson; and the Medical school, coached by Dr. Coffer.

After two rounds of play, the Senior College and the Junior College met for the University championship. In the playoff, Blake Chilton pitched a shutout game to give the Senior College the University crown, 3-0.

Emory's Varsity Tennis Team, coached by John Wydro, played a 13-match schedule. Paced by Dick McKeen, the Blue and Gold netmen met some of the best teams in the southeast and gave a good account of themselves.

INTERFRATERNITY SPORTS

In the Softball League, the Sigma Chi's, led by the excellent pitching of Les Limroth, won the University championship. In their final game the Sigs defeated AEPi, top Blue League contenders.

Limroth was voted the most outstanding player of the softball circuit. Other members of the All-Emory team were: Jonas, AEPi; Rylander, Chi Phi; Clemmons, EISA; Colson, PiK; and Jernigan, Campus Club.

In interfraternity volleyball, ATO and Phi Delta Theta ended the season in a deadlock, the first place position going to the Phi Delts by virtue of defensive points. The Phi Delts downed Sigma Pi, Blue League champs, to take the University title.

The Annual Interfraternity Track Meet uncovered some good college cindersmen. The timekeepers were amazed at SAE's Rogers 9.7 hundred yard dash. Later it was discovered that the finish line was ten yards short.

The ATO’s led by Neal, Heintz, Turk and Haw piled up 76 to win the meet. The SAE's paced by Pound and Rogers, were runners-up with 41.5.

At the end of the Spring quarter, the ATO's were awarded the all-year athletic trophy. Although the Alpha Taus won only two individual championships (Cross-Country and Track) they never failed to make a good showing in any athletic event.
There were two leagues composed of 12 teams in Softball last summer. The champion of each league was determined by a double elimination tournament. It was necessary for a team to lose two games before being eliminated.

In league One KA played Chi Phi for the league crown in a very close game which finally ended in a 12-8 victory for Chi Phi.

In the Number Two league TEPHi had to play hard to defeat SAE in the second game of a two-game play-off. The TEPHi's dropped the first game 9-7, but came back strong to win the second game 14-3. It was in this two-game series that TEPHi Pitcher Bob Bossen struck out 15 SAE's.

Thus the league champions Chi Phi and TEPHi met for the university championship.

The final game was played on a wet field and proved to be a free scoring affair filled with many errors. It was a very close game until the fifth inning when Chi Phi Shortstop Jim Douglas started a four-run rally with a home run into left field. The TEPHi's managed to score in every frame, but were never ahead after the first inning. Final score, Chi Phi 14, TEPHi 12.

GOLF

There were three golf tournaments at Emory during the summer quarter: the student's medal play, the second annual "hole-in-one," and the faculty tournament.

In the student's medal play tournament Jimmy James shot a sizzling seven under par ninety-eight for 27 holes to take first place. Winding up only one strike over the course record, Jim seems to be heading for "good years" in the golfing world. Mickey Baker was runner-up in this tournament with 108.

In the second annual "hole-in-one" tourney for students and faculty members it was James again. Jim dropped one 6 ft. from the cup on a 135-yard drive. Prof. Langhorne was second—8 ft. from the hole.

In its second post-war year at Emory, tackle football held the Fall quarter sports highlight.

The Intramural Tackle League consisted of four teams: The Frosh, coached by Charles Allen; the Sophs, coached by Chester Posey; the Juniors, coached by Vic Blue; the Seniors, coached by Bo Holloman. All teams were under the supervision of Head Coach Jim Little.

Last Fall's teams were exceptionally well-balanced, and most of the games turned out to be rugged defensive battles. No game was won by more than eight points and first downs were few.

Interfraternity Touch Football, Varsity Cross Country, and Interfraternity Cross Country rounded out the Fall quarter sports program. Interfraternity Tennis was called off in the middle of the season because of wet courts.

Top right: Davidson passes for the Phi Delt pledges.

Right: Organized chaos. (Some call it Push Ball).

Right: A couple of Greek-letter hairers finishing the Interfraternity Cross Country meet.

Lower right: The Player, the Coach, the Press, and the Official eye the game.

Below: Bosso and Tinter gain for the T.E.Phi's.
All four teams made bids for the Tackle Football championship, and almost all the games were classed toss-ups. The Junior and Seniors, pre-season favorites, ended up in the cellar, while the Sophomores took first place. In the number two position were the scrappy freshmen—the only team to defeat the champions.

In their opening game with the Juniors the Sophomores had to fight hard to come out with a 0-0 tie. The Juniors actually outplayed the Sophs (on paper), but the Sophs' rugged line thwarted all the Juniors' drives.

The champs upset the favored Seniors in their second game. The surprised Seniors never got their second wind as Richardson and Jernigan ran wild. Sophs—6, Seniors—0.

The league-leading Sophs ran into trouble the next week when they encountered the twice-defeated Frosh on the rebound. Sparked by the elusive running of Bart Riley, the Freshmen downed the Sophomores 7-0.

SOPHOMORES

FOOTBALL

The Soph grid machine really started rolling in the second round of games. On a rain-soaked field, the Sophs, led by Frank Jernigan and Bob Richardson, completely outclassed the Juniors. Score, Sophs—14, Juniors—6.

The second-year men finished the season in fine fashion when they defeated the Freshmen 14-6. Again it was Frank Jernigan who led the victors. His brilliant running and accurate passing were too much for the Frosh.

The Soph line deserves much credit for clearing the way for Richardson and Jernigan, as well as for their fine defensive play. Such stalwarts as Ward, Hough, Moss and Griffin will long be remembered by all those who played against them.

SENIORS

[Images of football players]
Frank Jernigan, who led the Sophomores to the University championship, was named the most valuable player in the Intramural league. His brilliant passing, illusive running, and all-around spectacular play was unequaled by any back this season.

"Shorty" Lorentzon placed on the all-star team for the second straight year. He was the sparkplug of the Senior team on offense and defense.

Dave McKeithen (not pictured) was the third back selected. Dave's line plunging was devastating and earned him the nickname of "four-yard McKeithen."

"Soph" fullback Bob Richardson was named probably for his punting more than anything else. Some of his "boots" were in the seventy-yard class and he averaged more than forty yards per game.

Coming to Emory unheralded and unpublicized, Bart Riley quickly blossomed as the ace of Charley Allen's Freshman team. Riley was the equal of Jernigan on off-tackle slants and end-runs.

Mac Bonner, another Senior, rounded the all-star backfield. Bonner's scrappy defensive play headed the Seniors' team.

Center honors were handed to Nellie Ribble of the Juniors and Ed Ward of the Sophs. This pair had to be good to keep Freshman Joe Terezacki off the all-star squad.
Tackles named were Junior, Jimmy Douglas and Freshman, Morton Good. Douglas was noted for his vicious tackling and effective blocking, besides being the outstanding comedian on the field. Morton Good was the outstanding Freshman on defense, and gains over his position by opposing teams were few.

Laurens Horstman of the Juniors was named for one of the guard posts. Horstman is probably best remembered for his last-minute pass interception against the freshmen, which netted a touchdown and a victory for his team.

E. E. Hough and Marshall Adams were the other two guards selected. The blocking and tackling of these two stalwarts was a standout throughout the season.

Hugh Caldwell, of swimming fame, was one of four ends named. He was a consistent target for Lorentson’s passes in all of the Seniors’ offensive thrusts.

Sophomore Oscar Cox, who occasionally played tackle, was one of the best defensive ends in the league. His bruising tackles would be music to any line coach’s ears.

Ted Banks of the Juniors and “Smitty” Smith of the Sophs were the other ends chosen for the all-star team. Both of these flankmen played good all-round ball in every game.
TOUCH FOOTBALL

The 1947 inter-Fraternity touch football season ended with Chi Phi, Gold league champs, defeating Campus Club, Blue league winners and defending University champions, 12-0, to take the campus championship. It was the first time in three years that a Gold League team has won the crown. Chi Phi, sparked by Cunningham and Hinson, two glue-fingered ends, went through the Gold league season with only one defeat while K.A. and Sigma Chi tied for second place.

In the Blue league, Campus Club, Sigma Pi and TEPhi carried on quite a scramble for the crown. Campus Club, however, led by the versatile Jernigan brothers, took their league for the second straight year.

In the championship game Chi Phi's Gene Hinson made two beautiful catches of long passes by Hook for the only touchdowns of the game. The winners completed 16 passes for a total of 265 yards. Approximately 100 of these yards belonged to Hinson, while Cunningham accounted for 75. Jack Free and Bobby Forbes starred in the line for Chi Phi, as did Dorris for Campus Club. The Jernigan brothers and Bevel Jones sparked the Campus Club offense, and were constant threats to Chi Phi throughout the game.

UNIVERSITY CHAMPIONS

CHI PHI TEAM

Emory's cross country team, under the direction of John Chellman, ran against some of the finest teams in the South this year. Although they won only one meet, the harriers gained valuable experience which we hope will prove to be the foundation for a more successful season next year.

Hatchett was Emory's number one man throughout the season, which included meets with Tennessee, Ga. Tech, Georgia, and Emory at Oxford.

Emory won its only meet in Valdosta, at the annual Emory Junior College cross country meet. Hatchett and Pound placed second and third, respectively, for Emory.

In the Interfraternity Cross Country Meet, Landon Lindsey, Sigma Chi, placed first. The KA's won the meet.

For the first time in the history of the University, the Freshman actually won the annual Push Ball game; but the victory was forfeited the following day by the officials.

As usual the game was tagged as the roughest and hardest played of all time. Strangely enough, however, casualties were comparatively light—there were no deaths.

The only material loss suffered by anyone during the game was a pair of pants. We wonder if Kalaf has found them yet.
Concentration on minor athletics at Emory has brought forth one of the finest swimming teams in the South. Emory's tankmen, under the able coaching of Ed Shea, finished this season in fine fashion. Emory won seven out of nine meets against the best teams in the South.

Emory took their first two meets with Birmingham Y.M.C.A. and Vanderbilt in stride, 60 to 15 and 53 to 22.

In their next start, against Georgia, our tankmen showed Athens town what team spirit means. Trailing throughout the meet, Emory found herself behind 32-36 with one event remaining—the 400-yard free-style relay. In the first quarter of the relay Georgia's ace, Theyx Stewart, gave his team a twenty-foot lead. The lead remained the same in the next quarter, and then Emory's Charlie Newton hit the water. Newton cut the 20-foot lead down to practically nothing, and Blank overtook Georgia's anchorman to win the relay and the meet. Final score, 39 to 36.

Emory took the next three by wide margins. In return meets with Vandy and Georgia the locals won by 60-15 and 46-29 scores. In the third meet with Clemson, Emory took first place in every event except the 50-yard free-style, swamping the Tigers 58 to 17.
Blank, Schley, and Newton, three members of Emory's famed free style relay team. This team won the free style relay event in all but two meets. Van Pelt is not pictured.

SWIMMING

Pensacola Naval Air Station was the next opponent for the Blue and Gold. Paced by Newton, Blank, Van Pelt and Ham, Emory emerged victorious by a 41 to 34 score.

Emory tasted defeat for the first time in their meet with Florida. The Floridians had one of the finest sprinters in the country in Lew Brown. Brown won both the 50 and 100 yard free style events and cinched both relays for his team. He also established a new pool record for the 100 yard free style.

Emory's final meet was against North Carolina, undisputed Southern Conference Champions. The N. C. tankmen allowed the locals only four second places and shattered several pool records in defeating Emory 60 to 15.

In the S.E.A.A.U. meet held at Ga. Tech, the Emory tankmen brought home the bacon. The team was strengthened considerably by Sam Howard, Ray Cunningham and Charlie Stephanos, all of whom had been ineligible during the regular season. Emory tallied 58 points to take first place. Miami was second with 44, while Tech finished third with 27. Emory's Stephanos took individual honors by winning the 220 and 440 free style events. In both of these events Stephanos faced top notch opposition, including Tech's famed Johnny Hiles.

Stephanos also won the 440 yard free style event in the National Junior A.A.U. meet in Miami.

Varsity SWIMMING

Much of the credit for Emory's successful season is due to the fine coaching of Ed Shea. His rigid conditioning program and the team's willingness to work under him netted a victorious season for Emory.

It would be a difficult task to single out any one man as the star of the team. Suffice it to say, that the entire team, working together as a spirited unit, was responsible for the fine record. We salute Ed Shea and the 1948 Emory Swimming Team.

Interfraternity SWIMMING

Taking only one first place, Kappa Alpha's Rebels won the annual interfraternity swimming championship with 25 points. Freshman Cubbedge Snow rallied to win the 60 meter breaststroke event which proved the margin of victory.

Sigma Chi was runner-up with a score of 22. Chi Phi took third spot with 18 points.

PiKA Walter Grage walked off with individual honors for the night, scoring 16 points. Grage took first place in the 50 yard freestyle and in the 60 meter backstroke. He placed second in the fancy diving contest.

The Intramural Basketball league consisted of eight teams: Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, Lawyers, Theologs, Dentists, and Medics. Since fraternity men were ruled ineligible for Intramurals, the graduate school teams were the most powerful.

Paced by 'never miss' Corr, the Dental School went through the season undefeated. The men from Forrest Avenue had one of the most well-coordinated quintets ever to win the University Crown.

Close behind the Dentists was the Theology School. The Theologians' only defeat came at the hands of the Dentists. In every game the Teologs controlled the backboard, thanks to their excellent center, Doris.

In the Second Annual Junior Basketball Tournament, held at Oxford, Emory's Freshmen took top honors.

In their first game, with Company C of Valdosta, the Frosh won by the narrow margin of two points, 53 to 51. Bart Riley with 17 points and Al Cook with 14, led the victors.

After downing the Oxford five 54 to 44, the Freshmen entered the finals. In the final game the Frosh played Valdosta's number two team who had previously beaten Emory's Sophomores. This game was played on a Saturday night before an overflow crowd. Although Emory led throughout the game, it was always by a narrow margin. The score at the half was 33-29, and in the second stanza both teams got hot. Finally, in the closing minutes of play, Emory pulled away and won.

Walking over all Blue League opposition, TEPhi wound up their perfect season with a 37-32 win over their arch-rivals, AEPL. Long-armed Leonard Diamond led the Blue League champs through their six-game schedule. He was ably supported by long-shot artist, Stan Tinter.

The official runner-ups, AEPL were paced by two hard-charging forwards, Nerenbaum and Chajage.

Blue League ball, as a whole, was somewhat under par. Pi Kappa Phi, Campus Club and Sigma Pi were forced to drop out of the league. The Star and Crescent Club, winners over AEPL, operated on an unofficial basis.

The Teps ran their victory string to seven with a 40-39 triumph over the Gold League champions, ATO. Diamond and Tinter were the important factors in the thriller. The win established TEPhi as the University champions.

Basketball Interfraternity Gold League

Competition in the Interfraternity Basketball League was unusually keen this year. Despite the fact that there was no gym on the campus available for practice, most teams seemed well trained.

The ATO's, led by versatile Newton Turk, waded through all opposition to take the Gold League crown. In one game Turk scored 25 of his team's 38 points, and he was always a threat under the backboard on rebounds.

Close behind the Alpha Taus were Sigma Chi and SAE. Both of these Frats gave the Champs tough games. Sigma Chi Orum Hamner was one of the sharpest set shots in the league.

Last year's champions, SAE, gave the ATO's their worst scare. The ATO-SAE game was one of the most thrilling played. There was never more than five points difference in the score from start to finish; and the lead changed hands several times in the last half. In the last minute of play, ATO Day made two free throws to cinch the game and league championship for the Alph Taus.

The KAs and Phi Dels finished in fourth and fifth place respectively, and Chi Phi and EISA shared the cellar slot. Some of the best basketball material in the College was divided among the Gold League Frats. The Freshman team that won the tournament at Oxford was composed largely of first year men from the Gold League teams.

GOLD LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

When the local athletes on the campus finished tackle football and pushball, their thoughts turned to less-bruising sports such as basketball, swimming, and soccer. The latter, however, turned out to be quite rough; and from the spectator's point of view, quite amusing. Soccer is undoubtedly a game of great skill. A skill so great that Emory's Greek letter men have not been able to perfect it. From the sidelines, the game is quite amusing and appears to be simple to play. To the player though, Soccer is the most difficult of all sports. Because of the lack of training in this sport, practically every game was classed as "toss up."

In the Blue League, Sigma Nu wound up in first place; while the Sigma Chis won the Gold League crown. In the championship game Sigma Chi swamped the Blue Leaguers 1 to 0. Sigma Chi's Manus, Radcliff and Francisco led the victors throughout the championship game.

INTERFRATERNITY POINTS

At the end of the Winter quarter, Sigma Chi was well out in front in the race for the all-year athletic trophy. These point totals do not include any points from the Spring quarter.

Alpha Epsilon Pi
Alpha Epsilon Pi was founded in 1913 at New York University. Epsilon Chapter was organized at Emory in 1920. In 1946 the chapter bought a house on North Decatur Road and this has been the home of the fraternity since then.

The annual AEpi formal was held in the City Auditorium this year. Another big social event was the regional conclave of the fraternity. Other parties from time to time were held at the chapter house and elsewhere.

In the field of athletics AEpi was at the top of the Blue League and threatened to take the annual University athletic trophy.

Campus activities had their share of members of this fraternity. Fred Bolonkin was a member of DVS, the Honor Council and ODK; Dn Reisman was IFC prexy and Stanley Jonas was president of Eta Sigma Psi. Arkin, Jonas and Shure were named to AEU. Stern was on the traffic court, and Michalove was elected to the Business School Council.

Alpha Tau Omega was founded at Virginia Military Institute, September 11, 1865, and since that time the fraternity has grown to 101 chapters in the United States and Canada. The Emory Alpha Theta Chapter was organized in 1881.

Among the Alpha Tau functions of particular interest were the annual Christmas Party at which the new sponsor, Miss Diana Durdin was presented, and the annual winter Orchid Formal.

The past year saw the Alpha Taus winning the coveted University scholarship trophy and the choral cup which is given to the Emory organization with the best group singing.

ATO also came through in activities with Dick Few being elected president of the Business School and Dan Barker being Business School treasurer.

Chi Phi was founded at Princeton University in 1824 and is the oldest national Greek-letter social fraternity. The outgrowth of a religious and literary society, Chi Phi now has 33 chapters situated in the nation's leading colleges and universities.

The Gamma Chapter was founded at Emory in 1869 and was the first Greek-letter social organization on the campus.

During 1918 Chi Phi's social season was highlighted by the presentation of Miss Sally Pat Connally as sponsor in the Fall quarter.

In the Fall quarter Chi Phi won her second successive University championship. The Scarlet and Blue football team equaled Summer softball team by taking the Interfraternity title. Chi Phi encouraged support of University sports, and eight brothers were lettermen. The fraternity placed more men on the All-Emory class football team than any other organization.

In activities Alonzo McDonald was editor of the Phoenix, associate editor of the Wheel, feature editor of the Campus, and a member of the Student Council. Brothers Waits, Hook, and Douglas also served on the Student Council. The fraternity also had men in DVS, Phi Beta Kappa, Eta Sigma Psi, AEU, and other honorary societies. Four Chi Phis were on the Traffic Court.

The annual formal was held at the Georgian Terrace in April, at which time we christened a Delta airliner "The Delta Tau Delta Rainbow." Beta Epsilon participated in a Southern Division conference later in the year.

A Christmas party for children of the Decatur Methodist home was held at the house in December.

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded March 1, 1868, at the University of Virginia. Today the fraternity consists of 86 chapters which are located throughout the United States. The Beta Kappa Chapter was organized in 1919.

Social activities for the 1947-48 term began with rush week, when 14 rushers were pledged. It is a tradition of Beta Kappa that the pledge class of each quarter give a party for the active brothers. This function took place in October with entertainment consisting of skits and stunts put on by the pledges. Plans for the annual Dream-Girl Formal were begun in the Fall quarter. This was the highlight of January, at which time Beta Kappa's Dream-Girl, Miss Billie Parrigon, was presented. In February a reception was held at the House for alumni of the chapter.

Shorty Lorentson was presented the Bridges Trophy for athletics, and Dick Walker was elected to Alpha Epsilon Upsilon for scholarship achievements.

The past year has been successful for the chapter here. The year got off to a good start with Russell Thomas and Courson Dowis directing a rush period including a French Sidewalk Cafe Party, an Insane Ball, etc. The twenty-five new Phikeyias followed up soon after with a party for the other new pledges to the other fraternities. A Halloween party and a Christmas party followed, leading up to the Winter Formal in January, when Jackie Jacobs was presented as the new sponsor. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama in 1856 and has since become the largest social fraternity in the world. Georgia Epsilon chapter was founded on the Emory campus in 1881 and had the first fraternity house built on the Atlanta campus.

Three outstanding social events have topped the year's activity for the chapter. SAE's presidential aspirant, Harold E. Stassen, was entertained by the chapter at an open house in his honor last December. Atlanta's most outstanding citizens were present.

The annual formal and tea dance were given at the Biltmore Hotel climaxing the social functions of the year.

The Piedmont Driving Club was the scene of the annual Founders' Day Banquet and the unveiling of the National Fraternity's portrait of Lauren Foreman, Eminent Supreme Recorder.

Chosen as this year's all-Emory football stars were Bob Richardson, Erwin Hough and Don Hubbard. Richard Blank again was one of Emory's outstanding swimmers.

Sigma Nu originated from the Legion of Honor, a secret society organized in 1869 at Virginia Military Institute. The fraternity is comprised of one hundred and two chapters, with a total membership of more than 50,000. XI chapter at Emory was founded in 1884.

The 1947 season saw many improvements in the house and grounds. New furniture was added to the dining room, and the first floor was completely redecorated. Following rush week, Mrs. Jane Wilt became housemother. New pledges treated the brothers to a Halloween masquerade. The annual tackle football game with the Pikes resulted in a 7-0 win for Sigma Nu. This victory entitled us, not only to a trophy, but also a duck dinner to the winning team.

Johnny Long, alumnus from Duke University, visited us in December and a luncheon was given in his honor. Each month we have attended church in a group and have had an opportunity to hear some of Atlanta's best ministers.

The traditional White Rose Formal was held in February at the Peachtree Gardens. Bob Chester and orchestra furnished the music, and Miss Peggy Harbin was introduced as our new sponsor.

Tap Epsilon Phi was founded at Columbia University on October 10, 1910. The first chapter consisted of ten men and the first meeting was held October 19, 1910.

Mu Chapter was founded November 17, 1919. The chapter grew steadily until 1921 when it went inactive during the war.

In 1945 several of the brothers returned from the service and reactivated the chapter. The brothers were handicapped because the house had been sold when the brothers left, but the chapter grew despite this obstacle and today has about thirty active brothers and pledges.

Recently Mu Chapter acquired a house which it will occupy at the beginning of the summer quarter.

The highlights of the social activities were the annual T.E.Phi Conclave and the Sweetheart Formal. At the latter it was announced that Martha Copeloff would be the chapter sweetheart for the coming year.

Mu chapter was also successful in campus sports. The Mu men came in second in softball in the Blue League and were undefeated in the Blue League basketball competition. To top off the sports, the men of T.E.Phi beat A.T.O. for the school basketball championship.

ETA CHAPTER

Pi Kappa Phi was founded December 10, 1904 at the College of Charleston, S. C. Since 1904, it has grown from a Southern organization until today the Pi Kapps have achieved national recognition as being one of the leading fraternities. The Eta chapter of Pi Kappa Phi was first organized on the Emory campus in 1912 at Oxford, and transferred to Atlanta along with Emory in 1916. The Pi Kapps grew with Emory until 1957, when the chapter became dormant.

The Eta chapter was reactivated by the National Office on October 12, 1946, and once again the Pi Kapps returned to the Emory campus. Beginning with a few transfers of this fraternity from various colleges and universities, this “new chapter” has grown to include 24 active members and 4 pledges.

During the year Frank Gay served as president of the APO service fraternity, and Frank Johnston was elected vice-president of the interfraternity Council.
In May, 1947 a group of Beta transfers met with J. R. Cheshire, Jr. and Dr. Allen D. Albert, Jr., Sociology professor at Emory, to discuss the possibility of organizing a Colony.

At the National Convention of Beta Theta Pi in September, 1947 special dispensation was given to the Georgia Tech Chapter to initiate men pledged at Emory University into Beta Theta Pi.

The Colony began last summer with four men in the organization and has now grown to 21 active members. The Colony will petition Beta Theta Pi for a charter in the summer of 1948.
The Star and Crescent Club was founded at Emory in the Spring of 1917. Petitioning for re-chartering of the Alpha Chapter of Kappa Sigma was begun in the Winter quarter.

The Club has won distinction in the Blue League Basketball loop during the year, and has held several fine social functions. The Club has among its members the only Junior initiated into Phi Beta Kappa during the Winter quarter as well as three successful candidates for the University School of Medicine.

Kappa Sigma now has 110 active chapters, and the Emory Star and Crescent Club hopes soon to become the 112th.

ALPHA KAPPA

Alpha Kappa Kappa was founded at Dartmouth Medical School in Hanover, N. H., on September 29, 1888, and was incorporated in New Hampshire in 1889. The organization became international in character in 1904 with the establishment of a chapter at McGill. The Centaur is the fraternity quarterly.

Alpha Tau Chapter was established at Emory in 1914, and has remained active in campus affairs since. Charles Hollis has led the chapter through an eventful and successful year.

The fraternity colors are Dartmouth green and white.

Graduates in medicine may become honorary members of the fraternity.

The annual spring dance and banquet was held at the Biltmore Hotel; it was a function that was enjoyed by the members and their wives and dates.

Phi Chi Medical Fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889. In 1905 a union with another fraternity of the same name was established. The fraternity has a copyrighted coat of arms, a journal known as the Phi Chi Quarterly and sends an inspection team throughout the nation at regular intervals to see that the high standards are maintained. Fraternity colors are white and olive green; the flower is the lily of the valley.

Bruce C. Newsom, past Presiding Senior, led the chapter through an eventful and most successful year. During December 27, 28, 29, 1947, the Sigma Chapter was host to the 30th Grand Chapter Convention of Phi Chi which was held in Atlanta. Jack A. Thompson was the official Sigma Chapter delegate to the convention while Bruce C. Newsom served as the chairman of the Sigma's convention committee.

CHAPTER
Pool is a favorite pastime around the Phi Chi house. A group of the brothers pose in front of the house.

Theta Kappa Psi is the oldest professional fraternity in existence, and it was founded on Thanksgiving Day, November 30, 1879, at New Haven, Connecticut, as the Society of Kappa Psi. Two chapters were formed, one at Russell Military Academy and the other at Cheshire Military Academy, both located in New Haven. As the years passed, new chapters were added, and in 1908 Rho Chapter was organized at Emory University.

Theta Kappa Psi is a medical fraternity, and it is composed of medical graduates, members of medical school faculties, and students of medicine. There are collegiate and graduate chapters with the Grand Chapter, Alpha, being the governing body. The journal of the fraternity is the Messenger, the colors are gold and green, and the flower is the red rose.

Tom Disney was elected man-of-the-year for 1948, succeeding the joint men-of-the-year for 1947, Walter Dunbar and Photis Nichols. James Suhrer was elected freshman-of-the-year.

Phi Delta Epsilon was founded in 1904 at Cornell Medical School. The fraternity was enlarged by uniting with Alpha Phi Sigma in 1918. There are 15 active graduate clubs which are located in large cities throughout the United States.

The fraternity publishes a Yearbook, quarterly magazine, the News, and a monthly entitled Bulletin. Colors are royal purple and cream of white. Bet Nu Chapter was organized at Emory in 1912.

During the past two years Beta Nu has been sponsoring in cooperation with the national group a program of lectures for medical students here and doctors in the Atlanta area. Last year Dr. Harry Gold, Professor of Pharmacology at Cornell University Medical School, was guest lecturer, and this year Dr. Sam Levine, Assistant Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, was obtained for the lecture.

The program of lectures is scheduled for the next three years.

DEPENDENTS

INDEPENDENTS
The Emory Independent Students Association was founded on the Emory campus in 1938 and was known as the Emory Non-fraternity Organization. In 1946 it was reorganized as EISA.

The Emory chapter is the southeastern district headquarters of the National Independent Students Association which has a total membership of approximately 150,000 students.

The social life of the fall quarter on the campus was started off by a Fashion show, sponsored by the Wheel, and followed by a dance which was co-sponsored by EISA and the Student Activities Council. This was the big function of the Fall quarter. Later in the quarter the Fernbank barn was the site of an Independent barn dance and weiner roast.

The Independent social life during the Fall quarter was ended by a dance at the Decatur Woman's Club.

The activities of the Winter quarter were highlighted by a campus-wide poll taken by members to acquaint each student with EISA, and to provide information to the university concerning student preference as to student activities.

Scenes of the “House of Blue Lights” dance held on the campus.

Founded in 1920 as a political club, the Campus Club today is Emory's only local, social, independent organization. The purpose of the Campus Club is to help the independent student on the campus have a well organized social, athletic life, while holding scholastic averages high.

The Campus Club Alumni Association was re-organized in 1947. Today, over 500 alumni of the Campus Club are on the mailing list of the Club's quarterly paper, The Campus Club Alumnus. Owen C. Driskell is the Executive Secretary of the CC Alumni Association. Frank Robinson is the Editor of the paper.

Athletics: The Campus Club won the Blue league championship in touch football, losing the school championship to Chi Phi.

Alumni Activities: The annual stag banquet was held last April. Over 100 present members of the Club and alumni at the banquet. The next alumni stag banquet April 16, 1948.

Membership: Over 20 new members plus 11 new members February, 1948.

Social: Several social functions are held each month. These included hay rides, picnics, steak suppers, dances, square dances, as well as several costume parties.

Pre-meeting bull session of members.

Square dancing, the Bingo at Fernbank.

The Emory University School of Dentistry is the outgrowth of three dental colleges. Not until 1914 did the school take on its present name, but had been known previously as the Southern Dental College, the Atlanta Dental College and the Atlanta-Southern Dental College.

The Atlanta-Southern Dental College was established in 1917 by the consolidation of the Atlanta and the Southern Dental Colleges. Dr. Sheppard Foster, the late President Emeritus, was elected as its first President and Dr. Thomas Hinman was its first dean.

At the start of the 1917 session the Atlanta Dental College vacated its building on Edgewood Avenue and moved in with Southern Dental College in its building across from the Grady Hospital. The merger of the two schools gave to Atlanta one of the largest and most completely equipped dental colleges of the day.

In 1918, in cooperation with the government, an S.A.T.C. training unit was placed at the new school. Again, in World War II, Atlanta-Southern Dental College was chosen by the Army and Navy for the training of dental officers.

In 1926 Atlanta-Southern College moved to its present location at the corner of Forrest and Courtland, and in the same year as a result of increased facilities was awarded an "A" rating by the Dental Education Council of America.

Upon the death of Dr. Hinman in 1931, Dr. R. R. Byrnes became Dean of the College and holds that office today. On September 25, 1951, Mrs. De Los Hill gave the school a $50,000 endowment for the purpose of establishing a clinic for children. The clinic is now known as De Los Hill, Jr., Memorial Clinic for Children.

In September of 1944 Emory University and Atlanta-Southern Dental College merged to become Emory University School of Dentistry.

The main clinic at the Dental College is one of the largest of its kind in the nation. This modern clinic includes not only operative dentistry sections but also those for diagnosis, radiology, crown and bridge prosthesis, full and partial denture prosthesis, surgery and orthodontics.

On September 1, 1948, Dr. John Buhler, of Temple University, will assume duties as Dean of the Dental School, replacing Dr. R. R. Byrnes, who is retiring after 36 years in the field of dental education.

Since the inception of the old Southern Dental College 61 years ago, some of the South's leading dentists have received their professional training in Atlanta.

As part of Emory, the dental school will continue to fulfill its role of playing an integral part in the field of dentistry.
DENTISTRY
Culminating 36 years as a dental educator, Dr. Ralph Roy Byrnes will retire as dean of the School of Dentistry at the end of the current academic year.

Graduated cum laude from the Vanderbilt University School of Dentistry in 1912, Dr. Byrnes remained at his alma mater for three more years, serving as clinical instructor and assistant to the chairman of oral surgery. During the next five years, until 1920, he was superintendent and professor of operative technics and clinical dentistry in the School of Dentistry at the Medical College of Virginia.

In 1920, Dr. Byrnes came to Atlanta-Southern Dental College as vice-president and superintendent and professor of operative dentistry. Five years later he became executive dean, and in 1931 he was named dean, having held the position since that date.

Prior to his entry into the field of dentistry, Dean Byrnes spent ten years in the business world, and, for several years after beginning his career as a teacher, he continued to hold important business offices.

One of the nation's leading dental educators, Dean Byrnes has been: president of the American Association of Dental Schools; president of the Pan-American Odontological Association; president of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national dental honor fraternity; supreme grand master and, for ten years, treasurer of Delta Sigma Delta dental fraternity.

Proving to be a prolific writer, Dr. Byrnes has written and had published more than 60 articles on technical and professional subjects, and he is also well-known for his invention of the multiple unit sterilizer.

Dean Byrnes is a fellow of the American College of Dentists and a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Besides being a member of the American Dental Association and of the Georgia Dental Association, in which he holds the degree of Honorable Fellow, he is an honorary member of the dental societies of North and South Carolina, Virginia, Alabama and Florida.

IN MEMORIAM

Sheppard W. Foster, D.D.S., F.A.CD.

A life dedicated to the betterment of his chosen profession came to an end during the past year when Dr. Sheppard W. Foster died at his home in St. Petersburg, Fla., August 16, 1947.

Affectionately known as "The Grand Old Man" of dental education in the South, Dr. Foster had been associated with dentistry since the year 1887 when he was graduated, with honors, from a dental course at Vanderbilt University.

In 1891 he came to Atlanta to serve on the faculty of the old Southern Dental College as professor of oral pathology. The following year he was appointed dean and held that position until Southern merged with Atlanta Dental College in 1917. He was president of the newly formed Atlanta-Southern Dental College for 27 years. In 1944, when Atlanta-Southern was absorbed by Emory University, Dr. Foster retired at his own request. At that time Emory named him professor emeritus of the School of Dentistry and professor emeritus of oral pathology.

"Uncle Shep," as he was known to his students, was a past president of the American Dental Association and, in 1926, presided over an international gathering of dentists at the World Dental Congress.

Dr. Foster, who was 86 at the time of his death, was instrumental in bringing about the union of the Southern Dental Association with the ADA in 1897, when he was secretary of the Southern group. He helped organize the honor dental society, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, was a member of Psi Omega dental fraternity, a 32nd degree Mason, and in his younger years, president of the Golden Eagle Buggy Co.

In addition to the honors and activities already mentioned, "Uncle Shep" was president of the National Association of Dental Faculties; member of the board of trustees of the ADA; member of the Dental Educational Council of America; president of the Southern branch of the National Dental Association; president of the Georgia Dental Association; secretary of the Alabama Dental Association; Fellow of the American College of Dentists; honorary fellow of the Georgia Dental Association; and honorary member of several state dental societies, including those of North and South Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.
Dr. M. D. Huff, secretary of the faculty and of the Advisory Council of the Dental School, has announced his retirement from teaching after 46 years active participation in the field of dental education.

In 1901, Dr. Huff was graduated from the old Southern Dental College. Since that time, he has served continuously on the faculties of it and its successors, Atlanta-Southern Dental College and Emory School of Dentistry, where he is professor of materia medica and therapeutics.

At present, he is third vice-president of the American Dental Association, and for eight years, he has been chairman of the ADA's Research Commission. He has been a member of that commission for 30 years. In addition to holding office in the ADA, Dr. Huff is a former president of the Southern Academy of Periodontology, a past vice-president of the Southern branch of the National Dental Association and a member of the American Academy of Periodontology.

One of the three founders of the Atlanta Dental Society, Dr. Huff is a past president of the society as well as past president of the Georgia Dental Association. In 1921 he was elected Honorable Fellow in that association and a life member in 1941.

For two years he succeeded the late Dr. Thomas P. Hinman as chairman of the Hinman midwinter clinics conducted at the Dental School. He has also written a number of scientific articles for professional publications.

Among his other honors and activities, Dr. Huff is, or has been: a fellow of the American College of Dentists; a member of the American Academy of Restorative Dentistry; grand master of the state alumni chapter of Psi Omega dental fraternity; president of Lambda chapter of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, honorary dental society; vice president and director of the Medical Arts Building Co., Atlanta, and president and president emeritus for life of the Druid Hills Golf Club, Atlanta.

SENIORS
The senior class was the last class to matriculate during the war years' accelerated program. They experienced school days under the wartime tension, through the days of conversion to normal peacetime routine, and are graduating at another critical time in the history of our country. "What shall we do now?" This is a question on the lips of all seniors.

The students of the senior class represent practically every section of the Eastern United States. Let us hope that they will be allowed to return to their respective areas and be of service to humanity in the practice of dentistry.

CLINICS
The story of the Main Clinic, under the capable and progressive direction of Dr. R. E. Sturdevant, has been one of constant growth and perfection of efficiency and service. The clinic is one of the outstanding Dental School Clinics in the country for providing its students with an abundance of practical experience in Diagnosis, Operative Dentistry, Crown and Bridge, Partial and Full Denture Prosthesis, Endodontia, Periodontia, and Exodontia.

The DeLos Hill, Jr. Memorial Dental Clinic for Children was founded and endowed by Dr. and Mrs. DeLos Hill in memory of their son. The Clinic is under the direction of Dr. V. M. Johnson, and is one of the finest children's Clinics in the South. The course in dentistry for children is designed with the purpose and hope that more dentists will give greater dental care to more children.

Clinic No. II is located on the ground floor of the main building. It has increased its volume of service in the past decade to become one of the most promising departments of the school.

The dental school Student Council is the students' governing body at the dental school. Composed of members elected from the various classes, it is the organization which plans and governs the extracurricular activities of the students.

Officers of the Council are elected by its members. For the year 1947-48 the following men served: Joe Meadows, president; Bill Oliver, vice-president; James Garland, secretary; Jack Johnson, treasurer.

It is the responsibility of the SC to pass upon all monetary matters concerning student affairs—whether it be for softball equipment or a radio for the lounge. SC also appoints the editor and business manager for the dental school section of the CAMPUS. The annual “Caries Carnival” — which includes a dance and stunt night— is the pet project of the council, and, undoubtedly, one of the highlights of the school year for all students.

One of the biggest phases of Council activity is the sponsorship and correlation of an athletic program which includes competition in basketball, softball and golf.

Finally, the Student Council serves as the middleman between the student body and the administration.

Joe S. Meadows
President
The Omicron Kappa Upsilon Fraternity was organized by the faculty of Northwestern University Dental School in 1914, to encourage and develop a spirit of emulation among students of dentistry and to recognize in an appropriate manner those who distinguish themselves by a high grade of scholarship.

Each year the honor membership is awarded to those of the graduating class whose records show exemplary conduct, good character and high scholastic standing throughout their entire four years of professional training. The fraternity has served as an inspiration to students and the privilege of membership is an honor to be coveted by all.

Dr. W. E. Coleman, Assistant Dean of Emory University School of Dentistry, is the President of the national society of Omicron Upsilon as well as President of Lambda Chapter.

The staff wishes to express its appreciation to those who have unstintingly given their time to make this section possible. We wish to especially thank Bob Wohlers and Tom Etheridge for their assistance.
In the year 1921, the fraternities of the Atlanta Southern Dental College organized the Pan-Hellenic Council. The purpose of this organization was to establish some means by which the fraternities could gain a more harmonious relationship among themselves.

The council is composed of the president and vice-president of the four fraternities. Later in 1941, a junior member was appointed by each of the respective fraternities to sit on the council and voice his opinion, but without privilege of voting.

The purpose of the council is to regulate rushing and pledging of the four fraternities, thus putting them on an equal basis. It regulates any strife which might come up between the fraternities and at the same time strives to create a closer feeling of fidelity and friendship. The council sponsors the annual dance in honor of the new pledges of the fraternities. It also sponsors any other social functions which the four fraternities agree upon.

The Pan-Hellenic Council holds its meetings in the presence of members of the Interfraternity Council composed of the Deputy Councillors from each of the fraternities. This new ruling was added in 1943 in order to establish a better and stronger organization.
In the year 1928 Alpha Delta Chapter of Alpha Omega was installed at the Atlanta-Southern Dental College. Since that time, the chapter has been in continuous activity on the campus.

Organization of the local chapter took place when a group of young men in attendance at the school—Bernard Agoos, Edward Blitzstein, Sol Cohen, Ben Hyman, Herbert Levinson, Jack Silver; and Sidney Weinstein—felt there was need for a chapter of Alpha Omega at ASDC.

An installation banquet was held at the Henry Grady Hotel at which Past National President Harry Blitzstein, who conducted the ceremonies, and Dr. W. E. Coleman, among others, were present. In addition to the charter members, the first associate member, Dr. Irving H. Goldstein, was also initiated at the same time.

Through the years, Alpha Delta has had no less than seven fraternity houses. At the present, due to its small size, it has no permanent meeting place. Nevertheless, now, as then, the fraternity takes advantage of every opportunity to present lectures, movies and clinics of all sorts.

Several alumni have demonstrated their interest in the welfare of the fraternity by having held elected officers in the national organization. Drs. Morris Erbesfield, Irving Goldstein, Marvin Goldstein and Jack Silver have all served terms, or are serving, as Regent for this district. Frater Irving Goldstein is a recent past national president and recipient of the AO Meritorious Service award.

Always participating in school affairs to the limit of its capabilities, Alpha Delta Chapter hopes that in the years to come it will be able to expand its field of activities and thus continue to hold true to the spirit of its founding fraters, who said, "...in order to maintain and perpetuate the principles embodied in our name, friendship, brotherhood, and mutual aid from the beginning to the end, (we) uphold the highest standards of our profession, (and) provide for ourselves the pleasure of universal brotherhood..."

Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity, founded at the University of Michigan about November 15, 1882, is the oldest dental fraternity in existence. Charles W. Howard, Louis J. Mitchell, Clarence J. Hand, Ezra L. Kern, Louis Manning James, Lyndall L. Davis, and Francis E. Cassidy are considered the "founders," and this date is celebrated as "Founders' Day." The Committees on Constitution and Rituals did not complete their work until March 5, 1883, at which time their works were officially adopted. This date is regarded as "Organization Day." Shortly after Organization Day, Charles P. Weinrich, Donald D. Magill, and William Cleland were taken into membership. The latter was the first to actually receive the initiatory exercises. These ten men, who were members during the first school year of the existence of Delta Sigma Delta, are considered the "Charter Members."

This Fraternity was the first Greek letter society to restrict its membership to students in dental schools or practitioners of dentistry.

On February 23, 1884, the Fraternity established the Supreme Chapter, the graduating Seniors of that year becoming the Charter Members. They elected the first Supreme officers on March 7, 1884, as follows: L. M. James, Supreme Grand Master; L. L. Davis, Supreme Worthy Master; D. D. Magill, Supreme Scribe; C. P. Weinrich, Supreme Auditor; L. L. Mitchell, Supreme Pages; C. J. Hand, Supreme Tyler. These officers together with E. L. Kern, William Cleland, F. R. Carson, and F. W. Temple, were the Charter Members of the Supreme Chapter.

Psi Omega was founded at Baltimore College of Dental Surgery on June 8, 1892. From a membership of 200 in 1895, the fraternity has grown until today it is the largest of all dental fraternities.

The government of the fraternity is through a triennial convention called the grand chapter, with a recess administration by a board of officers called a supreme council.
Xi Psi Phi was founded at Ann Arbor, Michigan, on February 8, 1889. The name given the organization on its founding was Delta Beta Gamma, these letters signifying "Dental Brothers' Guild," but this name was later changed to Xi Psi Phi and the motto adopted was "Even-handed Life Clan."

Soon another chapter was founded at Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, and four other chapters were organized in quick succession.

The supreme chapter was soon brought about and its first meeting was held in Buffalo in 1901. Since that time the fraternity has expanded and is one of the nation's leading dental groups.

SPORTS . . .

Throughout the school year, the dental students take advantage of every opportunity to participate in athletics. Because their time is somewhat limited, the program is not too varied, but the tournaments and events which are held all meet with an excellent response.

Highlight of the dentists' year in sports came during the basketball season. The "Dental Dribblers" were the undisputed champions of the campus intra-mural league, completing their season with an unblemished record, sparked by the stand-out play of Bob Cost.

In addition to basketball, the students participate in organized softball and golf tournaments. As this issue of the Campus goes to press, competition in both of these events is in progress.

Softball is played every Saturday morning at Piedmont Park. Five teams—Psi Omega, Xi Psi Phi, Delta Sigma Delta, and the freshmen and sophomore classes—are competing for the trophy which will be awarded to the winning team. Last year's league was won by the Psi O's, behind the pitching of "Plug" Harris and Jack Vogel.

The annual golf tournament is divided into flights, according to handicap scores. Trophies are awarded to the winners in each flight. Sophomore Bert Erwin stroked his way to the title in last year's championship flight.

FRIENDS
THIS MOTTO has been the inspiration of countless dental surgeons entering practice. It suggests giving — not only specific treatment as required — but also sound advice on oral hygiene, by teaching correct brushing technique, and by counseling on the choice of toothbrush and dentifrice. You can suggest Pycopay Toothbrush and Pycopay Powder to your patients with full reassurance, since they are recommended by many dentists and are always promoted in a strictly ethical manner. The Pycopay Brush conforms to the highest professional standards: a desirably small head, with two rows (6 tufts per row) of fine, firm, natural or nylon bristles. Pycopay Tooth Powder, accepted by The Council on Dental Therapeutics, is formulated to remove surface stains safely with minimum abrasion, leaving the mouth clean and refreshed.

Naturally you want to be a success... to establish a reputation for practicing better dentistry... to earn a higher than average income. And, like the majority of leading dentists in America, you want to be a success from the time you start practicing. That is where the Ritter Company, makers of the world's finest dental equipment, can help you as it has helped thousands of others. Ritter can help you plan now—TODAY—for Dental Leadership TOMORROW.

For example, here is a series of Ritter booklets that successful dentists are using everywhere to increase their earnings. Ask for them.

“Dentistry’s Future.” What are your chances? Are there going to be too many dentists? How can you handle enough patients to earn a high income? This gives the answers to these, and many more vital questions. “Ritter Practice Building Studies.” There are six. You'll want to read them all. They tell you why and how the leading dentists are making more money. We would like to call your especial attention to Studies 4, 5, and 6,—“The Danger Years,” “Choosing The Right Location,” and “Planning Your Stationery.” Here are practical suggestions you can incorporate in your plans right now.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THESE SERVICES, TOO
The Ritter Statistical Service will furnish the facts about the communities you may be considering for your practice. The Ritter Office Planning Department will plan every detail of your layout—including decorations. Ask about the Ritter Deferred Payment Plan that allows you to pay for your equipment out of earnings.

Success starts with well-laid plans. Let us help you start NOW.

Selecting Your Laboratory

With Dentists who know values, the primary consideration when it comes to Laboratory service is technical knowledge and skill. Reputation - "record of performance" is of utmost importance. Reputations are built slowly, over a long period of years by fine quality and superior service.

When it comes to selecting your Laboratory, the deciding factors are quality, service, prestige—and other considerations less tangible than price, but much more important.

We have been in this business thirty-seven years; this accumulated store of knowledge and experience is at your command.

DOOLEY’S DIARY
THURS., JUNE 26 . . . Perennial letter writer Jimmie Stern castigates that lazy Glee Club in Wheel. Says those nasty boys gave only two (2) concerts last year. . . . Dooley admires virtuous ad of V. H. establishment. Big Phi Delta game hunt almost nets one animal branded with the sign of the Bar #7 Ranch.

FRI., JUNE 27 . . . Dean Rece announces his housing rules . . . the good Dean says that every man living on campus will have a chance to see what stuff he is made of as a winter guest of the Emory consult to Lower Slobbovia. Randy Hayes says he just can't chew in time to those hymns the EGA plays at cafeteria . . . wants dinner music red, hot and blue.

SAT., JUNE 28 . . . Harry "The Cat" Binford ought to tell wolf girl, "Command Performance" Turner that her daily late entrance in contemporary South ain't the tremendous thing . . . Lamar Law Rest Camp requests hundred bucks for educational purposes, Jones phones proxy vote to Cobb. Pin Ball Pete Sanders says doodness dwachus, what will Kelley say when he gets back . . . request granted.

MON., JUNE 30 . . . Edith Russell writes play . . . Players walk out. Dr. Dewey says show must go on. . . . Dooley knows this means Russell's play. Rece issues statement through mouthpiece Kendrick — Bottles found after Dental School Stunt Night only props. Dooley thinks the bottles were as full as the toothpullers when they left. . . . University goes in for summer culture in a big way.

TUES., JULY 1 . . . Dooley wants to be proctor in Petticoat Hall. MJ C says, NO! "Archbishop" Cobb thinks he should have the job . . . that man Brown, Odell, that is, begins campaign to Christianize them gals. Girls don't want to be saved by the Brown method. Addie Mae Page approached by a man . . . Kendrick involved. Lorentzen posts flowery epistle on P. H. bulletin board . . . wants girls to eat at Pike house. Dooley allows as how womanhood is undermined enough already.

WED., JULY 2 . . . Unidentified Council member says players could solve problems by scheduling plays for a whole year, but Miss Russell "she don't get this year ahead stuff so well." Pink Sheet Fishburne News appears to compete with conservative Wheel. Dooley in prankish mood helps the pink sheet scoop the silly white one.

THURS., JULY 3 . . . Tom Fulton and his Fred become separated in Grill line . . . touching reunion scene. KA Phi Delta relations greatly improved since KA's pledge guy called Dick Fraser. Dooley don't know, but bets ATO chapter discussion was: HOW, OH HOW? can we bludgeon someone into taking a pledge pin.

FRI., JULY 4 . . . All-day parties scheduled for Maxie's #1 call off. Fine old tradition of attending classes on the Glorious Fourth must be observed. Everyone highly TO'd . . . Beth "Firecracker" Johnson returns to take over the Wheel. "Laughing Boy" Fulton influenced to appoint cute blonde Frances Mashburn in Beth's stead. For Iffy . . . Beth battered, cries. "What the h____, I won." Boys at #7 bowl.

SAT., JULY 5 . . . Dooley has limp. Attends midnight vespers (these preachers keep late hours) in Barracks "C". Couldn't resist singing of "Shall We Gather at the River" and piped. EISA calls prayer meeting for soul of one Landon Lindsay, lately departed for the fuller life of the Sigma Chi heaven.

MON., JULY 7 . . . Glee Club friends on Wheel staff request Dewey to start rehearsals of "The Vacant Chair" in honor of Council members vacationing for summer. Dooley visits Retonga factory on secret mission for Al Foster . . . "Gue Ball" thinks he would look purty with hair. He tries Retonga on recommendation of high university official.

TUES., JULY 8 . . . Aronin tells Childs, "We'll never spend all the Wheel money I'll bring in." . . . Battle asks, "Where's the money?" Dooley knows Aronin forgot to send out the bills. Dooley wonders what happened to traffic ticket "On-the-Spot" Johnson gave Law Prof. Culp. . . . The professor declined the honor. Dooley hears ticket got all mixed up "going through channels" and gave up . . . Dooley says he'll try same thing if caught.

WED., JULY 9 . . . Thomas tells McKenzie ten good reasons why he shouldn't be editor of Campus . . . The Boss ain't so hot; Dooley can think of fifty. Tot Jackson celebrates having a date, they decide to be beavers and build dam under bridge . . . Dooley thinks that Tom probably built Boulder dam.

THURS., JULY 10 . . . Dooley interviews "Silent" Mew on scientifically filled Coke machines that run out when a student arrives. Bob and Betty Marker, living in Nixon mansion for summer, get phone call from Henry Grady asking for "Ray." "Strong Boy" McLean runs around the law . . . He don't believe in no law—nor haircuts.

FRI., JULY 11 . . . Fraternities announce pledges. Beth

"The FREEMAN name reflects good taste"
Columnist Harry Binford's opinion of Editor Rhea Eskew

Johnson waits outside ATO house to interview whole pledge list—One—Dooley thinks Dick Staufferman should join Foreign Legion ... only he and Dooley show up for big AVG meeting. Dooley learns that F. M. enters Ala. Hall ten minutes after curfew. ... Mrs. Chick wonders how Franny did it, and Dooley wonders who picked the lock for her—Johnny Norman or Hank Morrow?

Sat., July 12 ... Sigma Chi's extend EISA a mass bid ... Jim Duval only takes this time. Dooley puzzled over Ed Branan and Boss Thomas getting so chummy ... so he starts investigation of his own. Freeman Slaughter hears that AEU is going to tap sometime soon ... Dooley sees him in jewelry joint pricing chains.

Mon., July 14 ... Rumors are circulating around campus that two bad boys from the Delta Tau Delta abode shot away every blasted street light on campus several nights ago. Morton Sanford Reichart organizes vigilante committee. Says Morton, "Them nasty rats ain't going to get away." ... King of the Hells. Gene Caverly, goes before Traffic Court. Seems Gene scratched tail right through a stop sign. Gene says the Traffic Court has no conception of the problems of the Jell Age.

Tues., July 15 ... Baldly Hale promises to cancel all cuts for Wheel staff members if they will pick Susan "Homestead" Pope as the Wheel girl.

Wed., July 16 ... Dooley is broke and tries to find someone to buy him a beer at Moe's and Joe's. Guess who does it—Mrs. Chick. Emily McNelly gets picked up by a professor and they wind up at the same place. After the first round who should show up but Dean Reace and Marella Walker. They leave Moe's at 11:59 p.m. and come back to campus and drive backward all over the place. Dooley says people is human.

Thurs., July 17 ... IFC starts working on rush rules again for the—well, how many times is it? Dean Purks terms fraternities rush week attitude as one of "servile obsequiousness." Now what the hell, says Dooley, things is getting bad when the Deans start using them kind of words. ... Martha Williamson thumbs her nose at the Traffic Court and gets suspended for remainder of the quarter.

Fri., July 18 ... Frank Collins and his symphonette take out a patent under name of "Emory's Amalgamated Conglomeration of Players of Symphonic Tidbits." They immediately give under contract to Maxie's. ... Why all the sad women on campus, Dooley wonders? It turns out that Zeke "Sexy" Smith is going to be absent over the week-end. Other campus beau brummel wonder what Sexy has there ain't. Dooley knows but John McKenzie has told Dooley that he can't be nasty like he was in the 1947 Campus.

Sat., July 19 ... Dooley hears that SAE's are starting a dairy in their backyard. Dooley cautions SAE's and says it's easy enough to clean off a concrete lion, but what about a live hunk of feminine bovinity. ... Statistics show that liquor sales were up 281.17% last week-end. Phi Delta Theta Southern Regional Conference in Atlanta, the further breakdown of statistics show local brothers were responsible for 281.179%. Further breakdown shows that one local brother was responsible for 281.179%. Dooley ain't talking.

Mon., July 21 ... Old wooden gym gets the axe. President White yields a wicked axe and shows that he's ever get kicked out of his job he could pick up beer money as rail splitter. ... Lern Edmonson and Doug Moore give concert in Glenn Memorial Auditorium. Dooley agrees with Doug that when you can't sing well you ought to stop loud.

Tues., July 22 ... Dr. Dewey gives test. No one makes over F. ... Dr. Dewey claims he is a failure and Dooley agrees. Dr. Dewey and Ralph gear mad with Dooley ... Nurse in maternity ward asks Tom Fulton why birth announcements are run on sports page.

Wed., July 23 ... Flying saucer scare takes back seat when Emory model airplane fad returns. Stanley Jones thinks these model airplanes are some sort of secret government weapon against flying discs. Dooley says he don't have time to worry about it one way or the other.

Pin Ball Pete Sanders gets we'd off with Kingfish Thomas and tells him to quit cursing the darkness and light a few candles. Dooley says someone's got to teach Russell how to light a candle first.

Thurs., July 25 ... Dooley arises from his satin and sequin sack to attend the Sigma Nu Japanese Frolic held on the lawn of #1 He partakes of refreshment to the accompaniment of Shinto Priest Graham Jackson. Dooley spies a sovereign in the grass and finds that all that glitter is not Marchman.

Fri., July 25 ... Dooley eats steak with Sportsman Owen and the Sigma P's. ... While trying to light a cigar at the AEPi smoker, Dooley burns US Stern's nose. ... On the return journey he catches Warren Shattuck pinning somebody somewhere.

Sat., July 26 ... Up early to have pasteurized bugs at Men's Grill with Carousellers Morrow and Broid. ... Dooley has a late date with Virginia Highland but gets a ride in Gene Welden's Black Bullet—no suds.

Mon., July 28 ... Dooley decides to write essay on "Rawness" and calls on "Mr. Contemporary South" for help in this project; gets lecture on merits of the "Telfair System." ... Attends meeting of Traffic Committee, hears Prof. Artmunn suggest placing "No Exit" signs at all roads leading from campus.

Thurs., July 29 ... Major Pendleton tells Dooley that all dawgs must get out of them trailers. So Dooley tucks his tail and slinks over to see Pills Farris. Farris gives him a box of white ones and tells him to come back tomorrow for the pink ones.

Wed., July 30 ... Florence Nightingale home to help his rescue and says we don't have no Rocky Mountain fever in this clay hills as Dooley crashes a tick with his left elbow. ... Beasty weather ... Dooley looks around for Mermaid Newton to go for a swim—he can't be found. Shea says he's gone wading at some girlie camp.

Thurs., July 31 . . . While fleeing toward the cafeteria, Dooley bumps into Miss Shen Chang and they converse in Sandscape. Dooley asks Miss Chang to have some Chop Suey—Chop, Chop. . . . Dooley drops the subject as a bevy of belles from the treasurer’s office hove into view.

Fri., August 1 . . . Psycho-analyst Workman causes minor upset in capturing faculty golf championship—“athletes for all,” says de COACH, beaming. Dooley forthwith enters the Silver Pinball Fray and draws “Call Me Jim” Douglas as opponent. Both are beaten by a high school kid. This gives Dooley a Payne.

Sat., August 2 . . . Dooley sees “Girl of the Week” Turner being pursued across the quadrangle by the faculty. Watch and Ward Society. Jurassie Martin leads the pack, but gives up the chase and goes out for one with Omar (Minerva) Bradley. . . . Rumor to the effect that Tom Jackson got real brave at last Council meeting and said “We don’t ask the Wheel, we tell the Wheel,” is being tracked down by Dooley.

Mon., August 4 . . . Wheel announcement that Al Foster and Sam Cobb are going to attend conference at University of Wisconsin. Dooley hears Al’s many (?) friends (?) make sneering remarks about his getting another free vacation, but Dooley thinks that Al must be pretty smart. There aren’t many that have done so much with so little. . . . A third delegate will be selected and Dooley hears that Frank “St. Louis Boy” Steinbruegge will show up and champion cause of Bob “Chicago Boy” Welch. (Dooley’s note: You gotta watch these damn Yankees.) Phi Delts expect this to be the start of a brilliant political career for their boy Steinbruegge.

Tues., August 5 . . . Monday night gossip from Moe’s and Joe’s leads Dooley to believe that Carpetbagger Thomas is making the SAE’s toe the line in their KA witch hunt. What Dooley would like to know is what the Carpetbagger has on the SAE’s that makes them genuflect every time they pass the Phi Delt House.

Wed., August 6 . . . In connection with this same witch hunt it seems that the Carpetbagger is having trouble in convincing Sam “Lieutenant” Smith (he’s suspected of having Confederate leanings) that he should investigate. Perhaps Dooley should say what all this is about. The Carpetbagger is using both of his stogies Eddie Bramen and George Bryant to press charges against the KA’s for allegedly having obtained illegally a rush list for the Fall quarter.

Fri., August 8 . . . Dooley decides to rove in the country and take in the Kegga Ales barn dance. Helps Pat Miller revive Betty Hitz after second square. Dooley rides back with Jell Caverly who leaves two inches of rubber on road scratching off.

Sat., August 9 . . . Dooley goes uninvited to East Lake for Cay Greene’s luncheon. Ignored by the dowagers and bride-elect he plays the nineteenth hole with Louis Fitz-simmons and Bob Dell. . . . Boss Thomas packs up Dooley and others lor picnic at Walter (Diamonds in My Hair) Thomas’ country “place.”

Mon., August 11 . . . Dooley watches Chi Phi’s trounce TEPhi’s for softball championship. Writes story for Wheel but Ed Waits gets the by-line. It was too much Stafford and Cunningham for Bossen’ Boys to overcome.

Tues., August 12 . . . Dooley interviews Housing Manager Major Pendleton about installing fire extinguishers in Mudville apartments. Marine Tuffic Pendleton says, “In case of fire, let ‘em jump.” . . . To cool off Dooley drops over to the Delicatessen (?) and there talks over the female field with Murphy and Dicus. Moe shakes them at a quarter ‘til . . . back to Anatomy 000.

Wed., August 13 . . . Dooley reclining in the Dobbs penthouse watches George Cooper lead a spirited faculty team to victory in playoff with Phi Delts. Rucker Ginn led the losers to inglorious defeat. Trapper Freeman started a rally with a beautiful swan dive through the net. . . . No avail.

Thurs., August 14 . . . Dooley gives first aid to Jim Douglas who is shocked when lightning causes Horton’s gaming device to TILT. . . . They dang AEU’s pass Dooley by again—hits de thud time since de late unpleasantness.

Fri., August 15 . . . Dooley gets to the auditorium early for the choral contest, but Dewey won’t let him sing—Helen Knox (I can’t hear a thing, but oh, you kid, my adjectives) Spain chooses the Harrison Reeves ATO for the prize—a chocolate cake (ugh) and a trophy. They sing, “The Jewel Song,” but the coloratura was ragged as hell . . . paging McDonald.

Sat., August 16 . . . There is a bright spot for the night. Miss Micky Kent is selected as “Cotton Queen” at Nurses Ball. Moff Kendrick, Tom Fulton’s boy, gets to escort her and Dooley settles for Miss Scarlett O’Hara of Tara.

Mon., August 18 . . . Dooley goes into hibernation—studying for exams.

Two weeks later . . . Grades come out. Dooley has flunked his exams. How in hell you think he’s stayed around so long?

Summer has ended—can Fall be far behind?

FALL QUARTER

Sept. 19-21—Rush Week . . . Alabama Hall off limits to everyone except freshmen and proctors. The Big Shot Phi Delt tells Dooley he saw one of those Nasty Proctors walking into Moe’s with three freshmen. Dooley’s bones clank as he cringes over such news and says Sam Cobb wouldn’t pull a trick like that. Brave freshman tells Dooley he wishes the boys would wipe the CS grins off their faces . . . he’d like the nake dtrith, but Dooley says you can’t teach an old dog new tricks. Dooley suggests censor for rush week skits . . . even some sixteen-year-old blushed. Dooley says don’t fight boys, there’s enough to go around. Sure enough, everybody gets a bid except the pledges? Brothers say shut yo’ little motif. Foster Bullard can’t make up his mind between ATO and SAE. . . . decides to wait a spell. 456 freshmen start for home. . . . Dooley wonders how many will be back Monday.

SAT., SEPT. 27 . . . Freshmen start rolling trashcans down sacred halls of ole Alabama. . . . Dooley says ain’t tese freshmen mischievous and rolls one himself. Council meeting was rough, Dooley learns . . . seems ELSA don’t want to lose identity by sponsoring dance with Council and Wheel . . . aesthetic side of Wheel staff revealed—they decide to sponsor a beauty contest.

MON., SEPT. 29 . . . 455 frosh return and start asking wheren’hell is 1947 yearbook? Dooley thinks it ain’t none of their business, but he wonders wheren’hell it is. Dooley interviews Major Pendleton, major domo of Lower Slobbovia . . . Major says life is wonderful for residents of that fabled land . . . like living in the garden of Eden—everything except Eves.

TUES., SEPT 30 . . . John McKenzie takes credit for some sage advice. Thus sayeth John—Freshmen with History 101 on schedules advised to transfer to U. of G. immediately. Dooley says those high school jells gotta go to school on Saturdays.

WED., OCT 1 . . . Those magic (for some) letters DVS used to quiet Bobby Forbes when he became obnoxious. . . . Dooley hears this is often. Sam Smith wants everybody to sign Honor Code. . . . Dooley starts search for White quill and two witnesses.

THURS., OCT 2 . . . Beth Johnson tips Dooley off on love life of Wheel staff . . . Dooley thinks this more interesting than stuff they print. Carrot Top says Kendrick has succumbed to ESM T*0%1*0#N . . . not soft-hearted Moffett. . . . Dooley says maybe Beth just loves a LOVE story.

A Record of Unselfish Service

Twenty-five student generations of non-profit service to the Emory family, by and from Emory men and women.

The four university enterprises listed below are operated for the benefit of the student body. They are non-profit and sometimes not even self-sustaining. In these difficult times they may frequently be long on problems and short on solutions. They ask your patience. They deserve your patronage.

The Cafeteria has been completely renovated and expanded as of January, 1948.

These service enterprises compare favorably with those in any school in the country.

Fri., Oct. 17... Curtis Tillman is sho 'nuf a fast one; initiated Tuesday, buys pin Wednesday, pins girl Friday. Dooley says ATO's ain't so hot... whatcha do on Thursday, Curtis?

Sat., Oct. 18... Dooley presents a CLASSROOM CLASSIC: It seems a journalism prof, with Mona Lisa moustache, relinquished the floor to a student, initials Worth McDougald, for an oral report. The prof sat down by an open window. As the student spoke, a dog barked sharply outside the window; the student turned, "Did you have a question, Mr. Baskette?" (Dooley says we gotta get the faculty interested in the CAMPUS.)

Mon., Oct. 20... Wheel has lots of news... Jack Dougherty named prexy of ODK... let's go Sigma Chi. Look out, says Dooley, ain't no use in knocking everybody down. Oscar Adams gets mad at editor of Tom Fulton's paper... Oscar says IFC is NOT a weak sister. Yes? I've said it and I'm glad... so there.

Tues., Oct. 21... Unscrupulous character listed as R. J. Thomas is roughly handled by traffic court... Dooley wonders if it could be Russell Thomas of the West Palm Beach Tom Asses. IFC takes 75 minutes to fine Sigma Nu's five bucks... Dooley says he can wait.

Wed., Oct. 22... Binford and Morrow explain coke hierarchy... four-coke-man is loyal but one-coke-man is a Benedict Arnold. Big collaborationist dance (Wheel, EISA, SAC) thrown last week. Dooley says EISA only ones who got thrown. Phi Delts with sawwhaif partner with Scott cutties in fashion show.

Thurs., Oct. 23... SAE luck continues in football as they lose to Newt Turk's outfit. The KA's had always thought Morris Webb a gentleman but in today's game found out he was from the wrong side of the tracks. Dooley is feeling low today... must be the heat.

Henri Freeman starts his quarterly project—translating Dr. McLean's feudalism lectures into Sanskrit. . . . Dooley hopes they will now be interesting.

Sat., Oct. 25 . . . Stratton Story nursing a shiner . . . baby sitting gets rougher and rougher. Sees Joe Dean cavorting around, elections must be just around corner . . . after all, Dean does begin with a "D". . . . Dooley says as a student he ain't voting since students don't vote.

Mon., Oct. 27 . . . EISA keeps quiet at Council meeting, but C. Anderson and R. Thomas tangle over 1947 Campus . . . Anderson calls Thomas . . . Mr. Thomas and Thomas says he wants to be called Russell. Dooley knows who Cary was stooging for but he ain't telling. SAE's have somebody named T. V. Smith for lunch. . . . Who is he? . . . Dooley don't know or care.

Tues., Oct. 28 . . . Phi Delt strangle-hold on Debate Forum challenged by KA pledge . . . Bob Flournoy wow of the evening . . . Last night's Council meeting talk of the campus . . . smooch-happy Kalogridis disturbed when someone invades his trysting place.

You and Emory have invested a lot of time, effort and money in your education at Emory. You can receive life-long dividends from this investment by becoming an active Emory alumnus. You will receive maximum permanent benefits from your Emory Alumni Office by making sure that we always have your current mailing address (business address, usually).

The Alumni Office maintains for each alumnus: (1) A permanent biographical record, (2) A magazine published 10 times a year, to herald your achievements, (3) Alumni clubs throughout the nation, so you can keep in touch with your friends.

This Office is your lifetime home on the campus, ready to serve you at a moment’s notice, or with no notice at all.

Emory has invested two times more money in your education than you have.

Emory is a philanthropic enterprise. You have been the beneficiary of gifts dating back to 1836.

Emory invites you, as an alumnus, to join in the further development of the University. Your responsibility is to help assure a high-quality education to coming generations.

You can do this by taking part in the activities of the local Emory Club in your home town, by voting in the annual alumni elections, by contributing to the University your ideas and your talents as often as possible.

JOIN WITH YOUR UNIVERSITY AND LET'S MAKE THIS A BETTER WORLD THROUGH BETTER EDUCATION FOR THE YOUTH OF TODAY AND TOMORROW.

THURS., NOV. 6 . . . Last week’s Wheel pays Council a compliment. Kendrick says he did not have a thing to do with it . . . Wheel announces class schedule for Religious Emphasis Week. Dooley happy that he won’t have to get up at 5:30 a.m. to make 7:30 a.m. class. Until a really Christian class schedule was announced Dooley was determined to remain a heathen.

FRI., NOV. 7 . . . Wheel says vote NO on amendment. Dooley knows that is enough to make students vote YES. . . . Dooley says if law of averages is even 5%, operative half of next Council will be SAE’s. The whole damn chapter is running . . . Dooley’s prediction: Jimmy Douglas will be elected to Student Council. Jimmy listed his activities as football, volleyball and PINBALL. Dooley knows that when you’ve got the pinball boys behind you, you’re in.

SAT., NOV. 8 . . . Dooley suggests that Moe’s and Joe’s send CAMPUS a check for $500 to cover all the free advertising in Dooley’s Diary. . . . WINTER QUARTER

THURS., JAN. 1 . . . It’s New Year’s Day and Dooley says
he refuses to go back to classes tomorrow.

MON., JAN. 5 . . . Dooley thinks that he would not have had this hangover if he had gone back to dear old Emory when we was supposed to . . . Johnny Norman still suf-ferring, looks at Douglas and allows as how he has seen better heads on beer.

TUES., JAN. 6 . . . Cubedge Snow who made three A’s his first quarter has decided that three B’s will suffice for the second quarter. The reason; a little hunk of femininity called Edith will be here in Nurses School. Cub-edge, who is a little on the Scotch side, thinks that this is all fine but is worried about all the cokes he will have to buy Edith.

Wed., Jan 7 . . . KA’s let Sigma Chi’s sock them all

Wed., Jan. 11 ... More soon—or is it worth it?

Thurs., Jan. 15 ... Wheel comes out and Emory students eagerly turn to back page to read John McKenzie's weekly gossip column on what John McKenzie does when he's not writing John McKenzie's weekly gossip column.

Fri., Jan. 16 ... Fraternity men (except the Sigma Chi's) don't like The Reverend Referee Sam Laird's calling of fouls. One comment: 'He follows the Ten Commandments too damn closely.' ... The experts at the Sig house begin to wonder what happened to the team of Lindsay, Bynum and Hamner. Trouble seems to be that Lindsay can't take heckling. Says one Sig: 'He's a damn good athlete, but he just can't hit the basket—let's give him the gate.'

Sat., Jan. 17 ... Delta Tau actives defeat pledges in annual Toulette Bowl game. The score was 10-2 and the field was muddy. ... Dean Watford is up the well known estuary without the even better known paddle. It seems that his beloved, his very own, can't come up this week. The reason—she's done got married. (Dooley's note: The perjury of womankind continues to confound me.)

Mon., Jan. 19 ... Item sent to Dooley by one of Spud Jackson's admirers: Spud is a great guy—if you don't believe it just ask Spud. ... New officers of "E" Club announced: Hugh Caldwell is the proxy. The others in the usual descending order are Dick "Keester" Blank and Frank "I love 'em young" Schley. Dooley hopes that under the circumstances Hugh will be able to get something done.

Tues., Jan. 20 ... Monte Lumb, when asked to give comparison of the word "ill" replied, "Ill, sick, and done for." ... Paul Spence is mourning as someone breaks the only record that he could understand—"Birmingham Jail." Paul is from Geraldtine, Alabama, outside of Governor Big Jim Folsom's culture crusade. However, says Dooley, the birth rate there is still normal.

Wed., Jan. 21 ... Harry Dicus becomes Fuller Brush salesman for Emory. Take it easy, Dike—we can organize a vigilante committee in hurry around here. ... Tiny Pennington admires his flowing locks. You will remember Tiny lost his strength in the SAE lion cage.

Thurs., Jan. 22 ... Buck Little (the gentleman from...
THE MOST PERMANENT CREATION OF MAN

A university has been called man's most permanent creation. Certainly, it is a monument to his ceaseless striving for a better life for those who will come after him. And, as permanent as its existence, is the mark it sets upon those who become a part of it.

For no student ever just "goes" to a university and then "leaves" it. Whether he likes it or not, he has become a part of a broader stream . . . he has formed an association which will last as long as his life. The stamp, not just of a university but of his university, is upon him for good.

That fact frequently strikes him as being of little importance at the time of his graduation. It is usually with the passage of the years that it begins to strike home. Then, if he chose wisely and invested his time well, he begins to recognize the dividends which are his as long as he lives.

By the same token, the mark of the man is upon the university; a school cannot escape the consequences of the lives of its students, for those lives are the ultimate test of its success.

You are not an Emory man or woman for four years, but for good!

Connecticut) is enjoying the balmy weather. But Jeff Davis speaking for the boys from South Florida, wonders why it's turned so damn cold.

Fri., Jan. 23 . . . Pikes give dance and duck dinner in honor of the Sigma Nu team that won the annual tackle game last quarter. The trophy moves to the Sigma Nu mantel for a year. . . . WCTU taps Walter Alexander while Alcoholics Anonymous are licking their chops over Sam Merrill. These organizations decided to let Johnny Norman go to hell.

Sat., Jan. 24 . . . One of the local clubs gives "Person You Will Most Likely Meet in Hell" party. Someone represents Russell Thomas with dirty tie, shirt tail out, and with mass of keys—except one. In its place was big cardboard placard reading, "Where's my ODK insignia?" . . . Campus characters: Charles "The Little Flower" Thrash.

Mon., Jan. 26 . . . Dooley has not sentimentalized over formals for the year so here goes. They have been or will be good dances. The orchid for the wettest goes to the Phi Delta. Dooley hopes that was not because DeanReceipt was there. The good dean gave his annual temperance talk a few nites later. The driest was the ATO. A feature of each dance was disgustingly brazen politicking by Sam Cobb. After he caught on Frank Steinbreugge did the same thing.

Tues., Jan. 27 . . . Orchids: Rhea Eskew and his staff have given our beloved Wheel a much needed face lifting. . . . Alonzo McDonald: The Phoenix is now a unique example of the epitome of corn and culture. Alonzo says it ain't as literary as it used to be. . . . Barbara Brooks: doing a fine job as Prexy of the Nightingales.

Wed., Jan. 28 . . . More Orchids: (Dooley was so mean last year). Little Miss Vance: She works in Major Pendleton's office—a big hunk of credit is due just for that, but she's sweet in spite of it. . . . N. D. Meadows: A fine job with the Players. It didn't take personality—it took guts.

Thurs., Jan. 29 . . . ECA election. Cobb championing the cause of the nominal fisheaters (Episcopalian), the ultra fisheaters (Roman Catholics), and others of the downtrodden masses—nows to Cary Anderson representing the entrenched interests—the Methodists. Sam Laird, the reverend, that is, allows as how Cobb did not do such a hot job with Religious Emphasis Week.

Fri., Jan. 30 . . . Joe Duke feeling out the boys on the row. Dooley thinks Joe would make a good student president, but he's already made ODK and DVS. . . . Charlie Newton, ace Emory swimmer, has developed psychosis. He has installed aquariums all over his room. His roommate sends him to confer with "They let me out to teach this class" Martin.

Sat., Jan. 31 . . . It's the last day of the month and Dooley takes a rest.

Tues., Feb. 3 . . . Jim Porter dating Sponsor Harrell
More damn tea.

Dooley heard that Jack Dougherty was paying off a debt by dating Ginger Davis . . . Dooley thinks Ginger must have lost.

WED., FEB. 4 . . . Old Maids, Pink Local #306 boycotts Davis Boling for not taking Dot Floyd to “Orchard Formal.” . . . Dooley says that Bill Tatum’s date sure was a checker player—every time he moved she jumped.

THURS., FEB. 5 . . . Seems “THE BOSS” is gonna get some new referees for basketball since the Sigma Chi’s beat the Phi Delts. Dooley pulls out his shirt and dangles his tie as he stumps from the gym.

FRI., FEB. 6 . . . Tom Jackson kicks Al McDonald’s Phoenix out of SAC building and moves EISA in . . . Dooley kicks Dick Stauverman at Dogpatch party as Majorie (Daisy Mae) Croll gets prize for best costume . . . a little brown jug.

SAT., FEB. 7 . . . Dooley visits “Walrus” Griggs on babysitting job, baby yells “I want a drink” . . . Dooley likes the idea and goes to the Shanty to see Katherine.

MON., FEB. 9 . . . Dooley hears that the Sig “Cue-ball” had a date with a Harris “eight-ball” for SAC dance . . . Dooley says he didn’t go to the ball because he didn’t have one . . . (McKenzie’s note: one what?)

TUES., FEB. 10 . . . Bogus diplomas flood the campus . . . now Sam Stiles can fix up a couple of Delta dilettantes . . . Dooley gives “graveyard” Stipe a Master’s in Confusion.

WED., FEB. 11 . . . Stukie Watson elected president of Chicken Club . . . seems he can pick ’em . . . Dooley sticks to raw oysters . . . for his health . . . The early Byrd gets the first worm . . . Bill tells Dooley that he prefers them that young . . . Dooley watches pledges Tillman and Beck have last dance at ATO house dance.

THURS., FEB. 12 . . . Sandy Pike has date (really?) with campus girl, Mary Upstart . . . Dooley thinks Waits’ marriage will ruin a nice girl’s life . . .

FRI., FEB. 13 . . . Dooley don’t dare depart from dungeon.

SAT., FEB. 14 . . . IFC formal . . . Dooley dances with all the girls Alvis Stafford used to go with . . . Gordon McAllister dates gal whose motto is “It’s better to wear out than to rust out.” . . . Dooley loves all the lovely sponsors and thinks he never saw a better crop . . . corn, that is.

MON., FEB. 16 . . . Randy Braswell stayed up all nite waiting for local politicos to get their letters in. No real surprises as Cobb, Steinbruegge, Rice, and Hale announce for student proxy race. However, a lot of people do want to know who Cobb, Steinbruegge, Rice, and Hale are. Council candidates clutter up the place.

TUES., FEB. 17 . . . Joe Richardson brags about making a hundred. Dooley investigates and finds that he did—on a pinball machine... Jim Gainey murmuring something about the birds and the bees and reeking of spring fever. Jim Veazey buys four rat traps for his room and catches five rats—a set of twins did it.

Wed., Feb. 18... Campus talk: Mr. May's lecture in Economics 205 on the economic value of the packass. After ATO formal M. J. Watts seems to have developed a taste for Olives, Olive Partie in particular. That leaves poor helpless little Mary Ann Troth—well, helpless. When Bill Van Pelt has a date, you can bet it is because some brother bet him he couldn't. Last week Bill made $27.23. Dooley hopes this won't ruin the game.

Thurs., Feb. 19... Wheel publishes letters of presidential aspirants and the boys are really masters at that art of you know what. Hale promises to change everything. Rice loves everybody—even the fraternity men. Steinbruegge cuddles up to the married folks. Cobb cuddles up to everything in 300 words of pure and unadulterated tripe.

Fri., Feb. 20... Blitch, Boling, and Boynton—the three B's of the ATO menage—take off for the weekend to LaGrange to make sociological survey of vice conditions. The implication is that the three B's are well acquainted with conditions in Atlanta... Campus characters: Mayo "Pull this frog out of my throat" Livingston.

Sat., Feb. 21... Sigma Chi Multi-Province convention is in session. It seems that some of the brothers previously known for the purity of their lives are now tinged with attle-tale gray. Among these are Charlie Meyers who 'tis said found that the fermented fruit of the vine is not without its attractions. Dooley understands this was just confirming something he found out at one of the medical fraternity houses a few nites before.

Mon., Feb. 23... Sigma Chi chapter returns to Emory campus under its alias of the Emory Glee Club. Kalaf, DuVal, and Dougherty can talk Dr. Dewey into almost anything. Dr. Dewey uses all his stock phrases and of course this year's club "is the best yet."...

Tues., Feb. 24... Dooley says let's skip over to Election Day.

Thurs., Feb. 26... Presidential primary figures up this way: Cobb, Steinbruegge, Rice, and Hale. The boys will run it off Friday, March 5. Earl Whipple and Henry Lucas, Phi Dels and not members of said club star taking heavy money on their favorite—in fact, Lucas goes wild, which makes Dooley recall an old saying, "He's got more money than sense."

Fri., Feb. 27... Yesterday's Wheel published letters from Council candidates. If possible, they were more... impossible than the letters from presidential candidates. Steinbruegge makes fatal mistake of putting his picture on election posters. Frank is pretty but he wasn't after the vandals finished with him.

SAT., FEB. 28 ... Politics gets hotter.

MON., MARCH 1 ... Politics gets boiling.

TUES., MARCH 2 ... Looks as if the Phi Delts have been deserted by everyone on the row except the Phi Delts. Sigma Chi's don't like the KA's but they like the Phi Delts even less. SAE's get tired of stooging for Phi Delts. But Steinbruegge wows the nurses, the dentists, and the medics. Gives out with fervent plea to married folks. Starts worrying about all the folks he's been mean to on Traffic Committee. Champ Tunno and M. J. Watts decide to publish scandal sheet and then decide not to.

WED., MARCH 3 ... Dooley says read March 2nd over again.

THURS., MARCH 4 ... Cobb's shock troops stay up all night putting out VOTE TODAY signs. Spud Jackson catches one of Steinbruegge's rangers covering up Cobb sign. Henry Lucas is embarrassed.

FRI., MARCH 5 ... ELECTION ... It's Cobb, president. Oh 'ell, says Dooley, he only serves for a year ... Enough for this quarter ... start studying for exams.

Students:

Many of you will wonder how the yearbook staff managed to get the wrong name with the right picture, or the wrong picture with the right name ... that is, get things all screwed up.

It wasn't easy. We had help, lots of it. It wasn't the staff's opinion that somebody else had rosier cheeks and should occupy your place. We didn't stay up nights for the sole diabolical purpose of ruining your life. Here then, is the sad, sad story:

At the time you posed for your picture you were given a number. This number was supposed to have been photographed on each negative so that it could be copied on the back of each print we ordered. Our sole means of identifying over 2000 prints was by number only. Imagine what would have happened if the photographer got the numbers mixed up. He did.

When such inadequacies of photographic performance became evident it was too late to do anything without scrapping the entire book. Maybe you feel we should have.

We believe the photographer richly deserves this public recognition. We are also interested in saving our own necks.

The Editors

P.S. — Next year's annual staff has already made other photographic arrangements.
