CAMPUS
DR. GEORGE H. MOULTON
This is Emory University—or, at least these are the fields and buildings that house Emory; for Emory itself, properly speaking, is the totality of the four thousand individuals who compose it. The school is not to be remembered for its physical setting, but for its students, faculty, and for the eventful years spent here. The task of this book, then, is the monumental one of condensing a year of Emory into a few words and pictures. Hence, the only thing that can be hoped for is that these words and pictures might convey to the reader at least a hint of some of the things here worth remembering.
This is not Emory University. It is, however, a section of the broad sky that covers this broad campus. It is a beautifully peaceful scene of the type that makes one feel like lying on his back at Lullwater Estate and taking a restful nap.
Ah, spring at Emory, when the fancy of many students turns to . . . power. So they hang out posters, which by sheer weight of numbers are sometimes seen by other students. Then some of these turn out for voting, all the campus offices are filled, the posters come down, and activity comes back to normal.
Dionysus gegen Der Gekreuzigten on Wednesday at ten. Though no accurate tabulation is available, estimates have it that Dionysus is way ahead on points. By Dionysus, is of course meant Dooley's Den, subterranean sanctuary for the anti-cleric, the thirsty and hungry, or for chronic TV watchers.
And so we begin our pictorial journey through another year in the life of Emory University. To those of us here it is a home, a place to learn, and, most important, an experience in living.

1963 Campus Dedicated to
The person to whom we have chosen to dedicate the 1963 Campus has presented us with a difficult task. The difficulty lies in the fact that the usual toll call of superlative terms seems insufficient to convey even a glimpse of the ineffable quality of the individual.

It is, then, both with pride and with humility that we dedicate this book to DR. EVANGELINE PAPAGEORGE, Associate Professor of Biochemistry and Associate Dean of the Emory School of Medicine.

Since coming to this country from Istanbul, Turkey, at the age of three, Dr. Papageorge's credentials have reached overwhelming proportions. In 1928 she received her A.B. from Agnes Scott College where she was also elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Papageorge then earned her M.S. in biochemistry at Emory the next year, and in 1937 she acquired her Ph.D. from the University of Michigan. She went on to post doctoral study at Yale as a Sterling Fellow in physiological chemistry.

Dr. Papageorge became a part of the Emory faculty in 1929, being the first full-time woman teacher ever employed by the Medical School, and she has since served that school longer on a continuous basis than any other professor, man or woman. Quite rightfully she was selected Woman of the Year in Education in 1952, and in 1956, upon her appointment as Assistant Dean, she became the first woman admitted to an administrative post in the medical school.

One could go on and on citing such things as her many articles in medical journals, the fact that she is a fellow of the American Association for Advancement of Science, a member of the American Chemists Society, and a member of Eta Sigma Phi, Phi Sigma, Iota Sigma Pi, and Sigma Zi; but there would still be something missing in this list of intellectual and professional achievements.

The greatest and most striking thing of all about Dr. Papageorge is the thing that is hardest of all to express—the immense love and respect she receives from all those who have ever known her.

It is not for we of the Campus to honor Dr. Papageorge by eulogising her in these few pages, it is rather the Campus that is honored by being able to present here a truly great lady.

Dr. Evangeline T. Papageorge

Features
The limits of their world are pink and white, implying innocence and sterility. We wait, eager to receive the people who will give us life.
The people come at all hours, for all reasons, in all moods. And they bring to us the glittering grayness which only life can bring.
The people enter to learn and sometimes to forget. Always they go someplace to find something. Sometimes they lose it there.
Primarily, they are here to learn. We cannot help them. Knowledge is a gift Given by people to people.
They find that they cannot learn by rote; that unconscious knowledge is no knowledge at all. So they vibrate a little faster, and our lights stay lit a little longer.
They study an object in a book; they learn the rules which cover its existence. They try it out in lab. Yet they are restless. There is something else which calls.
They take a "break," a Coke break, a tube break, intrinsically they are all people breaks. They can't stand to be alone.
Yet they find that people do not the whole world make. There are places and things which in their intense subjectivity, they constantly miss. Let them but open their eyes and we will show them a bountiful world.
It is a beautiful world, a world of form and design, a world where the essence is the rule. And all they have tried so hard to learn explodes in moment's glorious recognition.
There are certain people who create beauty. They give of themselves and their talents; they ask others to give of their time.
From these examples, they find within themselves, something of their own to express. There is a need to give, so they take a gamble, using their ego for the stakes.
But this in itself does not suffice, there is something greater which demands satisfaction. So they turn from within and look to others, and in this way are illuminated by reflection.
Eventually, there is one person by whom the loneliness is temporarily stilled. There comes a false security and that human phenomena which is love. For the moment the world is far away and silent.
Yet they must return always and again to that original quest, that holy search for the single tiny "i" in the word "man-kind," and the buildings watch amid soft lilts of laughter in the dark.
Dooley's
Dooley, the symbol of Emory's spirit, enlivened the campus with a whirl of gaiety last April just as he has each year since 1941.

Dooley is an Emory tradition that has been around for a long time. It is rumored that he first appeared over 100 years ago when Emory was located in Oxford, Georgia. In 1899 the skeleton wrote to the campus magazine revealing that his name was Dooley. The first Dooley's Frolics was staged in 1941, and each year Dooley appears on campus for one week—letting out classes, kissing girls, and teasing professors. The student who wears the costume remains unidentified.

Dooley is listed as a bonafide alumnus in the Emory alumnus file with the notation "deceased."

Study is impossible when Dooley arrives at the library.

Dooley interrupts classes daily.

Activities
D.V.S. the Senior Honor Society was founded on the old Oxford, Georgia, campus fifty-nine years ago; it represents the highest honor which can come to a man while he is a student at Emory University. Moreover, the Senior Honor Society has long stood for those things which make Emory a great university; the success of the university is, in a large part, the success of D.V.S.

The members of the Senior Honor Society have always observed the strictest secrecy in matters involving the society. This is done, not to be pretentious by being secret, but because the Society has always felt that its purposes might be best achieved if its members refrained from any public utterances concerning the Society or any of its activities.

D.V.S. considers for membership each man who is an undergraduate student of Emory University in the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Business Administration; because of this, little-known workers are often chosen for membership in the Society. If a man is not elected to membership at the time he is considered, his name cannot be brought before the Society again.

Never in the entire history of the Society has an individual to whom membership was offered failed to accept it. The emphasis which the Society places upon the quality of the men elected to membership can be evidenced by their successes in their student and professional lives.

In all cases, in choosing their seven successors, the members of the Society choose a man not for what he should be or might have been, but for what he is. Everything a student does to help the University, in the classroom, on the athletic field, or in student activities brings him nearer to membership in D.V.S. Each year seven men are chosen for their accomplishments, men to whom the university can point with pride and say, "These men represent all that Emory stands for."

The privilege of wearing the badge of D.V.S. is not merely a reward for past accomplishments. It is, to a great extent, a challenge to the wearer to do greater and better things for his University in the days which remain to him as a student and in the years following his graduation.
WHO, the Women’s Honor Organization, was established on the Emory campus in May, 1954; it represents the highest honor which can come to a woman while she is a student at Emory University. WHO represents those things which make Emory a great university. It was organized to recognize and encourage women students in the fields of leadership, scholarship, character, and service; to promote a closer understanding between the Administration and the students; to serve the community; and to cooperate with the faculty and other organizations of the University.

To be eligible for membership in the Women’s Honor Organization, an Emory coed must be a last quarter junior or a senior. She must have not only demonstrated the outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, and service, but also she must have fulfilled the ideals set forth in the Emory Honor Code and the unwritten standards of the Emory Woman.

Tapping ceremonies are held in the fall and spring quarters, with a public installation ceremony being held in Fall, 1962, and in Spring, 1963. The privilege of being in WHO is not merely a reward for past accomplishments. It is a challenge to the wearer to do greater and better things for the University in her remaining days at Emory.

Honorary members of WHO are Dean Nina Rusk, Miss Barbara Ames, faculty advisor, and Dr. Evangeline Papageorge.

Phi Beta Kappa, founded at the college of William and Mary in 1776, is the oldest national honorary society in the United States. The Emory chapter, Gamma of Georgia, was chartered on September 11, 1928.

The purpose of Phi Beta Kappa is to encourage learning and achievement in colleges and universities.

Based upon outstanding scholarly attainment, the range and character of courses selected, and a consideration of the moral character of the student, and his general promise to the world of scholarship, Phi Beta Kappa is bestowed upon students having a 3.5 average after their first three years in college or a 3.25 average after the fall or spring of their senior year.
Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for men, was founded on December 3, 1914, at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia.

The two-fold purposes of ODK are to honor those Emory men who have demonstrated leadership in student affairs and to serve the University. Through its annual leadership workshop for high school students and by meeting on a common plane with members of the faculty and administration to solve mutual problems, ODK performs a valuable service for Emory.

ODK honoris causa members are Joseph M. Conant, Charles N. Watson, Richard H. Rich, Alton V. Hallum, Elbert P. Tuttle, and Dr. A. C. Clement.

Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, founded at Emory-at-Oxford in 1906, is the lower division honor society. Patterned after Phi Beta Kappa, AEU recognizes scholastic achievement among freshmen who have a 3.5 average at the end of their third quarter and sophomores who have a 3.25 average at the end of fourth or fifth quarter. Moral character and promise of a contribution to the world are also requirements.

Each year on Honor's Day, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon presents an award based on scholarship, leadership, devotion to Emory to the outstanding student in the lower division.
The purposes of Eta Sigma Psi are to create within the students of the lower division an interest in extracurricular activities which are beneficial to the University and to honor those students active in such areas.

Formed on the Emory campus in 1928, Eta Sigma Psi taps its members in the fall from the sophomore class and in the spring from the freshman class. Election to membership is based upon the leadership, character, and scholarship of the student.
The Brittain Award, named for Martin Luther Brittain, the donor of the fund, is given for meritorious service which has been performed without thought of recognition. A committee made up of the Deans of Men and Women and several faculty members review the recommendations submitted by faculty and students and decide on the recipient. In the Honors Day ceremony, when students are recognized for their achievements in the academic as well as the activities areas, the Brittain Award is presented. No one knows who the recipient is until they receive their program.

Student Government

Student Senate

David St. John, PRESIDENT

Formerly, the Student Senate is the governing and coordinating organization for the entire student body, with representatives from each of the eight schools which compose Emory University. Informally, the Student Senate is composed of many students other than elected representatives, who are active on Senate committees. According to the preamble of the Senate constitution, the purpose of the Senate is "to achieve a more perfect government, to develop the best interests of the University and to satisfy the current and future needs for control of various student activities."
The College Council is the representative governing body of the College of Arts and Sciences. Freshman members are elected in the fall and spring elections are held for the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior members. The Council is responsible for Orientation Week, Dooley's Frolics, college elections, and various social functions.

Officers are: E. Rasch, Secretary; B. Shapiro, Vice-President; B. Quillian, President; J. Kiley, Treasurer.

Women's Student Association

The Women's Student Association is the coordinating body of all women's student organizations. Its purpose is to strive to promote the intellectual, social, and spiritual welfare of all women students, as well as to establish better relations between the students, the faculty, and the University administration. All women enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Nursing, and the School of Business Administration are members.

The WSA Executive Council is composed of the four WSA officers, two representatives from each class, and the Presidents of WHO, WAA, Chorale, the Panhellenic Council, the Association of Women's Residence Hall, and the Student Body of the School of Nursing. This Council plans and promotes the various projects undertaken throughout the year, such as the Sadie Hawkins Day Race.

The members of the Honor Council are John Stone, Joe Gladden, Bruce Thompson, Bill George, John Cromartie, Howard Glover, and Alex Hinson.

Emory Honor Council

The Emory Honor Council is the administrative body of the Honor System. It is a body of students guided by faculty members which strives to maintain the highest possible standards of honor among the students of Emory. The Honor Code reads: Upon every individual who is a part of Emory University falls the responsibility for maintaining in the life of Emory a standard of unimpeachable honor. The Honor Code is based on the fundamental assumption that every loyal person in the University not only will conduct his own life according to the dictates of the highest honor, but will also refuse to tolerate in others actions which would sully the good name of the institution.

Possible violations of the Code are reported to the chairman of the Council who starts the machinery for a trial. Witnesses and suspected violators are thoroughly questioned by the Council members and faculty advisors. If a violation has been committed, the Council decides upon a sentence, varying from probation to expulsion from school.

Emory Traffic Court

The Traffic Court, organized and operated for the purpose of judging student traffic offenses, has jurisdiction over all cases of traffic violations on the Emory campus. The members of the court represent the various schools of the University and are appointed by the Deans of their respective schools. The Traffic Court is under the guidance of the University Committee of Traffic and Safety.

The members of the Traffic Court are, Standing: Evan Henderson, Lynn Downey, Jim Thomas, Bill Walker. Seated: J. Giesler, Sherry Barger, Richard Morthland, Gidget Flanagan, and Kelly Kidd.
Women's House Council

House Council is a self-governing organization of the undergraduate women's dormitories. Executive Council, working in cooperation with Dean Rusk and the Housing officials, operates as the coordinator for the five separate residence hall councils. The officers of Executive Council, including dorm presidents, are elected in a mass meeting, and one representative per floor is elected by floor meetings. The councils, advised by Mrs. Moore, handle all minor rule violations and social events, such as exam break parties. They refer all special conduct cases to Executive Council.

The men's residence halls are governed by an organized student government under the guidance of Mr. Harry W. Cannon, Jr., Director of Men's Housing. Each hall has its own council, consisting of a Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Treasurer, Secretary, Social Chairman, and Sports Chairman. Officers are elected each fall by the hall residents. The Council enforces housing rules and sponsors break parties and sports competition between the residence halls. Ex-Officio members of the Council are the Resident Counselors, members of the university's staff, who live in the dorms and act as liaison between the student and the administration.

Men's Residence Hall Council

Dorm Governors are: front, B. Miller, and B. Pannell; back, J. Seale and W. Ashcraft.

Longstreet Hall Counselors are: L-R: D. Findley, G. Small, B. Chase, P. Longford.
Student Center Board

The Student Center Board is the governing body for Emory's newly founded Student Center in the Alumni Memorial Building. The purpose of the Center is to foster and centralize the cultural, social, and religious growth of all Emory students. For equal representation the Board is made up of members from each of the schools, the administration, alumni, and a director. The Board functions through committees made up of volunteer students interested in the various phases of the Center's operations.

Student Development Committee

The University, in making a continuous effort to improve and increase the quality of its program and the amount of its service, needs the benefit of student opinion and advice. The Student Committee on Development is one important means toward these ends, for it can serve as a primary means for communicating to the student body as a whole the inside story of Emory operations and its hopes and plans for the future. As a group of leaders on the campus participate in this effort, these leaders pass on to the rest of the students the information, ideas, and ideals which will benefit the entire University.

The Emory Wheel edited by Bob Chambers, began its 44th year of publication in September. Throughout its life span, "The South's Most Independent Collegiate Newspaper" has, because of its outspoken editorials, become the center of controversy many times. It has led successfully many crusades for the betterment of the University, although some of the reforms which it has long supported have gained support only recently.

The Wheel has been awarded the All-American rating, the highest recognition given by the Associated Collegiate Press, twenty-two times since 1937.

Published every Thursday during the school year, The Wheel is distributed free to members of the University community.

The South's oldest collegiate magazine, now in its 75th year of publication, was headed again this year by Editor Bill Hedgepeth. The magazine, classed as literary-humor, presented the best obtainable campus short stories, as well as a multitude of the ever-popular humorous articles. The Phoenix seeks to serve a two-fold purpose: first, it acts as an outlet for Emory's creative talent through which national literary or artistic recognition may be gained, and second, it acts as a source of entertainment for the members of the University.

The Phoenix is an important representative of Emory to other colleges. That it is well received is illustrated by the number of subscriptions requested by college students all over the country as well as its recognition by the Associate Collegiate Press as one of the top college magazines.

Publications Committee

The Publications Committee, a committee of the Student Senate, aids the Emory publications in a financial and advisory capacity. It appoints the editors and business managers of the Campus, the Wheel, and the Phoenix. It is composed of Senate members from each school and the advisors and editors of each publication.

Pi Delta Epsilon

The Emory chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, selects as its members Emory students who have displayed a high degree of interest and participation in campus publications. To be eligible for membership a student must have worked five quarters on the Campus, the Wheel, or the Phoenix and have shown interest and ability.

Members of Pi Delta Epsilon are: Bill Hedgepeth, Al Wight, Lelia Long, Saul Silverman, Dava Akin, John Findley, Bob Chambers, Claudia Bialolenki, and John Harrell.
Organizations

Glee Club

Under the direction of John Austin the Emory Glee Club has completed its forty-third year at Emory.

Fall quarter the Glee Club hosted a joint concert with the Vanderbilt Glee Club. The Club also joined with the Women's Chorale in the annual Christmas concert and in a tour of Georgia and Tennessee.

Spring quarter the annual Spring concert was held in which the Chorale and the Emory String Quartet joined with the Glee Club.

As of tradition the Glee Club closed the year with its annual banquet.
The Emory Women’s Chorale enjoyed a year of varied performances. In addition to campus programs the group made a tour through Georgia and Tennessee which included engagements in Rome, Dalton, and Chattanooga.

During the year the Chorale gave performances with visiting choral groups and joined the Glee Club in the Christmas program and in the Spring Concert.

Under the direction of John Austin, the Choral has added many new members to its repertoire and has instituted a change in style.

Officers of the Chorale are Sue Layfield, Vice-President; Judy Thomas, President; Margo Rodriguez, Secretary; and Peggy LeMaster, Business Manager.

Women’s Chorale
Circle K

Circle K International is sponsored by Kiwanis International and is affiliated with Key Club. The Circle K Club of Emory is sponsored by the Druid Hills Kiwanis Club.

The motto of Circle K is "We Build," and Circle K's express purpose is to provide service to the school and community, and, in rendering this service, to develop intelligent and interested leadership.

Circle K’s theme for 1962-1963 was "Educate for Freedom"; a theme carried out in various designated objectives. Two delegates from Emory attended the International Convention in San Diego in August. The members conducted campus tours, ushered at university programs, and assisted during registration. Each spring Circle K sponsors Senior Day which is devoted to acquainting prospective students to Emory.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, was founded at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, in 1925. The Emory chapter, Delta Kappa, was founded in 1946 and dedicated to the ideals of APO in the fields of friendship, leadership, and service.

The biggest event of the year for APO was the Pretty Girl-Ugly Man Contest in which the sororities and fraternities cooperated with APO to raise funds for charity.

Officers are Kim Kimball, Treasurer; Fred Miller, Secretary; Dan Nolen, President; Ira Pozen, Sergeant at Arms; and Perry Cohn, Vice-President.

Barkley Forum

Barkley Forum was born with the merger of the Lew Literary Society and Phi Gamma of Old Oxford in 1950; the group changed its name in honor of its most famous ex-member, the late vice-president, Alben W. Barkley. The Forum presents Emory students the opportunity to master the essentials of debating. Membership is open to anyone interested in learning to debate and especially to those planning a career in Law.

The Forum debated against many colleges and universities throughout the Southeast during the past year and participated in various competitive tournaments.

A highlight of the past year was the high school tournament held at Emory. Winners were offered debating scholarships to Emory.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club is a group of students organized for the purpose of learning more about world political affairs, believing that this is essential to a better understanding of our own country and of the world as a whole. The group is affiliated with the Association of International Relations Clubs and with the Collegiate Council for the United Nations.

Emory Concert Band

The Emory Concert Band is the first musical organization of any size at Emory in twenty years. It was formed in order to provide an opportunity for the members of the University to keep in touch with their musical interests and background. The Emory Concert Band gives informal study break concerts and has played at soccer games.

The Women's Athletic Association organizes and manages the athletic program for Emory women. The organization attempts to promote interest in athletics and good sportsmanship as well as encouraging a high level of athletic achievement. Members are chosen from each sorority and independent group on campus.

Emory Religious Association

The Emory Religious Association, the coordinating body of all religious organizations on campus, seeks to encourage the growth of religious life and its relevance to the campus community.

The official ruling body is the council, composed of representatives from all denominational groups, fraternities, sororities, and community chairman. The Reverend Sam Laird serves as advisor to the group.

The ERA with the cooperation of its affiliated groups carried out many important activities. During fall quarter they sponsored Freshman Camp, Religious Emphasis Week, a reception for foreign students, and the annual Christmas program. Winter quarter it supported Brotherhood Week and the Brotherhood Chest; spring quarter it held its twenty-fourth annual banquet and sponsored Holy Week Sermons and an Easter Sunrise Service.

The groups affiliated with the ERA are the Baptist Student Union sponsored by Mr. Dwight Pearce; Canterbury Club sponsored by Father Robert H. Manning; Christian Medical Society; Graduate Christian Fellowship; Hillel; Liberal Club; Newman Club; Wesley Fellowship sponsored by the Reverend Banks O. Godfrey; and Westminster Fellowship sponsored by the Reverend Emmett Herndon.

Membership in the ERA may be obtained by being an active member of one of the affiliated groups of the organization.

Another Great Year . . .

This year's Eagles, captained by Warren Coppedge, had the most spectacular season since its beginning in 1957 when it played GMA. This year's season was closed with an 8-2-1 record, Emory scoring 45 goals against the 17 racked up by their opponents. Bill Eager took the lead in scoring, netting 14 goals, followed closely by Richard Smith and Joe Haraszti with 11 and 7 respectively. Alex Mackinnon, according to Coach Bill Williams, was one of the best goalies in the league. The team has great potential and looks forward to another victorious year with a continuous build up in spectator enthusiasm.

Emory Places Sixth in SEC

The Emory wrestling squad is still a young, inexperienced team but tried hard to overcome this disadvantage. Emory acquired its first win in over two years by beating Pfeiffer, which closed the season with a 1-8 record. Walter Edwards, last year's SEC champion in the 137 pound class, led the team in point gathering this year as a 147 pound grappler. Edwards moved into the finals in SEC competition in the 147 pound class but suffered an injury while wrestling Maurer of Auburn and lost by decision 3-1. It is hoped that the team has established a firm footing and under the excellent coaching of Dr. Partin will have a better season next year.

Freshman Tim Scott gave a tremendous boost to the aquatic Eagles this season by being undefeated and by breaking six records. At present he holds five of the eight records in the individual events in which the team participates. Even though Emory finished the season with a 4-7 record, they made a good showing in most of their meets. Next season promises to be a good one with many planning to return for a successful season. In the meets which Emory won this season, their success seemed not to lie so much in winning all the events but in placing high in the losing events.

Eagles Post 5-8 Record

The Emory team, although tallying more defeats, played some good tennis during the season. The season was finished with a 5-8 win-lose record. The outstanding player was Tommy Purdom who collected 12½ points during the season with Bucky Mundorf collecting 8½. Other high scorers were Jerry Kaye, Bob Massey, and Jack Parker.

The 1963 squad will miss Jack Parker but Purdom, Mundorf, Kaye, and Massey will be returning. They have also acquired two good Freshmen in Buzzy McNatt and Allen Price. Others returning are Savitt, Waterman, Kohn, and McCord.

Cindersmen Win Multi-Matches

The 1962 varsity track team only turned in wins in the three and four school meets, but came very close to wins in single meets with Presbyterian and Stetson. Thus they finished the season by losing to Presbyterian, Stetson, Troy State, and Sewanee, and turned in wins against West Georgia, Southern Tech twice, and Berry twice.

The 1963 track team has started regular practice and entered its first meet of the season. The Eagles placed second to Davidson and beat Troy State. The team expects a good season with a great number of veterans returning.

Second Time for ATO

The Alpha Tau Omegas won the second time in a row by slipping past Pi Kappa Alpha 58-56 in the spring quarter track meet. Phi Delta Theta placed third with 36 points followed closely by Kappa Alpha with 34 points. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Epsilon Pi finished next with 26 and 20 and one-third points respectively. Winners of the individual events were: KA's Toole in the 60 yard dash; Nunan, Phi Delt in 440 yard; PiKA's Chadnik in the 100 yard dash; and Suttu of Phi Delt in the 220 yard run. The longest race, the mile, was won by Don Smith, an independent, while Mullis, SAE, won low hurdles; and the ATO team won the 880 yard relay race.

12-6, Magic Numbers for Sigs

Sigma Chi became champions in gridiron play for the third year by breaking a three way tie with Alpha Tau Omega and Pi Kappa Alpha. The Sigs beat both of their opponents by a score of 12-6 to cop this year’s crown and ATO went on to place second in the flight by downing the Pikes 12-6. Both games were won by Sigma Chi on pass interceptions turned into touchdowns. Sigma Nu placed fourth in the first flight.

The second flight was captured by Chi Phi when they upset the favored Kappa Alpha team. Sigma Alpha Epsilon downed Beta Theta Pi for third place. The fourth flight places were taken respectively by Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Epsilon Pi, and Tau Epsilon Phi.

ATO Leads Pack

The annual cross country meet was again captured by Alpha Tau Omega, the winner being determined by the least number of points gained. ATO earned the victory with 80 points followed closely by a tie between Chi Phi and Sigma Nu, each accumulating 82 points. Other fraternities trailing distantly in order of finish were; Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Gamma Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Beta Theta Pi. Two Fijis from Tech entering as independents tied for first, while Don Smith took second, and the first fraternity man being Ed Peterson, Sigma Nu, taking third. The winning time turned in was 11:16. AEPi Takes Cage Championship

Alpha Epsilon Pi took the 1963 championship in a breath-taking game which ended in a tie when the time for the regulation game had ended and was then carried into two overtime periods and a sudden death play. The game was finally won by AEPi by a score of 49-47 on two foul shots. The AEPis had earlier defeated SAE 48-39 creating a tie which was broken by the exciting championship game. The first flight was finished with Sigma Chi placing third and Delta Tau Delta placing fourth. The next two flights were composed of Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu, Chi Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, Tau Epsilon Phi, and Phi Gamma Delta.

Greeks
Emory's Panhellenic Council is the governing body of the sororities, responsible for setting policies and handling matters concerning the entire sorority system. The Panhellenic Council is composed of two representatives from each sorority, and the group is advised by Dean Rusk. During Rush the council decides upon Rush rules, and their enforcement, acts as counselor, and helps in matching bids. Officers of the Panhellenic Council are elected by a rotation system, with each sorority electing the girl to fill the office assigned. During the year, it sponsors several events, including the Panhellenic Sing and the Pledge dance.

Greek Week '62

Greek Week is an annual event sponsored by the Interfraternity Council, held this year during the week of October 29-November 3. During this week were held several banquets and discussions to bring together the members of the Greek world, and to further the aims of the fraternity system. A banquet was held for fraternity officers, and another for the fraternity housemothers. This year, for the first time, a Panhellenic Dessert was given for all sorority members. On Thursday night there was a banquet for all fraternity members, with Dr. Anthony Bouscaren, a nationally known political science teacher, as guest speaker. Friday night was given over to individual fraternity parties, and the week was climaxed with a concert on Saturday afternoon by the Four Saints and a dance Saturday night featuring Lloyd Price and his sixteen-piece band.

The Four Saints
Sororities
Alpha Chi Omega has members active in many of the organizations on the Emory campus. Among these are the Student Senate, College Council, Chorale, International Relations Club, the Wheel, and various religious organizations.

Individually the sisters have brought many honors to their sorority, such as the Women's Honor Organization, Eta Sigma Psi, Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, Emory Wheels, Class Officers, Stipe Scholars, Pi Sigma Alpha, Kappa Delta Epsilon, and several Miss Emory Finalists, and fraternity sweethearts.

Many social events are held throughout the year. Among these are the Annual Pledge Formal, the Spring Combo Party, Slumber Parties, the Founder's Day Picnic, the Christmas Party, Pledge and Initiation Banquets, and the fall houseparty.

Alpha Chi Omega's national service project is working with the cerebral palsied, by giving parties at the Cerebral Palsy School. The Alpha Chi's help with the cancer and multiple sclerosis drives, and give a Christmas party for orphans.

A scrapbook is an added attraction at the Alpha Chi theme party.
Alpha Delta Pi

Delta Alpha of Alpha Delta Pi had a busy and successful year. Sisters participated in many phases of campus life such as Women's Honor Organization, Eta Sigma Psi, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, Executive House Council, College Council, Student Development Committee and the Chorale.

Several honor organizations—Kappa Delta Epsilon, Pi Sigma Alpha, and Sigma Pi Sigma—tapped Alpha Delta Pi's for membership.

Other Alpha Delta Pi honors include the Kappa Alpha Outstanding Sorority Award, fraternity sweethearts and sweetheart court members, and class officers.

The national philanthropic project of the Alpha Delta Pi's is working with crippled children. Delta Alpha participates actively through its work at Egleston Children's Hospital, and by filling stockings and baskets for Sheltering Arms nursery at Christmas and Easter. ADPi's also have a ten year old foster child who lives in Greece.

The highlight of the social year is the Pledge Dance and Banquet. Other social events include teas, banquets, houseparties, picnics, and informal gatherings with Atlanta alumnae.

Epsilon Eta Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Phi has had another active and enjoyable year. Service projects such as What's Where and visits to Aidmore Hospital, social events including teas, parties, and the Annual Spring Formal, and functions with the Atlanta alumnae have fostered a strong spirit of sisterhood within the chapter.

Sisters has received many honors and participate in almost every phase of campus life. Among the honors received by Alpha Epsilon Phi's are officers of the senior and freshman House Councils, the Women's Honor Organization, Phi Sigma Iota, and Hillel. Sisters are members of Kappa Delta Epsilon, Pi Delta Epsilon, College Council, the Wheel, Campus, and the Players.
Chi Omega

This has been a fun-filled year of activity and achievement for the Chi Omegas. Sisters were members of Chorale, House Council, the Emory Players, and various religious organizations on campus, and held offices in the Student Senate, Panhellenic, House Council, and the International Relations Club.

Houseparties, slumber parties, picnics, and banquets, and teas with alumnae were among the social events enjoyed by the chapter. Highlighting the year’s activities were the fall dance given by the pledges for the actives, and the annual White Carnation Formal when the freshmen were entertained by the upperclassmen.

Sending volunteers to Egleston Children’s Hospital each week, filling stockings for Sheltering Arms Children’s Home, and giving an Easter Egg hunt for underprivileged children were the chapter’s main service projects. In addition, the Chi O's awarded an annual Social and Civic Service Prize to the senior Emory woman who was most outstanding in the Social Studies Department.

Delta Delta Delta

Alpha Omega Chapter of Delta Delta Delta has enjoyed another successful year filled with honors, projects, and activities. Sisters participated in the Players, the Chorale, the Wheel, Campus and religious organizations.

The Chapter placed first in the ATO Sweepstakes and received two national honors for scholastic achievements.

Sisters have been elected to College Council, and several class offices. They serve in the Freshman Advisory Program and as officers in the Athletic Association and Emory Religious Association.

Individual members are Stipe Scholars, members of Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, Alpha Epsilon Delta and Phi Beta Kappa, and Ford Scholars.

Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon have Tri Delta’s as sweethearts, and several fraternities have Tri Deltas on sweetheart courts.

The Tri Delta social program included a Founders Day Banquet, Pledge Formal, and a combo party.

Tri Deltas have done volunteer work with Sheltering Arms, and supply Christmas gifts to the children of a needy family.

Delta Gamma

Nineteen-sixty-three has been an activity-filled year for Delta Gamma, with members participating in the Chorale, the Psychology Club, Young Republicans, and the various religious organizations.

Throughout the year the sorority takes part in the different athletic competitions—volleyball, basketball, and swimming. In the Panhellenic Sing of last spring Delta Gamma captured second place.

Members in Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, Women's Honor Organization, and Kappa Delta Epsilon bring added honors to the sorority. Also included in the membership of Delta Gamma are the president of Phi Sigma Iota, the editor of the Campus, and the sweetheart of Chi Psi at Georgia Tech.

Foremost in the many social events are the Fall Pledge Dance, and the Spring Formal Weekend.

The Delta Gamma service project is aiding the blind, and during the year they go skating with the blind, and read to a blind student.
Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta, the first Greek sorority known among women, was founded in 1780. The sorority now participates in many campus organizations. Some of these are the Senate, College Council, Student Development Committee, the Campus, and representatives of the various religious organizations.

Sisters of the sorority have brought us honors themselves. Among these are Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Sigma Alpha, Kappa Delta Epsilon, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, Eta Sigma Psi, and Stipe Scholars. Theta’s have been Miss Emory Finalists; several Theta’s have been fraternity sweethearts, and many have been on sweetheart courts.

Socially, the Theta’s enjoy several annual events, including the Pledge Formal, the Founder’s Day Banquet, and the Pledge-Active Retreat. Other social events bring the actives and pledges together, such as the Christmas party, break parties, and the pledge kite-fly.

Theta’s projects are numerous and rewarding. Among them the most important is the Kappa Alpha Theta national project on the Institute of Logopedics. Others are filling stockings for the underprivileged at Christmas, helping at Egleston Hospital and the Piedmont Speech School.

Throughout the year the sisters of Kappa Delta sorority find themselves actively engaged in all phases of campus activities. Kappa Deltas are members of the Campus, the Wheel, College Council, House Council, the Psychology Club, Chorale, and the various religious organizations. A Kappa Delta was chosen as Sigma Nu Sweetheart, Miss Emory for 1962, and Navy Ball Queen at Georgia Tech. Other individual members have received such honors as Phi Beta Kappa, Women's Honor Organization, and Alpha Epsilon Upsilon.

Kappa Delta's social calendar included the Founders' Day Banquet, Initiation Banquet, Christmas Party, house party, and the annual White Rose Ball, and several teas.

The Kappa Delta's still find time for service activities. Their participation and help at Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children, Sheltering Arms, the Methodist Children's Home, and the Fairhaven School for Mentally Retarded Children make their chapter one of many and diversified activities.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

This year has been another busy one for the Kappas, both within the sorority and in outside campus affairs. Kappas spent many hours working in such organizations as the Wheel, the Chorale, College Council, Student Center Board, Psychology Club, and campus religious groups. Kappas were chosen to serve as presidents of the ERA, Women's Athletic Association, Student Center Board, Kappa Delta Epsilon, and Westminster Fellowship. Athletic competition found the Kappas on top in the swimming meet and the volleyball tournament.

Social activities included a Pledge Formal, Christmas Party, fall houseparty, and various banquets and teas.

In the area of philanthropy, Emory Kappa Kappa Gammas worked with the Atlanta Alumnae Association in Kappa's national project of rehabilitation, as well as sponsoring an overseas orphan and contributing to the "Eyes for the Needy" program.

Phi Mu

Alpha Phi Chapter of Phi Mu has had a busy and exciting year. Among their many social activities are included the annual spring banquet, Winter Formal, Christmas Party, and Founders' Day Banquet with the Atlanta Alumnae.

Sisters have been active in many campus organizations and hold office in Chorale, Emory Players, the WAA, and religious organizations. Also, the Phi Mus have been fraternity sweethearts, members of the sweetheart courts, and finalists in the Miss Emory contest. Last spring, Phi Mu won first place in the Alpha Tau Omega Sweepstakes beauty contest and the Panhellenic Sing.

As service projects, Phi Mus are active in four. Sisters do volunteer work at a convalescent home, Sheltering Arms, the Atlanta Girls' Club, and the Easter Seal Foundation.

Fraternities
Alpha Epsilon Pi

Alpha Epsilon Pi is the largest fraternity on the Emory campus. Within the chapter are men who excel in every phase of college activity.

Alpha Epsilon Pi ranked atop all fraternities in scholarship for the 1961-62 academic year. Contributing to this high average are three members of Phi Beta Kappa and many members of Alpha Epsilon Upsilon.

In addition to scholastics, the members of Alpha Epsilon Pi hold many campus offices, both in student government and in service organizations.

Epsilon Chapter is also proud of the fact that one of its brothers was tapped into DVS, the highest honor a man can receive at Emory.

The sweetheart of Alpha Epsilon Pi, Epsilon Chapter, also gives cause for much pride. At the national convention she was elected the International Sweetheart of Alpha Epsilon Pi.

With this brief resume of the well-rounded chapter, we present the men of Epsilon.

First girl: "Really?!
Second girl: "I've heard that before."
1962 proved another successful year for Georgia Alpha Theta of Alpha Tau Omega.

In sports the Taus took firsts in wrestling, track, and cross country as well as seconds in football and basketball.

Remaining prominent in campus activities the ATO’s hold positions on both the college and business honor councils, Barkley Forum, the Phoenix, the Wheel, and Phi Beta Kappa. There are ten ATO’s holding positions in campus politics.

Highlighting the social year at Alpha Tau Omega is the annual Orchid Formal where, last year, Miss Julie Carmichael was chosen to reign as sweetheart for the 1962 school year.
Beta Theta Pi was reactivated on the Emory University campus November 23, 1948, as a renewal of the Temple of the Sword of the Mystic Seven society, which was on the Oxford campus. Since its reactivation members of Gamma Upsilon have participated in many campus activities. A Beta is immediate past vice-president of the Interfraternity Council and, at present, a Beta serves as Director of Public Relations for the IFC. The treasurer of the Student Center Board and president of the Young Republicans Club are Betas, and the president of APO is also a Beta.

The Betas won the IFC blood drive last spring, and have participated in many other charitable endeavors throughout the year.

The high point of the year was the winning of the Dooley's Frolics lawn display last spring with a presentation of the old Indian legend, "Suttee."

On December 24, 1824, the Princeton Order of Chi Phi at the College of New Jersey, now Princeton University, making Chi Phi the first social fraternity. From that time forward, chapters of Chi Phi have been established at the outstanding colleges and universities throughout the country.

On May 17, 1869, the Gamma Chapter of Chi Phi was granted a charter, making it the first fraternity on the Emory Campus.

This year the Chi Phis started the school term in grand style by pledging a fine group of young prospects. Both the brothers and the pledges have been active in campus activities, holding positions in the Interfraternity Council, Pledge Interfraternity Council, Bench and Bar, Wheel, Alpha Phi Omega, Circle K, and Student Senate.

Chi Phi has always been an outstanding fraternity on the campus—scholastically, athletically, and socially. The Chi Phis received a scholarship trophy for the previous year, and in athletics, won their flight in softball, placed third in volleyball, placed third in swimming, and second in the cross-country race. The highlight of the year was the annual Winter Formal at which time the new sweetheart was announced.

Delta Tau Delta

One of the oldest fraternities in the United States, Delta Tau Delta was founded at Bethany College in 1858. As charter members of the National Interfraternity Conference, Delts have pioneered the improvement in many areas of fraternity life. The first to establish a national office for supervising scholarship and a field secretary system for a closer contact with local chapters, the Fraternity continues to work for the betterment of the "Greek World."

Beta Epsilon chapter, established at Emory at Oxford in 1882, is today one of the oldest fraternities on the Emory campus. This year Delts were ranked again among the top four fraternities on the "row." They were second in scholarship and took second place in the large division of the Interfraternity Sing. Beta Epsilon claims such campus leaders as the President of Phi Kappa Phi and the Vice-President of the Barkley Forum.

Since its charter was granted in 1869, Epsilon of Kappa Alpha has compiled an enviable record of achievement on the Emory campus. KA's are presently found in many campus activities and hold several positions of leadership, including the presidents of the Business School, sophomore class and Pledge IFC, as well as business manager of the Wheel and captain of the swimming team. Chapter honors this past year included a first place in the IFC Sing and a third in Dooley's lawn competition, along with a good representation in football, basketball, track, soccer, and swimming.

Old South, held in the spring, highlights KA's social calendar, which includes many long-remembered parties and rush functions.

The Phi Delta Theta national fraternity was founded in 1848 at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Georgia Beta was established on the Emory at Oxford campus in 1871 and moved with the school to Atlanta in 1915. The chapter provides for the major social, scholastic, and athletic needs of its members.

Members of Phi Delta Theta are active in all phases of campus life. They hold key offices in such activities as the Campus, the Phoenix, I.F.C., Circle K, O.D.K., and many others. The fraternity social year is climaxed by the annual Winter Formal.

Phi Dels are active in athletics, having members on the soccer, swimming, wrestling, track, and tennis teams. Phi Delt placed second over all in interfraternity athletic competition.

The Fraternity of Phi Gamma Delta was founded at Jefferson College, Pennsylvania, on May 1, 1848. Today, after one hundred and fourteen years the fraternity has eighty-eight chapters and three colonies of over 60,000 members.

Colonization is Phi Gamma Delta's means of expansion. In the spring of 1962 the Emory colony was organized. The colony held a very successful rush in the fall of 1962 and is steadily expanding. Fijis recognize that a fraternity must present a balanced program in academic, athletic and social areas. We are well represented in all phases of college life.

Highlights of the year are the Black Diamond Formal and the Fiji Island Party.
Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha is one of the oldest and largest national fraternities. It was founded nationally at the University of Virginia in 1868 and was established on the Emory campus in 1919.

In recent years Beta Kappa Chapter has been moving steadily upward on the Emory campus, and this year seems to be another very successful year for the fraternity. On Pledge Sunday Pi Kappa Alpha took the largest pledge class it has had in several years. The quality of the new boys seems to be very high, and they will add much to the fraternity in the future.

The Pikes are very active in campus organizations. Some of the activities in which Pikes hold office are the Barkley Forum, Bench and Bar, the Players. There are also Pikes on the Campus, the Wheel, and the Phoenix. In interfraternity competition last year Pikes took honorable mention in Dooley's. On the athletic field the Pi Kappa Alpha's have done very well this year. In football, Pikes had a strong team and tied for first place. In the playoff for the championship, the team placed third. In the two other big fall sports—wrestling and the cross-country, PiKA claimed third and fifth places respectively.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

The high standards of Georgia Epsilon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are still being exemplified academically, athletically, and socially—as they were when Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at Emory in 1881. Academically, they placed third for the year. Athletically, SAE participated in most varsity and all interfraternity sports, winning the softball championship. E’s on campus held positions in student government, Glee Club, major publications, and honor societies, such as DVS, ODK, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, and Eta Sigma Psi.

Fall quarter was highlighted by another top rush and the annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children. The Winter Formal made a gala setting for the presentation of the SAE Sweetheart, Gidget Flanaga, chapter favorite for the second consecutive year.

The 1961-62 school term was climaxed by SAE being named recipient of the annual Tri Delt Best Fraternity Award, a perfect correlation to SAE’s national rating as the number one social fraternity.

The highlight of the Emory year for Xi Chapter of Sigma Nu is the White Star Formal held in February. The Sigma Nus increase brotherhood the year round through nightly coffee breaks, parties on and off campus, athletics, service projects, and participation in events such as Greek Week and Dooley's.

Sigma Nu brothers are to be found in many phases of campus life, on the Student Senate and College Council, the Student Center Board and Student Development Committee, on the staffs of the Wheel and Campus, in the Glee Club and Barkley Forum, and in varsity sports.

A Sigma Nu was chosen "Outstanding Junior" last year, and other brothers received awards for their achievements.

Xi Chapter of Sigma Nu was established in 1884 at Oxford, 15 years after the fraternity was founded at Virginia Military Institute. Over 1000 Emory men have been initiated into the brotherhood of Sigma Nu through Xi Chapter.

Professor of History
Emory Wheels

Each year a number of students are chosen by the Dean of each school to be honored as Emory Wheels. To be nominated for this honor, a student must have contributed in an outstanding manner to some aspect of campus life. These students have shown representative achievement in the various fields of scholarship, sports, publications or other extracurricular organizations.

College
The program of studies in the College of Arts and Sciences was organized on the basis of the belief that man's greatest need is not how to make a living of great wealth, but how to make a life of superior quality. It was based therefore, on the liberal arts tradition, with courses offered and required in each of three great areas of human knowledge: the humanities, the social studies, and the natural sciences and mathematics. These areas correspond roughly to the need of the student to learn more about himself, his fellow man, and the world in which he lives.

Because the concern of the College is primarily with the quality of mind and spirit developed in the student, emphasis in courses is placed on basic principles and fundamental ideas. Attention is given to cause, effect, and relationships rather than to facts alone. It is believed that rigorous application day by day to the study of man's highest achievement is the most important value in a human being regardless of his calling. It is hoped that courses in such fields of study as religion, history, philosophy, mathematics, science, language, literature, and the arts will lead the student to broader vision, keener insights, greater sensitivity, deeper understanding, and a more abiding faith.

During the week the students in the College, of necessity, follow a relatively fixed pattern of classes, study, food, sleep, and an occasional moment to himself. These five pages show a few glimpses of his five-day ritual.
Housed in the Rich Memorial Building since 1947, the Business School seeks to prepare students for positions of responsibilities in business and to develop a high degree of intellectual and professional competence. The two-year program leading to a degree of Bachelor of Business Administration gives students a general view and a thorough knowledge of essential business principles.

The Dean of the School of Business Administration is Dean Guy W. Trump and the school is student-governed by the school officers, student council, and the Honor Council which are elected annually. Alpha Chi chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity and the Society for the Advancement of Management help to stimulate the students' interest in business management and to study and to educate the public in the concepts of business.

Along with the graduate program, the School of Business is thoroughly equipped to offer business administration in concordance with Emory University's traditional ideals of liberal education, scholarship, and service.
The officers of the Business School are, above, Dick Morthland, President; Dallas Gay, Vice-President; George Levie, Senator; and Gene McClure, Senator.

Business School Officers and Honor Council

The members of the Honor Council for this year are, below, Murray Harrison, Dick Morthland, Jean Mori, and Dallas Gay.
Graduate School

To enable students to further their education in the field of business administration, the Emory School of Business Administration offers a program which leads to a degree of Master of Business Administration. This program increases the knowledge of the fundamentals of business and broadens the knowledge of business theory. The graduate course uses case materials based on actual situations to prepare students for their future experiences in the business field.

The requirements needed to enter the M.B.A. program at Emory are a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, and undergraduate record showing ability to follow the graduate program, and a satisfactory score on the admission test.

Dental
The Emory University School of Dentistry came into being September 1, 1944, with Emory's acquisition of the properties and resources of the Atlanta-Southern Dental College. Atlanta-Southern had resulted from the merger in 1917 of the Southern Dental College, founded in 1887, and the Atlanta Dental College, founded in 1892.

In its 74 years of continuous operation the School has graduated more than 5,000 dentists, the vast majority of whom have lived in and contributed to an increasing level of health for the Southeast. It is fully approved by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association; and its diploma is recognized by the American Association of Dental Examiners, the National Board of Dental Examiners, and the state boards of dental examiners in the United States and its possessions.

The Emory University School of Dentistry offers programs leading to the M.S.D. degree in oral surgery, oral pathology, periodontia, orthodontia, crown and bridge prosthetics, prosthetic dentistry, and operative dentistry, besides the D.D.S. degree.

Alpha Delta Chapter of Alpha Omega Fraternity was founded in 1928 at Atlanta Southern Dental College. The fraternity's national membership has grown to well over ten thousand since its beginning in 1908 at the University of Maryland.

The chapter enjoyed a successful year, being well represented in the various activities of the Dental School. The Spring Formal provided the social highlight of the year. Cynthia Wright was selected as fraternity Sweetheart at this time. Numerous drop-ins, dances, and banquets completed the social program for the year.

Delta Sigma Delta, oldest of the dental fraternities, was founded in 1882 at the University of Michigan. In 1921, Theta Theta Chapter was organized at Atlanta Southern Dental College. The fraternity objective is to keep high standards of dentistry by inculcating in the minds of dental students and practitioners a spirit of fraternal cooperation toward scientific, ethical and professional progress.

With Pattie Schwarb as the sweetheart, the fraternity had a most successful year. Theta Theta Chapter has been quite active in school and extracurricular affairs.
Psi Omega, founded at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1892, was established locally in 1904 at the Atlanta Southern Dental College, which later became Emory Dental School.

Gamma Tau Chapter enjoyed a successful year academically, athletically, and socially, having won the Interfraternity Scholarship trophy, and placing first in the Graduate League in softball. Socially, Psi Omega held a Christmas Party, the Winter Formal and the annual Spring Barbecue.

Xi Psi Phi Fraternity was founded at the University of Michigan in 1889, and Alpha Eta Chapter was organized in 1912. This year the fraternity began a very successful year by pledging twenty-eight men during Fall Rush. Xi Psi members hold many positions of leadership in the Dental School including the presidencies of the Honor Council, S.A.D.A., and the senior, sophomore, and freshman classes.

The social calendar was headed by the annual spring formal and included a chapter party each month plus a house party during the Fall.

The Student American Dental Association is a special class of membership in the American Dental Association for students of dentistry. In the SADA, students are invited to attend meetings of dental societies and receive the Journal of the American Dental Association.

The purpose of the Student American Dental Association is to further the students’ professional training and to develop their understanding of the scope of dentistry in better meeting the health needs of the nation. The membership of the Emory University chapter is almost 100 per cent of the school’s enrollment.

The Interfraternity Council governs the fraternity system in the Dental School. As the controlling group of the dental fraternities, the Interfraternity Council makes decisions in matters of common interest, and works to promote co-operation among the fraternities. It regulates the rushing system of the four fraternities involved. Composed of representatives from each fraternity, the IFC gives a dance each winter quarter.
The Honor Council, composed of elected members of each class, serving for a four-year term, puts forth efforts to create a spirit of honor in the academic activities of the Dental School. If infraction of the standards of the honor code occurs, the council reviews the case and holds trial in attempting to maintain this stable honor system.

The Student Council functions not only in bringing the students together socially by means of a dance held during winter quarter, but also in acting as a major liaison between the faculty and the student body of the Dental School. The Student Council also promotes a better understanding and a deeper personal contact between faculty members and students by a direct interchange of ideas.

Graduate
The Graduate School was organized as a distinct division of the University in 1919. The degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Sciences have been offered since that time. Several other masters' degrees have been added since 1919. In 1945 the Board of Trustees approved plans for extending graduate instruction to programs leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in departments in which faculties and facilities had developed adequately. Training scholars for positions of leadership, particularly in education and research, is the primary objective of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Included as a part of the basic philosophy of the school are two very important concepts: 1) an emphasis upon a specialized area of study supported by a background of general education extending into graduate program; 2) an explicit concern for the ethical goals of scholarship and education which emphasize character and values typical of responsible citizens as well as distinguished scholars. Underlying such concepts is the dedication of students and faculty alike to the constant ideal of quality.

Law
The Lamar School of Law was founded in 1916, and was admitted to membership in the Association of American Law Schools in 1920. The law school is named in honor of the Associate Justice L. Q. C. Lamar, of the Supreme Court of the United States, 1888-1893. When the Council on Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Bar Association made its initial classifications in 1923, it was approved as a Class "A" School. Emory University School of Law has been approved by the Board of Governors of the Georgia Bar Association as complying with the Association's standards of schools offering legal education in the state.

It is the aim of the Law School and its faculty to give such training and instruction as will fit young men and women for the active duties of the office, the courtroom, and other legal activities related to law and government, and at the same time give them a high sense of the ethics of the profession.

DEAN BEN F. JOHNSON

The Lamar School of Law
The Journal of Public Law is concerned with law not as a closed system or an end in itself, but as a political solution to human demands. The Journal attempts to break down the barriers of legal scholarship and to expose the processes of law to the critical analysis of other disciplines such as philosophy, economics, political science and other social sciences.

William Albert Kenner Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity was established at Emory University in 1927. Since then it has been an integral part of the school. It has sought to fulfill the fraternity's basic precept: Service to the student, the law school, and the legal profession. The fraternity forms a strong bond among the different classes of the law school.

The international legal fraternity of Phi Delta Phi is the oldest existing professional fraternity in America. Phi Delta Phi seeks to instill and maintain high standards of professional responsibility and ethics, coupled with emphasis on scholarship. The fraternity annually presents awards to the outstanding freshman and the first honor graduate of the year at the Law Day banquet held each spring.
A voluntary student activity, the Case Club gives each student an opportunity to supplement his education by preparing and presenting appellate arguments before a moot court. The various teams argue a hypothetical case in intramural competition. The two winning teams argue before a bench of distinguished members of the Atlanta Bar. The winning team represents the Emory Law School in the regional arguments of the National Moot Court.

Student Bar Association

The purpose of the Student Bar Association is the promotion of scholastic, social, and professional interests of the students of the Law School. All students in the School of Law are eligible for membership in the Association. After completing one semester in the School, they are eligible for membership in the Georgia Junior Bar Association.

The Law Day celebration began with registration for visitors in the Law School lobby. The Supreme Court of Georgia presided at the Moot Court finals which followed registration.

Medical
In 1915 the Atlanta Medical College was formed as a result of a series of mergers involving the Southern Medical College, the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, and the original Atlanta Medical College, which was formed in 1854. This merger was the beginning of the Emory University School of Medicine, which now trains its students in the Emory University Hospital, the Woodruff Memorial Research Building, and in the 1069 bed Grady Memorial Hospital. Just as the white mass of Grady Hospital rises high above the squalor of the business world surrounding it, so do the aspirations of the medical student differ from those of the average student.

Membership in Alpha Omega Alpha, the highest honorary medical society, is based upon the candidate's scholarship and moral qualifications. Its aims are the "attainment of a high standard of character and conduct among medical graduates, and the recognition of high attainment in medical science in practice and related fields." Alpha Omega Alpha was established on the Emory Campus in 1940. Secretary-treasurer Ronald Hughes is not pictured.

Nursing
The Emory School of Nursing has been a part of the University since 1944. The school offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Science degree and the Master of Nursing degree.

The Baccalaureate program runs for nine quarters and is available to students who have completed six quarters of a liberal arts education. Registered nurses with baccalaureate degrees in nursing are eligible to enter the masters program which runs for four quarters. This program trains the nurse to specialize in either Medical and Surgical, Public Health, or Psychiatric Nursing. The School of Nursing is under the direction of Dean Ada Fort.
One of the many duties and uniforms of the student nurse.

"Gosh, I wish that it were mine."

The student nurse must be familiar with the patient's chart before giving care.
Instructors and students work together.

The success of the student nurse can depend on the cooperation of the patient.

A problem in Thoracic Surgery is explained by the instructor.

Theology
Theology

The Candler School of Theology, a major division of Emory University, is one of the twelve official seminaries of the Methodist Church. The purpose of the School of Theology is the education of men and women for pastoral ministry and for other full-time service in the Christian Church. In seeking to provide a theological education of the highest quality, the curriculum is arranged in four general areas. These are designed to awaken the student to the best Biblical, historical, theological and contemporary insight into the Christian faith and its implications for the work of the Church and the ministry. The degrees of Bachelor of Divinity and Master of Christian Education are offered by the School of Theology. The curriculum serves to achieve its primary task, the professional training of the ministry. It seeks to develop mature, growing persons equipped with the basic knowledge and appropriate skills necessary to meet the exacting demands of the high calling which is theirs under God.

Student Council

The Student Council of the Candler School of Theology is the governing body of the school, having the responsibility of leadership of the students by directing activities in many areas which include worship, missions, community services, social service and athletics.

The Council also sponsors several events each year. A first in the school this year was a tour of Florida and Alabama by the Candler Choraliers, sponsored by the Student Council. Earlier this year a student faculty forum was held, debating current theological issues. This forum, recognized in Time Magazine, has helped to revitalize much of the thought in the theology school.

In addition to these, the council sponsors an annual banquet for the entire school.

Honor Council

Enrollment in the Candler School of Theology constitutes acceptance of the honor commitment, pledging highest integrity in all academic work. The Honor Council has the responsibility of upholding the academic integrity of the seminary community, through hearing the cases of reported violations and making recommendations to the faculty for their elimination, and encouraging the continuance of the highest standards in every possible way.
Candler Choraliers

The Candler Choraliers is the well-known choir of the Theology School, recognized for their outstanding talent. The group selects their director from the members of the choir. This year was the Choraliers first year as the official choir for regular worship services.

The Choraliers toured Florida and Alabama for ten days, giving fifteen concerts, earlier this year.

Theta Phi

Theta Phi is an Honor Society for theological students, scholars in the field of Religion, and outstanding religious leaders without distinction of creed, race, or sex.

The Society of Theta Phi exists to encourage scholarship in Religion and to foster intellectual and ethical standards of the highest quality among religious leaders. It is established upon the belief that granting recognition for outstanding achievement and maintaining a fellowship among persons of extraordinary competence and performance are instrumental to that purpose.
National Methodist Scholarship Winners

Each year two outstanding students are given National Methodist Seminary Awards. These are given on the basis of high academic standing and unusual promise of usefulness in a parish. The awards carry a $500 stipend and travel seminar to all boards and agencies of the Methodist Church.

Scholarship winners for 1962-63 are Robert A. Pardue and Paul Lee Freeman.

Candidates for Master’s of Christian Education Degree

The M.C.E. Degree is designed for persons who are interested in serving as Directors of Christian Education in local churches, workers with students on denominational and state campuses, or employees of the educational boards of various denominations.

Bishop's Hall is the center of activity in the Theology School.

Theology students prepare to leave for their churches, scattered all over Georgia.

ST. PAUL 2, MINNESOTA
First the clock . . .
then the plant —

When a customer bought 100 cigars from the wholesale grocery firm of H. Cone & Sons in 1870, he received a handsome clock. Some of these clocks are still ticking away. In addition to selling cigars and groceries for their father, Moses and Caesar Cone sold cotton plaids. Seeing a great future in fabrics, they started the Cone textile enterprises as a selling and commission house in 1891. They built the original manufacturing plant in 1896.

What of Cone Mills Today?

From these small beginnings has come one of the world’s largest and most progressive textile firms. With 18 plants employing almost 13,000 men and women, Cone Mills today is the world’s largest producer of corduroys, denims and flannels. Its modern printing and finishing operations are turning out a host of other fashion-right fabrics. Cone through its research and development activities is constantly seeking better ways to make better materials.

Examples of Cone firsts in this country are the new, popular stretch denims and corduroys.

To maintain its high standards, our company needs young people with initiative and intelligence. Cone Mills offers opportunities in four areas . . . production, administration, sales and research. Would you be interested in joining such a progressive organization? Write Industrial Relations Department, Cone Mills Corporation, Greensboro, N. C.

SELECTING YOUR LABORATORY

With Dentists who know values, the primary consideration when it comes to Laboratory service is technical knowledge and skill. REPUTATION "record of performance" is of utmost importance. Reputations are built slowly, over a long period of years, by fine quality and superior service.

When it comes to selecting your Laboratory, the deciding factors are quality, service, prestige—and other considerations less tangible than price, but much more important. We have been in this business fifty-one years; this accumulated store of knowledge and experience is at your command.

The cultivation of the mind is a gradual process involving original thought and creative effort. An Emory student is encouraged to develop the ability not only to learn the obvious facts but to probe beneath the surface for the underlying ideas. This capacity for understanding denotes the really well-educated man or woman and is the foundation for building successful and productive specialized careers.

Photography
for 1963 Campus
by
Wiley B. Perry, Jr.
Editor’s Epitaph

The composition of a yearbook is a difficult undertaking for it should contain so many things, both tangible and intangible. We wanted this yearbook to be a record of activities and events, of people and places, and, most of all, of feelings and memories of Emory University, 1963.

At last the book is finished; the last deadline has been met; the Campus offices are quiet for a while. I hope that we have been successful in giving you a book that you will like and enjoy.

There are many people who deserve special recognition for their outstanding work. I would like to thank Wiley Perry, who did the photography for almost the entire book.

Without the assistance of the entire staff, the Campus could never have been finished. I am particularly grateful to Al Wight, Steve Levinson, Bob Gunby, Judy Long, and Patty Putman for their cooperation, hard work, and encouragement. I wish to thank Taylor Publishing Company, and especially Bill Baker, for their helpful suggestions, and for their patience in the production of this book.

To Al Wight, the next year’s Editor, and his staff, I wish the best of luck. I only hope that they will receive as much pleasure from the work as I have.

And, to the student body, thank you for having given me the opportunity of editing this book. Although it is not possible to picture every incident that we would like to recall, perhaps the activities included here will help in bringing back other memories.

Thank you again

Lelia Long, Editor of the 1963 Campus
