In the heart of dear old Dixie,
Where the sun doth shine,
There is where our hearts are turning,
Round old Emory's shrine.
Though the years around thee gather,
Crowned with love and cheer,
Still the memory of old Emory,
Grows to us more dear.
We will ever sing thy praises,
Sons and daughters true,
Hail thee now our Alma Mater,
Hail the Gold and Blue.
There was time a-plenty for swimming.

Freshman
For many Freshmen, the first contact they have with Emory University—even before Orientation Week and also before classes—is the Freshman Camp sponsored by the Emory Christian Association.

Three days prior to the first day of Orientation, the ECA hustles away many Freshmen to a few final days of swimming, cavorting around in the open air, and discussion seminars.

After these three days are over, and after the bell is rung for the last time at the campsite until next year, the Freshmen return to the campus to begin their college careers. The motto of the university which is stressed at the camp and on the campus is, "Just be nice to everyone and everyone will be nice to you. Enjoy the relaxation now, for in a few short weeks the rat race will start!"
"Do I have any questions? Well, now that you mention it..."

"What's that? Just fill out these?..."

Freshman Karen Kreuter braved the awesome world of First Registration at Emory in the gymnasium Fall Quarter.

A native of Atlanta, Karen graduated from North Fulton High School last June. She found the registration procedure confusing, tiring, and involved, but she recognized at once the personal touch of friendship from the faculty and administration for which Emory is noted.

After receiving the many forms she needed to complete, Karen was exposed for the first time to the details required by the administration. She discovered that she had to give not only personal information she had been accustomed to writing only in her diary, but also her family history, living accommodations, course of study, and the like. To the male students, the only information not requested is the most important: measurements and dating involvements (pinned, engaged, etc.).

This year was the second that the university, under the auspices of Dean Archie, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, has held registration in the field house.

Emory's ten national sororities were officially presented their new charters Friday, May 8, 1959, in Glenn Memorial auditorium.

Dr. Edwin T. Martin, chairman of the Student Organizations and Activities committee, presided over the signing of a resolution in which the clubs promised to live up to the standards expected of them by the University.

Dean of women Nina E. Rusk presented a charter granting permission for the clubs to become national sororities to Terri Trible, first president of the Panhellenic Council.
First President of the newly-chartered first ten sororities to come to Emory University and their respective sororities are Janet Key, Alpha Chi Omega; Marsha Hill, Alpha Delta Pi; Lynn Brown, Alpha Epsilon Phi; Kemie Richards, Chi Omega; Carol Hopkins, Delta Delta Delta; Anita Van Buskirk, Delta Gamma; Linda McClain, Kappa Alpha Theta; Ellen Carrington, Kappa Delta; Marianna Reynolds, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Edith Wasden, Phi Mu.

Become Sororities

Larry Pike extended greetings from the Interfraternity Council, and Dr. Jack Boozer delivered the invocation and benediction.

The national sororities and their former social clubs affiliates are Alpha Delta Pi, Adelphean; Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Sigma Delta; Delta Gamma, Anchora; Delta Delta Delta, Delta; Alpha Epsilon Phi, Delta Sigma Epsilon; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Fleur-de-Lis; Kappa Alpha Theta, Kite; Phi Mu, Philomathean; Chi Omega, Pi Sigma; and Kappa Delta, Tau Kappa Delta.

A reception held in the gymnasium climaxed the weekend's activities.

Emory’s ten new national sororities received new pledges Tuesday, September 22, to climax the 1959-60 Panhellenic rush week, the first of its kind to be held on the Emory campus.

Four hundred fourteen new Emory women participated in the rush program which featured a series of parties with rushees and sororities eliminating down to a quota set by the Panhellenic council.

This was the first rush for Emory’s new national sororities which were social clubs until affiliation as chapters of the ten national sororities in the largest spontaneous chartering of national sororities on May 8, 1959, at Emory.

Nancy King, last president of the Interclub council (which has been replaced by the Panhellenic Council) and presently enrolled in the Emory Graduate School, was largely responsible for the coming of national sororities to the Emory campus. Terri Tribble is the first president of the Panhellenic council and Lenore Neilson served as the first rush chairman for the organization.
Sigma Chi, Emory’s largest fraternity, broke all existing records of the Interfraternity Council by taking 61 pledges at the end of the September Rush week. This was not only twenty more than the runner-up fraternity but the greatest number of men any Emory chapter has ever pledged at any one time.

Pledge Sunday

Of course I’m ready. Here comes the first one. Chalk him off the list.
Emory fraternities pledged a record number of 358 new men Sunday, September 20, as the traditional "walking of the row," which our friend Wayne Hise appears to be so anxious about, brought the 1959 Rush Week to a close.

A Sophomore brother of Beta Theta Pi, Wayne exemplified feelings and emotions of every fraternity man on Pledge Sunday each year. On this fateful Sunday, the Rushee signs his name and begins the long walk. Down they come—in groups of twos and threes—past the house they didn't choose—and then, at last, to the fraternity house of their choice. The fraternity brothers greet the boy even before he reaches the lawn with a screaming, swarming mob swooping down to claim the pledge even before the ex-rushee can walk up the sidewalk himself.

After all the rushees are accounted for, and after Pledge Sunday is officially over—after the brothers take note of the guests at their houses and after the men who pledged another fraternity are stricken from the lists—then it is time for pledging ceremonies and banquets.

Larry Pike, Interfraternity council President, termed the 1959 Rush Week as "one of Emory's most successful." However, it is because of the personal involvement of every fraternity man on campus that the fraternity system—and Rush Week and Pledge Sunday—is so successful here at Emory. Thanks to Wayne for his cooperation in telling the story of a fraternity man on Pledge Sunday at the "walking of the row."
Activities start with registration at Glenn Memorial.

Receptions Highlight Parents

Dr. and Mrs. S. Walter Martin, Emory President, greet students' parents.
Emory held its annual Parents' Day Saturday, October 24. Approximately 700 parents and relatives of Emory students were present at the occasion.

Following registration in Glenn Memorial building, William Archie, Dean of the College, welcomed the guests.

William Cox, Assistant Dean of the College, explained in detail the college program to the guests, and Prentice Miller, Dean of the Undergraduate Instruction, commented on the alteration of the freshman advisory system.

The fraternities entertained the members' parents with a luncheon at the several fraternity houses. The Panhellenic house received parents of the sorority members at a buffet luncheon.

On Wednesday, October 28, the Interfraternity Council Sing was held, with Sigma Chi winning first place for the large fraternity division and Delta Tau Delta taking first place for small fraternities.

The week came to a close Friday night, October 30, with jazz conductor-trumpeter Louis Armstrong, better known as "Satchmo," playing at the dance in the fieldhouse.

together in a week of activities, seeking to build a stronger fraternity system and better relations between the various fraternities. The best illustration of this close-knit bond is the Interfraternity banquet held in the Emory cafeteria, at which Senator Herman Talmadge—a Sigma Nu alumnus of University of Georgia—spoke.

The week was highlighted by the dance Friday night. Louis Armstrong, born in New Orleans, has made a dozen films, in all of which he is famous for his trumpet playing. He is currently playing in "The Five Pennies" in which his horn is particularly significant.

The events featured during the afternoon were a hat box race won by the Thetas; a lemon throw, ADPi; sixty yard dash, Tri-Delt, and a newspaper arranging contest won by AEPhi.

The special event for fraternities was a forty-yard stilt race won by Chi Phi Clint Moore. The Thetas won the emblem hunt and the egg pass was won by Chi Omega. The Thetas also placed first in the frog derby while Delta Gamma won the greased balloon relay. The final event of the day was a pie throw in which each club threw a pie at their coach.

Sweepstakes Queen was won by Linda Williams, Alpha Delta Pi. She was also the former Miss Emory University for 1958-59.

The ADPis placed second in over-all points with 15 and the Tri-Delts came in third with 13; Chi Omega placed fourth with 101/2 points.

These storms created scenes of temporary beauty, but they affected people in different ways.

Students' reactions varied from joy to despair at the sight of the blanket of white. People who had been walking for many years suddenly found themselves doing something half-way between a stagger and a slide. Driving became dangerous.

But happy exclamations could also be heard: "Oh, it's gorgeous!" "Let's build a snowman!" "Isn't this wonderful?" "Snowball fight," and "No classes tomorrow!"

Thus Winter quarter ended with more than exams and term papers; it climaxed with true winter weather—for the first time for most of its Southern students!

An Emory Date

Tom Vinson and Sandie Westcott, accompanied by University Photographer Bart Perry, herein depict portions of the life of a fraternity man and sorority woman who are pinned on the Emory campus.

Whether going to class or to Dooley's Den, shopping or to the sweetheart formal, they find themselves sharing the experiences that make Emory a part of their lives.

An active brother of Chi Phi fraternity, Tom is also a member of the inter-collegiate tennis team and plays inter-fraternity athletics. Sandie is a Delta Delta Delta and represents her sorority on the Panhellenic council as well as participating in inter-sorority sports.

In addition to their other activities, however, our couple still finds time to spend with one another.

Dean Rece is one of the best known persons on campus. Everyone knows and likes him.

Dean Rece has been part of the Emory family for a long time. He started out as an instructor of Bible and Religious Education in 1926. He then went from Assistant Professor to a full Professor in 1942. He took over as Acting Dean of Men in 1935, then became Dean of Men in 1937 and then went on to Dean of Students in 1947 and kept this position until last year when he was again made Dean of Men, a job he has handled with expert care.

He is a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and a member of Kappa Phi Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi educational fraternities. He belongs to Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership fraternity and also a member of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic society. He belongs to the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

Since Dean Rece has been at Emory he has played an active part in making life for the students more pleasant. He has helped the Inter-fraternity Council make many decisions. His office is open to any student and this opportunity is taken by many of them. If one should go there in the middle of the day he would think that he were in a doctors office. Dean Rece kids very often about having to give out appointment cards. He has participated in the players production "On Borrowed Time." All in all he very well could be named as Mr. Emory, but we of the Campus are going a step further and calling him "Mr. Campus."

Emory's year-around slumbering spirit, S. Walter Dooley, arose from his coffin on display in Dooley's Den and began a week of frolicking the week prior to the 1959 Dooley's Frolics.

His resurrection was preceded by a torch-light parade around Fraternity Row led by Freshman class president Joe Miller. Speeches were made by the candidates for Spring elections. Then Dooley himself led the parade around campus and began the week of merry-making by kissing co-eds, dismissing classes, and playing practical jokes.

The climax of the week was the judging of Fraternity lawn displays, followed by a Friday night dance, an afternoon jazz concert, and a Formal dance Saturday evening.

Dooley and Gail Hurd engage in interesting conversation.

Frolics of 1959

Friday night, the winning five fraternities in the lawn displays contest were announced, and the winners of the Spring blood drive were awarded trophies. Larry Pike received the Alpha Phi Omega Outstanding College Junior Award.

At the formal dance, Clarence Torrance was presented Dooley's Derby, an Award for unrecognized service to the university. Miss Linda Williams was presented as Miss Emory University for 1959-60, and Editor James Evans dedicated the 1959 Campus to Dr. G. P. Cuttino.

To end the weekend officially, the Emory Policemen disposed of S. Walter Dooley and sent him rattling back to his coffin—after a thorough dunking in the swimming pool!

Showing no discrimination, Dooley moves on to Barbara Mayo.

And more of the same.

The Night Before

The 1959 Dooley’s week and weekend was one of the biggest that Emory has ever seen. Dooley went through his traditional activities of letting out classes and kissing girls on campus and doing things that he felt like doing. The fraternity men began early in the week putting up the lawn displays that had been put on paper months ago. Friday afternoon was the day of the judging and as always Thursday night was a long night for the fraternity men. Things looked their worst at three o’clock in the morning but by three in the afternoon all the fraternities were ready to go.

Callanwolde, the beautiful estate which formerly belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard Candler and located on Briarcliff Road in Atlanta, was the scene of the judging in the 1960 Miss Emory contest.

The annual contest, open to any girl in the University, began in early November with a preliminary judging by the Campus Editor, the Beauty Section Consultant, and the University Photographer. These judges chose thirty-two semi-finalists from pictures submitted by two hundred and fifty candidates.

On Sunday, November eighth, these thirty-two girls were presented at a tea, where each girl met and was interviewed by a panel of judges. During this time, the judges had an opportunity to talk to each of the girls individually and to observe them in a group. At the conclusion of the tea, nine girls were selected as finalists, one of whom would become Miss Emory.

Several weeks later, on December sixth, the nine finalists were presented to a new group of judges at a more formal reception and again were interviewed individually and collectively by the judges. After several hours, the judges had chosen Miss Emory University of 1960, the girl they felt was most representative of the coeds at Emory. Beauty, charm, poise and the many characteristics of a truly attractive woman determined the winner. She is indeed Miss Emory University.

The HONORS
D.V.S., founded on the old Oxford campus fifty-eight years ago, represents the highest honor which can come to a man while he is a student of Emory University. Moreover, the Senior Honor Society has long stood for those things which make Emory a great university; the success of the University is in a large part, the success of D.V.S. The members of the Senior Honor Society have always observed the strictest secrecy in matters involving the Society. This is done, not to be pretentious by being secret, but because the Society has always felt that its purposes might be best achieved if its members refrained from any public utterances concerning the Society or any of its activities. Each man, while a student of the College of Arts and Sciences or the School of Business Administration, is considered once for membership in D.V.S.—if he is not elected to membership at that time, he can never be considered again. In all cases, one question guides the members of the Society in determining who their seven successors shall be: "Who is he, and what has he done for Emory University?" Each thing that a student does while at Emory brings him closer to membership in D.V.S., whether it be in student activities, or the athletic field, or in the classroom. Each year seven men are chosen for their accomplishments, men to whom the University can point with pride and say, "These men represent all that Emory stands for."
Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek-letter college fraternity. It was founded at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. It was originally a secret fraternity, but gradually became an honorary fraternity.

The purpose of Phi Beta Kappa is to encourage learning and achievement in colleges and universities. The Greek letters, Phi, Beta, Kappa, are the initials of the Greek words which mean "Love of Wisdom the Helmsman of Life."

Students eligible for membership must have a 2.5 average for their first three years in college, or a 2.25 average through fall quarter of their senior year.

However, the requirements for admission are not based on grades alone, but also the range and character of the courses selected, a consideration of the moral character of the student, and his general promise to the world of scholarship and society.

Members are elected by vote of Phi Beta Kappa college faculty members from among junior and senior students with the best academic records. Sometimes membership is conferred on persons who have become outstanding in fields of knowledge after graduation from college.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for men, was founded December 3, 1914, at Washington and Lee University by fifteen students and faculty leaders. The leaders formulated the idea that all-round leadership in college should be recognized, and that outstanding students and faculty members should meet on a basis of mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

Membership in Omicron Delta Kappa is bestowed upon outstanding men in the fall and spring of each year.

The motives which guided the founders sprang from a desire to bring together in one body, for the general good of the institution, all leaders in the various forms of college activities.

Women's Honor Organization

The Women's Honor Organization, founded on the Emory campus in April, 1954, was organized in order to recognize outstanding leadership, scholarship, and service to the University on the part of Emory's coeds and nurses.

WHO elects Emory women to membership on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service. Last quarter juniors and all seniors are eligible for membership. Tapping ceremonies are held fall and spring quarters.
Pi Delta Epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism society, seeks to honor those students who have made outstanding contributions to the student publications of the University.

By bringing together leading students from the three publications, Pi Delta Epsilon has as its primary aim the elevating of journalistic standards on the Emory campus.

Tau Kappa Alpha

The Emory chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, whose purpose is to encourage perfection in forensic activities, is composed of outstanding members of the Barkley Debate Forum.

In cooperation with the Forum, TKA sponsored Southeastern High School Debate Tournament, which aids future college students in debating, and encourages them to continue forensic activities during their college attendance.
Eta Sigma Psi

Eta Sigma Psi, Emory's lower division honorary leadership society was formed on the Atlanta campus in 1928. The organization strives to create an interest in extracurricular activities among students in the sophomore and freshman classes.

Twice each year, new members are tapped into the society. Selections from the sophomore class are made in the fall quarter, and from the freshman class in the spring quarter. Eta Sigma Psi bases its selection of members on leadership, scholarship, and character.

Alpha Epsilon Upsilon

Alpha Epsilon Upsilon is a society formed at Emory-at-Oxford in 1906, in order to give recognition to scholastic achievement in the lower division.

Students who have obtained a 2.5 average during their freshman year or a 2.25 average following their fourth or fifth quarter in the lower division are eligible for membership.

These students must be of good moral character, and give promise of contributing something to the world in order to be admitted to membership in the society.

E Club

Members of the E Club, Emory's honorary athletic organization, are chosen not only for outstanding athletic ability in their fields, but also for outstanding sportsmanship and accomplishment.

In past years the E Club has been something of which one could be proud to belong, however, it wasn't until this year that it actually became active on campus. They sponsored all athletic events, and arranged for special programs of interest to the campus in each of the inter-collegiate sports.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association is composed of representatives from each of the sororities and independent groups on campus. They are chosen by their groups for the purpose of co-ordinating the women's athletic program.

Serving as a representative group of the Panhellenic Council and the Women's Student Association, they are responsible for planning and carrying through a schedule designed to eliminate overcrowding any one quarter with activities.
The Activities

Student Senate

Officers of the Student Senate are: Nat Long, President; Sissie Heywood, Secretary; Skeeter Fuller, Treasurer; and Tom Goolsby, Vice-President.

The Student Senate, created in 1956 by the ratification of a new student body Constitution, is the central student government organization of the University. The purpose of the Student Senate is to co-ordinate the activities of the eight schools at Emory, and to exercise primary jurisdiction over all activities affecting the student body as a whole. Among the standing responsibilities of the Senate are the allocation of funds to all student activities, the holding of general elections, and the management of Dooley's Frolics.

International Relations Club

Officers of the International Relations Club are: Dr. Walter Love, Advisor; Nick Pisaris, Vice-President; Charlotte Etheridge, Secretary; and Frank Unger, President.

The International Relations Club is a group of students organized for the purpose of learning more about world political affairs, believing that this is essential to a better understanding of our own country and of the world as a whole. Varied programs including guest speakers and mock U.N. Security Council meetings are planned in order to help the group understand the world situation.

Besides being affiliated with the Association of International Relations Clubs it is also affiliated with the Collegiate Council for the United Nations, of which Frank Unger is the Deep South Regional Director, Nick Pisaris, the Assistant Regional Director and Joe Robertson, the Regional Secretary.
The Emory Glee Club

The Emory Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Bob Beckwith, completed its fortieth year at Emory.

Their first campus appearance was at the annual Christmas Concert in Glenn Memorial Church. Off-campus tours were made during every vacation break. Thanksgiving holidays were spent touring Georgia. During Christmas the Club traveled through Florida and Cuba. During the Spring vacation, they went to New Orleans.

Mr. Beckwith, in his first year with the Glee Club, has been instrumental in making this one of the Glee Club's finest years.
Women's Chorale

The Emory Women's Chorale had a year of varied performances. During the fall, they made several tours around Georgia, in addition to on-campus performances. In winter and spring quarters, the Women's Chorale gave performances with visiting choral groups, and in the Spring, joined with the Emory Men's Glee Club in presenting a Spring Choral Concert.

Also under the direction of Mr. Bob Beckwith, the chorale added many new numbers to their repertoire. They instituted a change in style, and showed both great improvement and great promise for the future.
The officers of the Emory Players are: Jon McLeod, President; Molly Mallory, Vice-President; Carol Garrison, Secretary; and Sturgis Bates, Business Manager.

The Emory Players started off their thirty-first season with the fall production of THE YOUNG AND THE BEAUTIFUL, featuring Tamara Gunsard, Charles McCarthy, and Buster Vansant.

The most successful play of the season was the winter production of Eugene O'Neill’s THE GREAT GOD BROWN. With Charles Rosenberg, Dorothy Veach, Sturgis Bates, and Ann Haskell leading the way, the Players acted for a capacity audience each night.

The spring quarter play, Shakespeare’s LOVE’S LABOUR’S LOST, is an attempt by director Ken Barry to develop a well-rounded group, and to add variety to the plays offered.

Emotion-packed scenes such as these sparked the Emory Players’ fall production, with Tamara Gunsard, Buster Vansant, Kay Brandeau, and Charles McCarthy providing most of the action.

The most outstanding event of the Barkley Forum during the past year was the high school debate tournament held on the Emory campus. Over one hundred fifty high school students from five Southern states participated in the winter quarter debates. The winner received a full year's tuition to Emory, and the runner-up a half year's tuition scholarship to Emory.

Barkley Forum was born with the merger of the Lew Literary Society and Phi Gamma of Old Oxford in 1950, the group changed its name in honor of its most famous ex-member, the late vice-president, Alben W. Barkley. The Forum debated against many colleges and universities throughout the Southeast. Membership is open to any interested party.

The Women's Student Association, formerly the Co-Ed Association, includes all women students in the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Business. Although the executive council forms the backbone of the association, all members participate in the projects and meetings which are held once a quarter.

This year the association's main projects were the Big Sister-Little Sister picnic held in the fall for the incoming freshmen, and the annual Sadie Hawkins Day race and dance, sponsored with the Panhellenic Council. In addition WSA joins with the Panhellenic Council to aid in the scheduling of social events.

The 1960 CAMPUS may well be said to be the most beautiful of all the past Emory yearbooks. Again, the entire beauty section, featuring Miss Emory University and her court, is done in full colour. In addition, the introductory feature is done in colour, reflecting the change of mood with season at Emory. The seal of the University is being used as the cover design, and is carried out throughout the book on the break pages.

Taylor Publishing Company, for the second year, is publisher of the CAMPUS. Bart Perry, photographer for the University, and his staff took most of the photographs in this book.
Headed by Editor Larry Pike, the Wheel began its forty-first year of publication this fall, receiving the nineteenth All-American award, the highest recognition given to a college newspaper by the Associated Collegiate Press. Through Wheel editorials in the past year, a drive to support the student government was made. Later in the year, the Wheel defended the rights of the publications to remain semi-independent of the student government. Students and others concerned were allowed to express their opinions in the letters column. Their volume suggests that the Wheel lived up to its motto this year, of the "South's Most Independent Collegiate Newspaper."

Wheel staff members and columnists are gathered for the task of assembling the Wheel for publication the following week.

Editor Joel Shurkin led the South's Oldest Collegiate Magazine in its seventy-second year of publication. During the year the Pi Delta Epsilon short story contest was held, and the three top place stories were published in the Winter issue of "the Bird."

Detailed discussion of Emory's grading system, as well as a factual account of the workings of the Student Government were two of the more serious articles in the Phoenix during the year.

Picture features and humour were, as always, important in the Fall and Spring issues. In recognition of the quality of the Phoenix as a humour magazine, Phineas Phoenix received one of the three All-American awards given during the year by the Associated Collegiate Press to humour magazines in the nation. In addition, the Phoenix became the first collegiate humour magazine to have a cover carried by a national news agency.

Phoenix staff members are: Ben DeMayo, Barbara Fershtman, Margaret Karg, Manny Bondi, and Ed Carlton.
The Emory Christian Association is the coordinating body of all the religious organizations on campus, and seeks to further their activities throughout the year. The official ruling body is the Council, composed of representatives from all denominational groups, fraternities, and sororities, in addition to committee chairmen and members-at-large. The Emory Christian Association is advised by Rev. Sam J. Laird, Director of Religious life at Emory.

The Emory Christian Association is very active in furthering religious education at Emory. During the past year they have sponsored an orientation camp in early September for students who were entering the University in the fall for the first time. During fall quarter the ECA sponsored Religious Emphasis Week, the annual Christmas program, and a reception for foreign students. Winter quarter was highlighted by Brotherhood Week and Brotherhood Chest, while during the spring quarter they held their twenty-third annual Banquet, sponsored Holy Week services and an Easter Sunrise Service.

College Council

The College Council has existed since 1956 as the representative governing body of the College of Arts and Sciences. The Council is responsible for the Blood Drive and orientation. Social functions, college elections, and campus referendums are also among the wide range of activities handled by the Council. The Student Development Committee is a planning and policy forming committee which advises the University president and administration. Members, selected from the various schools of the University, are chosen on the basis of their interest in the University and its functions, their leadership abilities, and the services they have performed for the school.

Executive House Council

The Women's Dormitory House Council Executive Committee is composed of the president from each of the Women's Dormitory Councils and elected representatives from each of the classes in the College. It is the coordinating body of the individual Dormitory House Councils and acts on major conduct cases, making recommendations to the Deans' offices on these cases. The Executive Committee is also responsible for recommending changes in the governing policies of the House Councils.

Longstreet and Means House Councils

Longstreet and Means Councils are the governing bodies of the two underclassmen dormitories. The members of the House Councils, elected from each floor of the dormitories, are responsible for the conduct and actions of the men residing there.

Honor Council

The Emory Honor Council, guided by Dr. Jack Boozer and Dr. Ernest Hunt, strives to maintain the highest possible standard of honor among the students at Emory.

Emory Traffic Court

The Traffic Court is an organization of students appointed by the deans of the various divisions of the University. The purpose of this group is to consider traffic violations of students and to render a verdict on the facts of the case. The Traffic Court functions under the guidance of the University Committee of Traffic and Safety. The judges of the Emory Traffic Court are Myron Greene, John Corbitt, Dave Strimer, Riley Short, Tyler Gray, Lamar Bass, and Richard Worden.

EMORY HONOR CODE

Upon every individual who is part of Emory University falls the responsibility for maintaining in the life of Emory a standard of unimpeachable honor. The honor code is based on the fundamental assumption that every loyal person in the University not only will conduct his own life according to the dictates of the highest honor, but will also refuse to tolerate in others action which would sully the good name of the institution.

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, was founded at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, in 1925. The Emory chapter, Delta Kappa, was chartered in 1946.

Each year APO performs services to the University which have become annual events. They award a one hundred dollar scholarship to a third quarter freshman in the college, and sponsor the Pretty Girl-Ugly Man contest in the fall for Community Services. Members also serve as waiters for the Birthday Party; and they have had complete charge of the various campus bulletin boards.

In addition, they gave a Christmas Party and an Easter Egg Hunt for a children's orphanage, and baby-sat with faculty children during the faculty dances.

Another main project every year is to give recognition to the Outstanding Junior in the college. During Dooley's Frolics last spring, Larry Pike received the trophy as the Most Outstanding Junior.

Membership is open to all students who are interested in serving school and community.

Circle K

Circle K is a service-dedicated organization that was chartered at Emory after World War II. The club is dedicated to service to the University and community.

The Emory chapter, a member of Circle K International, is sponsored by the Druid Hills Kiwanis Club.

During the past year, Circle K has rendered its services by assisting in the Omicron Delta Kappa Workshop, by conducting visitors on tours of the campus, by ushering at the Chamber Music Series, and by helping with the Panhellenic Sing.

Each spring, Circle K sponsors Emory Senior Day, a weekend devoted to acquainting prospective freshmen to the Emory way of life.

With an eye to the future, Circle K hopes to further its horizons in service work and to draw more members into the organization.

The SPORTS
A tense extra-inning contest climaxed the tightest softball race in years, as Tau Epsilon Phi downed Sigma Chi 8-7, May 28, 1959.

ATO, Sigma Chi, TEPhi, and AEpi emerged victorious in the flight championships. The semifinals resulted in a three-way tie among the Sigs, TEPs, and AEpis. The AEpis were eliminated by the Sigs in a 9-4 victory.

In the final game between the Sigs and TEPs, TEPhi Alan Rothfeder hit a single to right field which ended nine innings of well-played ball as Butch Wynn came across with the winning run.

TEPhi Sonny Gates' three hits and Rothfeder's clutch single topped the TEPhi hitting, while Jerry Swails collected three singles for the Sigs. Air-tight fielding was perhaps more responsible for this even contest, with the TEPhi outfielding work and the Sigma Chi infielders taking away many possible base hits.

Football Season Opens
The SAE gridiron squad took the interfraternity football championship by defeating the favored Sigma Chis. The championship game was a hard fought one and the end of the fourth quarter found no score yet in the ball game. The game was decided by penetration and SAE came out on top 1-0.

Throughout the season, SAE was sparked by rangy tailback Ed Wilkin and the brilliant playing of Emory Johnson and John Bell.

Flight winners were Kappa Alpha, SAE, and Sigma Chi. The Sigs defeated KA 6-0 to go on to face SAE in the final match.

Larry Blau, Sig, set one individual record in the 75-yard medley (:44.5), and Tommy Burns set a new record of 69 feet in the distance plunge. In addition to the new record set by the medley team at the right, the freestyle relay team (200 yard) of Larry Blau, Punch Martin, Sam Earle, and Hank Gibson also set an interfraternity record of 1:55.5. Phi Delta Theta placed second and Sigma Alpha Epsilon was third.

Sigs Take Cross Country as Five Place

The Emory cross-country race was run on Monday, Nov. 23. Bjorn Christopherson took an early lead, never relinquished it, and came home easily in a time of 14:36.9 to cop first place honors for an individual.

He was followed closely by Peter Bourne, Med School, second; Bill Buntin, Sig, third; O. B. Johnson, Sig, fourth; and Harry Morgan, Sig, fifth, and Perry Leavell, Sig, sixth, for those top positions. All of these men finished in less than 15:29.

Dear Mom,

Remember how I used to read Jane's letters and think that college could never possibly be as exciting as she made it sound? Well, Emory's got everything she ever mentioned and no snow!

I met my big sister the day after I got here and we went to a picnic for Big and Little Sisters sponsored by the W.S.A. (It is the only time I've ever had decent food on campus.) If she hadn't been here, I doubt if I could have ever found my way around the campus. (I kept on looking for the Den in the bottom of the Administration building and never found it) I'm "oriented" now, though. I can find my way from the Library to the History building by myself.

Oh! My buzzer just did a clever thing. It buzzed!

The boys really look bad this week. I thought maybe Emory had a new disease running wild but I was wrong. The boys have been giving blood for a blood drive. Now some of them look like they'll be the first to need transfusions.

My mid-terms really surprised me. I passed them all.

Did I tell you how cultured I'm getting? We have a Chamber Music Series and the Emory Players. I've been going to see the presentations (they're free!) and they really are good. The Chorale is putting on a Christmas concert that should be beautiful. Those girls really practice a lot. One of them is next door to me and she practices every night from midnight until 2 A.M.

Dear Mom,

I accidentally forgot to bring my books home over Thanksgiving so I'm going to have to study hard since finals are almost here.

Do you realize how much has happened to me since the quarter started? I've pledged sorority, failed quizzes, toured Atlanta, learned several thousand useless facts, met so many people, and gained twelve pounds.

The only thing that will pull me through finals is knowing I'll be home Christmas.

I've already made reservations on a flight leaving one hour after my last final.

Love,
Sandy

P.S. I'm overdrawn again.

Dear Mom,

It feels funny to be writing you again after being home these last few weeks.

I caught a boy today. I physically caught him. My sorority entered me in the Sadie Hawkins Day Race and I was allowed to chase boys across the Quad. The one I got was large and squirmy but I managed to drag him back.

Sorority initiation is in a few weeks and I just can’t wait to be a sister. We pledges are giving the actives a party which I think should be one of the most enjoyable parties I’ve gone to.

Sorority initiation is over and now I'm a sister. My pin is beautiful and I wear it all the time.

All the fraternities are having formals and I'm going to Tom's, of course. I'm wearing my wine-colored dress but I think I have only one wine-colored shoe. College life is very complicated.

I'm writing themes this quarter, Mother, if I've been speaking and writing English all of my life, why don't I know any?

I was sitting in Math class merrily flunking a quiz when Dooley trotted in. Dooley is someone dressed up like a skeleton who runs around disrupting the campus. He is very affectionate. WOW is he affectionate!

I went to the infirmary today and then made a resolution never to get sick while I'm at Emory.

I have a term paper due tomorrow so I have to go and decide on a topic.

Did I tell you that we lost the Panhellenic Sing? I’m still glad we entered because I got to practice my songs at one A.M. and give my next-door neighbor in Chorale the benefit of my beautiful singing. I hope she appreciated my voice just half as much as I appreciated hers.

The sink in my room was finally fixed! Now hot water comes out of both faucets.

This is probably the last letter I’ll write to you while I’m a freshman. Finals start tomorrow and then I’ll be home for the summer. I guess I’ll go into semi-hibernation for the first few weeks.

I’ve shipped some of my clothes home already so my luggage will probably be only thirty pounds overweight this time.

I can’t wait to see you and everyone else.

Love,

Sandy

P.S. Make sure all the sinks in the house are working. I want to see what it’s like to have hot water coming out of one faucet and cold water coming out of the other.
The FRATERNITIES
Mallory Atkinson serves as the 1960 President of the IFC.

The Interfraternity Council is the governing body of the Emory fraternity system. It is composed of one Senior Representative, the voting delegate, and one Junior Representative, the non-voting delegate, from each fraternity and five officers elected from the Council. The IFC meets on alternate Wednesdays, each time at a different house on Fraternity Row.

Striving to advance the best interests of the Fraternities and the University, the purpose of the council is to promote greater harmony and cooperation among the fraternities. Through the unity afforded by the IFC, the fraternities can do what would be impossible for individual chapters. The prime example of this coordination is Rush Week, which is smoothly handled through the Rush Rules and their enforcement by the IFC.

This year the IFC sponsored Greek Week, the Empty Stocking Drive, the Blood Drive, the IFC Sing, and the Old Newsboys’ Day.

Each year, the Council awards the David S. Thorne Memorial Scholarship, a one-half year’s tuition scholarship; this award is given to a fraternity pledge.

The Pledge Interfraternity Council, composed of representative pledges from each of the twelve fraternities, functioned through Fall Quarter and into the beginning of Winter Quarter, at which time most of the pledges were initiated into their fraternities.

The first Emory PIFC was formed in 1956. Each year, the group sets its own rules and plans its own projects, with the advice of the Interfraternity Council.

Roger Miller served as the PIFC Advisor from the IFC.

Dear Dad,

Really having a blast! Atlanta isn't as big as home, but there are a lot of interesting things to do. Went to Freshman Camp and found it informative. As soon as I got back to the Campus, a lot of fellows surrounded me and started Fraternity talk. After the IFC Rush Convocation, I and most of the other guys in the dorm started on a series of smokers at the different fraternity houses at the same time, we were going through orientation for the school. Between figuring out how to get around the campus and choosing between fraternities—I was really in a fog.

Finally I made up my mind and pledged your old fraternity.

Dear Dad,

It seems I should have studied a little harder pre-mid-term. Man, those exams were bad. I still remember the feeling of utter stupidity that engulfed me when I looked at the first page of Chemistry.

The fraternity is entering the IFC sing and with my booming bass we'll probably win. The brother who sings behind me is one case of nasalness so I try to drown him out. However, my kind gesture seems to be misinterpreted as an attempt "to hog the whole thing" (quote my big brother) so I guess I'll have to tone myself down.

Dear Dad,

Greek Week was enjoyable and expensive. If you’d like me to eat this quarter, you’ll send some of the great green stuff. Satchmo was here and listening to him made me wish I was pre-jazz instead of pre-med.

After several other nasty remarks, I kept my powerful will down to a minimum. As a direct result of this action, we lost. Maybe next year the brothers will have more sense and give me at least one solo.

I’ve got football practice in ten minutes so I’ll sign off.

Dear Dad,

My request for money was sincere and stomach-felt. I have always liked eating and I'm finding that it's very difficult to break the habit.

With Thanksgiving coming I'm finding it almost impossible to concentrate. However since I've got a quiz tomorrow I'd better try.

The fraternity did surprisingly well in football considering the fact that I didn't play. My roommate is reading this letter over my shoulder and telling me how conceited I am, I'm not really conceited—just hungry.

Studying for finals is the worst. There's nothing like a final to make you realize how stupid you are. I don't think I'll draw any complete blanks but I'd like to do as well as I can on them so I can be initiated next quarter.

Sometimes I wonder if the Fraternity really appreciates me. I went out for softball and I heard somebody mumbling something about making me a bat boy.

Dooley's was supreme. I enjoyed every minute of it. Of course, I'm once again moneyless.

The Big News: I'm now a brother. Next year I'll be living in the house which is at least fifty times better than the dorm. Now we're not only father and son, but brothers too. Even Oedipus couldn't match this.

Just a few days of finals and then summer. Do you know what summer means? Sleep, rainless days and edible food.

There is a very unusual tradition at Emory in which I may participate next fall. It is called "Cut Probation." This is due directly to the inefficiency of my alarm clock.

I really do have to study now. I'll see you in about a week.

The DENTAL SCHOOL
The University's most critical physical-plant need just now is a new dental school building and a companion dental-clinic building, both of which are scheduled to be erected on the main campus—when the funds can be found. Money is needed, too, to enlarge the dental faculty and to get dental research programs under way. Since research activities in the school have been restricted by heavy teaching loads, lack of facilities and lack of adequate space in the present Dental Building on Forrest Avenue, the new Buildings must come first.

With the limited funds and facilities available, Dentistry is now doing a remarkable job. Its faculty is of the highest caliber in its history. Its corps of full-time teachers has been steadily strengthened, and less reliance placed in part-time teachers. Progressive curriculum changes have been instituted. There is ample evidence that the quality of the school's graduates has steadily improved. But Dentistry is still confined to the quarters which it occupied when it merged with Emory back in 1944.

DR. JOHN E. BUHLER, Dean of the School of Dentistry.
Members of the Interfraternity Council are: Bob Bretches, Larry Golsen, Allan Shew, Jim Bradley, Tom Garrison, Jack Berne, Joe Hughes, Leo Lancaster, Bill McKenzie, Earl Williams, Arlis Burch.

Student Council Members are: Gerald Holdtich, Buford Jones, Jim Pumphrey, Mike Kennedy, Jimmy Cannon, Martin Simmons, Skip Buford, Bill Jerkes, Wally Sears, Earl Williams.
The Student American Dental Association is a special branch of the American Dental Association for dental students which was created in 1933. The Emory Chapter was established in 1948. Student members of the SADA are invited to attend local meetings and clinics of the ADA to help further their professional knowledge and understanding of dentistry as a health service.

The past several years the membership of the SADA has usually been 100% of the school. This present school year the entire student body of the Dental School are members.

This year the SADA sponsored the ninth annual Student Clinic Day. The purpose of the day is to provide the students with experience in the presentation and preparation of dental clinics.

This year students from the Universities of Alabama and Tennessee Dental Schools were guest clinicians and presented table clinics on various subjects. Student Clinic Day was climaxed by a banquet featuring a guest speaker.

Founded at Maryland University in 1908, Alpha Omega has thirty-seven undergraduate chapters and forty-seven alumni organizations with a total membership in excess of nine thousand. The Alpha Delta Chapter was organized at the Atlanta Southern Dental College in 1928.

The chapter has had a very successful year. Socially, the event of the season was the Annual Formal Banquet held in the spring. Periodic fraternity parties and dances were held at the fraternity house on Briarcliff Road. Banquets were held for visiting dignitaries and for the installation of newly elected officers for the coming year. At the Annual Formal Dance, Mrs. Jack Berne was presented as sweetheart of the chapter.

Sweetheart of Alpha Omega is Mrs. Jack Berne.

Delta Sigma Delta, oldest of all dental fraternities, was organized November 15, 1882 at the University of Michigan. In 1921 the Theta Theta Chapter was organized at Atlantic Southern Dental College. Delta Sigma Delta has thirty-six chapters.

The objective of Delta Sigma Delta is to keep high standards of dentistry by inculcating in the minds of dental students and practitioners a spirit of fraternal cooperation toward scientific, ethical and professional progress.

Many social events were held by Delta Sig during the year. More special events were the informal gatherings held at professors’ homes, the Thanksgiving and Christmas parties and the spring formal dance. Gifts were also given to a local children’s home.

Psi Omega was founded at Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1892. Gamma Tau Chapter was organized at Atlanta-Southern Dental College in 1904. The growth of Psi Omega was second only to that of the American Dental Association. Psi Omega is a fraternity governed by its members. Elected delegates from our school and alumni chapter determine policies which are directed by a supreme council.

The purpose of Psi Omega is to cultivate the social qualities of its members and to exert its influence untiringly for the advancement of the dental profession in its methods of teaching, of practice and of jurisprudence.
Xi Psi Phi Fraternity was founded February 8, 1889, at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. The Emory Chapter was instituted in Atlanta on February 15, 1912, as the Alpha Zeta Chapter at the Southern Dental College, becoming the Atlanta-Southern Dental College. The Alpha Zeta Chapter united at this time with the Alpha Eta Chapter of the Atlanta Dental College, and took the name of the latter chapter.

With Mrs. T. I. Hodges as their sweetheart, the Zips had a most successful year. Alpha Eta has been quite active in school and extracurricular affairs and entertained many important guests.

The GRADUATE SCHOOL
The Graduate School provides the one device for uniting the efforts of numerous Emory faculty members who are primarily members of the faculties of the seven other schools on the Atlanta campus. Having no separate faculty of its own, the Graduate School draws on all other faculties for manpower, the while offering added stimulation to these professors to engage in research. Greatest strength in terms of faculty-power is to be found in the departments of biology, history, chemistry, and philosophy, with physics, Romance languages and sociology close behind.

At the Emory Cobalt-60 radiation field, Emory ecologists are studying the effects of low-level chronic irradiation on plants and plant communities. Dr. Robert B. Platt and Dr. Alvin V. Beatty, assisted by graduate biology students, are making studies of man's environment under radiation. These studies are aimed at finding the effects of radiation on man's natural surroundings.

Each winter quarter, practicums are held for graduate students to advise them of problems that they may face in college teaching. This year the talks by faculty members and the panel discussions were organized around the central theme of A Future in Teaching. Coffees are held before each practicum in order for the students and the faculty to become better acquainted.

During the past year it was revealed that over an eight year period the Emory Law School has developed, under the direction of Dean Hepburn and Professor G. Stanley Joslin, a corporate-law area of instruction which ranks with the very best in the country, and probably is surpassed only by the Harvard Law School in this respect. The top-flight professors in the school made several moves during the year to keep abreast of the times by instituting new courses to meet new conditions. One of these was a special course on the socio-legal aspects of juvenile delinquency; another, a special course on income-tax problems; another, a course in administrative law.

A pleasing 14.8 per cent enrollment gain was reported by the school in Fall '59—from 182 to 209. Day Division enrollment increased from 77 to 87, evening division from 105 to 133. The students took major responsibility for presenting the annual Law Day program on May 1, one which featured the appearance of two past presidents of the American Bar Association. They also had much responsibility in the editing and production of the school's Journal of Public Law.

For the fifth year out of the past six, an Emory moot court team went to the national finals in New York City in December; there it was one of the last for teams—and the last one from the South—remaining in competition.
The Student Bar Association has as its purpose the promotion of scholastic, social, and professional interests of the students of the Law School. The SBA regulates all the various activities of the Law School, and every member of the Law School is entitled to membership.

One hour during the morning is set aside for the SBA meeting each week. The weekly programs of the SBA include talks by outstanding members of the legal profession. The SBA has successfully endeavored to represent the student body in its relationships with the faculty, the University, and other Law Schools.

The Emory SBA is an active participant in the American Law Student's Association. This spring Emory will serve as host for over twenty Law Schools for the regional ALSA Convention.

STAFF AND CANDIDATES
The Case Club

The Case Club sponsors two appellate moot court arguments each year, one in the fall, the other in the spring. These arguments offer the student his only opportunity in law school to write an appellate brief and argue it before a court. The spring argument is an elimination contest with the two final teams opposing each other as a feature part of Law Day before a distinguished bench composed of outstanding Attorneys and jurists. The winning team represents the law school in the National Moot Court competition in the fall. Emory's moot court teams have done exceptionally well in the Nationals, having gotten beyond the regional competition into the national rounds held in New York City five of the last six years.

The Case Club provides the potential lawyer with training in the use of two of his most needed tools; the ability to write clearly and succinctly in preparing a brief—and the skill of argument before a court, which combines forensic ability in presenting a prepared argument with extemporaneous response to questions from the bench. Members of the case club are: John Arndt, Byron Attridge, Marshall Barkin, Thomas Buck, John Crenshaw, Bob Feagin, Fred Frankel, Bill Hamann, John Harper, Dick Harris, Stan Harris, J. Madden Hatcher, Ralph Hicks, Lynn Higby, Walker Johnson, Richard Johnston, Richard Johnston, Barry Karp, Ron Kronowitz, Joe Lefkoff, Charles Lervis, Bill McNair, Hubert Owens, Dick Perry, Tom Rice, Louis Rigdon, Doug Stewart, Hugh Stone, Hall Ware, Ed Warnock, O. H. Williamson, Alex Wilson.
The annual Law Day ceremonies of Emory University Law School was held on May 1st. The program, a tradition at Emory, is held each year in conjunction with Law Day, U. S. A., the day President Eisenhower has designed for nationwide observance of, and tribute to, the role played by law and legal processes in our way of life.

The Law School was fortunate to have as its speaker one of the most distinguished members of the American Bar, Mr. Charles S. Rhyne. In the morning guest and students enjoyed the school's unique and colorful "old time politickin," which was followed by the traditional barbecue. After the barbecue, students and guests adjourned to the Law School courtroom for the finals of the Moot Court Competition, this year argued before a distinguished bench presided over by Chief Justice Duckworth of the Georgia Supreme Court. The winning contestants were announced at the Dinner-Dance that night. This event is always one of the best presentations of the year, and this year, under the direction of Mr. Byron Attridge, the entire program was very impressive and meaningful.

Law Day Activities

The speakers platform featured such honored guests as S. Walter Martin, Charles S. Rhyne, William B. Spann, P. J. McCutchen, Dean Hepburn, E. Smythe Gambrell, and Arthur S. Miller.
Law students and their wives are served at the Law Day Barbecue.

Honored guests, faculty, and students gather around food tables on a morning of colorful speeches.
Hugh Stone runs for Emory County Ordinary.

Belden Bell adds humor to Law Day in his speech for Ordinary.
Winners of the 1959 Law School moot court competition, the law team represented the school in the regional competition in the Fall and placed second in both the brief competition and overall, entitling them to a trip to the national rounds held in New York. Lloyd Whitaker was given an award for the best oral argument in the final regional round. In the nationals, the Emory team was eliminated in the semi-finals which placed them within the top four out of the one hundred and nine law schools participating from over the nation.

The International Legal Fraternity of Phi Delta Phi is the oldest existing professional fraternity in America. Phi Delta Phi seeks to instill and maintain high standards of professional responsibility and ethics, coupled with an emphasis on scholarship.

The fraternity annually presents awards to the outstanding freshman and the first honor graduate of the year at the Law Day Banquet held each Spring. Luncheons are held monthly, at which time speakers from the practicing bar address the group on current legal problems. Brothers as well as pledges are encouraged to participate in extracurricular activities and each pledge class undertakes some professionally oriented activity as its project. Total membership in Phi Delta Phi is over 75,000 men.

Fall Officers—Bill Epstein, Magister; Charles Hooper, Clerk; Hubert Owens, Exchanger; Ralph Force, Historian. Spring Officers—Lloyd Whitaker, Magister; Ben Cheek, Clerk; Bob Barlon, Exchanger; Bill Duckworth, Historian.
Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity was founded in 1902 in Chicago, Illinois. Since its beginning the fraternity has grown steadily, its present size consisting of eighty-three active chapters with a membership of more than 50,000.

William Albert Kenner Chapter was established at Emory University in 1927, and since, has been an integral part of the school, fulfilling the fraternity's basic precept: Service to the student, the law school, and the legal profession. Keener Chapter published the Law School student-faculty directory; presented gavels in recognition of outstanding argumentative ability to the winners of the annual spring Case Club competition; and conducted an effective speaking program for its members. The fraternity forms a strong bond among the different classes of the law school.

The Medical School
At Henry Grady Memorial Hospital, Senior and Junior Medical students spend the majority of their final years obtaining first-hand knowledge of medicine.
The School of Medicine had a splendid year in 1959 as it moved toward its goal of building a truly fine medical center in the Atlanta area. It made advances so many and so great that a few must be selected to be emphasized.

Most important and dramatic were the developments in the field of psychiatry. Less than two years ago the department of psychiatry was the weakest in the medical school; now, it is one of the strongest. Less than two years ago, offerings in psychiatry amounted to a few lectures a year by volunteer faculty members; now the department, headed by a full-time chairman and staffed by several other full-time people, is exercising leadership in a great and rapidly increasing program of mental health betterment throughout the state of Georgia.

Second only to the strides made in psychiatry were those taken in 1959 in the field of pediatrics. The Henrietta Egleston Hospital for Children moved in April into its new 100-bed, $2,500,000 plant on the Emory campus. Though an independent institution, Egleston is closely affiliated with Emory, which has charge of its educational and research programs and participates actively in its entire professional program.

Numerous new full-time medical school teachers were added—and in all departments—during 1959, and all clinical departments in the school and now headed by full-time chairmen.

Alpha Omega Alpha, highest honorary medical society, was instituted on the Emory Campus in 1940. It replaced the twenty-one-year-old Asklepios, local honor society. The Society was organized at the College of Medicine in the University of Illinois, Chicago, on August 25, 1902.

Th meetings of AOA are devoted to the presentation and discussion of clinical cases and scientific papers. Public addresses are given by distinguished physicians under chapter auspices.

Membership in AOA is based upon the candidate's scholarship and moral qualifications. Its aims are the "attainment of a high standard of character and conduct among medical students and graduates, and the recognition of high attainment in medical science in practice and related fields."

ALPHA KAPPA KAPPA was founded at Dartmouth Medical School in Hanover, New Hampshire on September 29, 1888, and was incorporated in New Hampshire in 1889. There are now forty-five active chapters in the United States and Canada. ALPHA KAPPA KAPPA was established at Emory Medical School in 1915, and has remained active in campus affairs since that time. The Centaur is the fraternity quarterly. The fraternity colors are Dartmouth green and white.

Sigma of Phi Chi was organized in the College of Physicians and Surgeons on February 20, 1905. It was the second medical fraternity to be established in Atlanta and is the oldest chapter of any medical fraternity at Emory. Social activities center around the monthly house dances and the annual Founder's Day celebration held in conjunction with the Atlanta Phi Chi Alumni Association.

Phi Chi recognizes its responsibilities in medical scholarship by sponsoring the James Edgar Paulin Memorial Lecture, which is given each year by an outstanding figure in medical education and research. The chapter also sponsors the Eben J. Carey Award in Anatomy.

The Emory School of Nursing has been a part of Emory University since 1944. The Nursing School offers the opportunity to earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing, the Master of Nursing degree, and to those who are already Registered Nurses, the nursing Bachelor of Science degree. Because of the low student-teacher ratio, instructors are able to give close individual attention and superb training to students.

With the recent rapid development in Emory's offerings in pediatrics and psychiatry, it became possible for the first time in 1959 for the nursing students to stay right on their own campus and receive excellent instruction in those specialties. While on affiliation, students could take only one formal course instead of the customary two or three, thus with the stay-at-home-for-everything policy, students now have the summers off for rest, recreation, or earning money to help with school expenses.

The School of Nursing is under the direction of Dean Ada Fort. Dean Fort was awarded the honorary doctor of humane letters degree by Macon's Wesleyan College in June of 1958.
Experience with families and their new babies is one of the most enjoyable parts of a nurse's education.

Students role-play an approach to a withdrawn patient.

New Henrietta Egelston Hospital for Children is another place that the students get their training.
Student Government

The School of Nursing of Emory University is organized into a self-governing student body which elects a student body president, student council, and the officers of their respective class. Executive Council is composed of the officers of the Student Council, Student Nursing Association of Georgia Representatives, and representatives to the University Senate.

Emory offers advanced study in nursing through the Master's Program.
Theology School

Emory University
During the past year, the Theology School enjoyed an excellent financial position, being strongly backed by the Methodist Fund for Ministerial Education and the Methodist Associates for a Trained Ministry. Together, these sources produced some $111,000 during the year.

With the addition of new faculty members in 1958-59, Theology was able to add new courses in the study of the Bible, the history and interpretation of Christianity, and the influence of Christianity on society. The School now has at its disposal two fully equipped buildings.

Special events of the year in the School of Theology included: its 25th annual Ministers' Week in January, with 700 attending; its third biennial Conference on the Ministry; and three regular summer courses: the Church and Community Workshop, the Approved Supply Pastors' School, and the Workshop on the Art of Preaching and Communications.

As the Church observed the 175th anniversary of the first communion service conducted in the United States by duly ordained Methodist clergymen, the Wesleyana collection in Emory's School of Theology attracted wider attention than ever before. Its 5,000 items relating to John Wesley's life and works are said to constitute the world's largest such collection.

The Honor Council is composed of Ira Andrews, Al Doyle, Max Taylor, Zachary Farr, Howard Hinds, Gabe Clark.

Members of the Chandler Advocate are Leonard McDowell, Associate Editor; Wallace Culp, Editor; Ned Watts, Managing Editor.

Players on the Circuit Riders are Howard Hinds, Dave Hortin, John Thompson, Martin Waller, George Cunningham, Pete Rowlett, Bill Oaks, Dave Cobb, Riley Short, Larry Horne, Rod Johnson, Ed Horton, Coach.

Universities began because men were curious to learn about themselves and their surroundings.

At Emory, both teacher and student keep alive the quality of curiosity in their search for that elusive something we call "the truth."
Dooley's Diary

(Editor's note: This Dooley’s Diary is the latest in a series of unknown duration. Each year Dooley, of unknown identity, leaves a diary which he has filled with choice information and notes about various Emoryites. The editor regrets that the diary is left just before the final deadline and time does not permit consulting those mentioned. It is unfortunate that Dooley prefers to remain anonymous, for many of the individuals would undoubtedly like to meet this old boy about this time of the year. However, since this seems impossible, the Emory family must content itself with accepting their fate and enduring another year of soul-searching. The editor would, however, like to offer this one word of advice, "Next year, don't get caught.")

SEPTEMBER 14 — School opens and Dooley is happy to find everyone back. Well, almost everyone, this quarter Evans decided to try the Law School. Students find on their return, copies of the summer newspaper called the Sigma Chi gazette as written by Manny Bondi.

SEPTEMBER 15 — Dooley is in heaven. This year not only can he go to all the fraternity rush parties but he can also go to the ten new sorority rush parties. There is only one problem. He will have to dress himself like a nun if he expects a bid from one of Emory’s finest.

SEPTEMBER 16 — Back in the dorms Dooley is having his problems with his roommate. The one fraternity that the kid got a bid to closed. Dooley tells him not to worry, he’ll be able to walk to the Sig house on Sunday anyway. If it is not one Sig it will be the other.

SEPTEMBER 17 — The first Wheel of the year comes out and Bonnie Pike, wife of editor Larry Pike is the first Wheel Girl of the Year. Editor Cohn swears that Joan will be Miss Emory in the Campus and Editor Shurkin is planning a five page feature on his Barbara. Who says that the editors use their influence?

SEPTEMBER 18 — Sorority girls are found in the den not even speaking to themselves afraid that Lenore Neilson will bring them before the highest judge of all, Terri Tribble. One Chi Omega was brought up for speaking to a rusheee during a rush party. Lenore promised not to turn in the rusheee if she went Tri-Delt. How many pledges did Tri-Delt get?

SEPTEMBER 19 — It’s Saturday and the night before the big day. The Phi Delts are sure that they are going to get fifty boys, if for no other reason than for their new house. Bob Napier told the Poo Poos not to worry, just take the boys on a grand tour of the house and then sit and pray. SAE picked their select few at the beginning of rush week and nobody has seen the fearsome forty the whole week. The Ape’s have promised Sammy the world and Griffin, Ga., if he will go their way. The Beta’s are having a party but they don’t even know it is rush week. They haven’t seen a rushee in four days. Twelve o’clock comes and goes and the Tep’s go to sleep with easy minds, if nothing else—they rushed clean, but they are sure that they are going to get the boys they bid, that is all but one. Where is Griffin, Ga., anyway?

SEPTEMBER 20 — Dooley is all excited. The big day is here and it is a beautiful day. Which fraternity to go? That is the big question in the dorms this day. Dooley’s roommate is happy, he will be a Sig after all. Meanwhile back on the row all the fraternity men are up and just sitting and waiting for three o’clock to come. The KA’s have loaded up their cannon and the ATO’s are getting Rob Tensley ready to start giving lessons to the new pledges as soon as they walk the row on how to put a winning Dooley’s display up. Where would ATO be without Dooley’s?

SEPTEMBER 21 — All the boys have walked the row and Dooley is now resting. Sorority rush has been very quiet this year. After all they have nothing to cut the other sororities for since none of them do anything. The half-moon sorority is requiring all those who wish to go their way to get letters from the fraternities in the Atlanta area saying that they will be sweetheart at sometime during the next four years. The Beta’s are the first to submit their letter. The Alpha Delta Pi’s have put Linda Williams on a pedestal and are promising all their rushees that they too can be Phi Delta Theta sweetheart and Miss Emory. There is a certain sorority that is not worrying about what type of girl they get just so long as the girl is not being talked about. Talk is cheap but so are pledges.

SEPTEMBER 22 — Dooley finds himself eating at the Sigma Chi house. As he was coming out of the dorms he was pushed by the mob. He feels comfortable there, since nobody knows who anybody is anyway. Classes began and Dooley finds himself having an eight o’clock and a twelve o’clock class. If nothing else his bridge will pick up this quarter.

SEPTEMBER 23 — After the final count the University finds itself with an increase of 250 students. With the increase in the number of students and with the increase in tuition the backroom boys can vote themselves in a raise in pay. What fools these students be!

SEPTEMBER 24 — Dooley and Dean Robertson look over Dean Robertson's calendar for the Fall quarter and find that the new dean will make at least one speech a week for the whole quarter. People he is to speak to range from THE COMMITTEE to a tea that the D.A.R. is giving at Emory. Dooley suggests that the dean ought to let him do some of the talking but Dean Robertson insists that that is what he is getting paid for.

SEPTEMBER 25 — The whole student body is looking forward to wonderful Saturday classes. Dean Archie waves and says to have fun, as he packs his car for a fishing weekend at Lake Altoona.

SEPTEMBER 26 — Nancy Stovall makes the Wheel; editors have a problem writing the cutline. Was she Sigma Alpha Epsilon sweetheart or Kappa Alpha Rose?

SEPTEMBER 27 — Margaret Karg voted Catacombs Queen and Holder of the Key to the Ladies Head. She is overjoyed and promises to do her best in the position that she holds. Cranman as her campaign manager pats himself on the back and is heard saying that Savannah was never like this.

SEPTEMBER 28 — SAE lion painted and AEPi chain is taken. Apes scream that chain was not put in to be taken, just to be looked at.

SEPTEMBER 29 — First fraternity meetings of the year and Jim Collier tells the Kappa Alphas what he did all summer. John McKeever gets his vote of confidence from Delta Tau Delta and proclaims himself King.

SEPTEMBER 30 — Activities on campus have their first meetings to look for new members out of the freshman class. Freshmen relax—it is not what they know, but what fraternity they are in. The promises of rush week are beginning to be fulfilled.

OCTOBER 1 — Van Oatts wins Rat Cap Queen. It just goes to prove that more Kappa Kappa Gammas went to the rat cap dance than any other sorority.

OCTOBER 2 — Pat Carter makes Wheel and Bondi seen in den smiling. She certainly is beautiful and she certainly was past sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

OCTOBER 3 — Sigma Pi is officially suspended. Dooley is sorry to see the chapter go. He thinks seriously of moving in to the empty house. Teps scream saying that they already have plans of building a tunnel under ground and using the extra house as a recreation center and a place for holding Senior Day dances. Nick Pisaris gives his vote of approval.

OCTOBER 4 — Sunday and all is quiet on the Emory campus. Betty Jean Myers is found running around in circles looking for Glen Memorial.

Fuller decides to move his office to the A.M.B. lobby feeling that it would be safer up there. Dooley thinks that is real fraternalism.

OCTOBER 9 — Women's Honor Organization taps. Campus wonders who W.H.O. tapped and why. Dooley is seen running to Dean Rusk's office yelling corruption!

OCTOBER 16 — I.F.C. releases rules for Sing. Joe Johnson and Dooley seen in Den figuring up a way of making the whole thing a farce. Joe would like to do something with a Shakespearian flavor. He is sure the Sigma Nu will win with this new idea.

OCTOBER 1 — Larry Pike wins the 19th All-American for the Wheel. Or has Dooley got this a little mixed up. Oh yes, it was the Wheel that won the All-American for Larry Pike.

OCTOBER 18 — Alpha Tau Omega gets fined for dirty rush. The I.F.C. enforcement committee must not have had an A.T.O. on it.

OCTOBER 19 — Henry Hyatt, elected Pledge I.F.C. President. Hyatt and Pike now have control over the whole of the Greeks. Dooley is thinking seriously of joining Tep?

OCTOBER 20 — Temmie Barkin makes the Wheel. She says that it is great to be back.

SELECTING YOUR LABORATORY

With Dentists who know values, the primary consideration when it comes to Laboratory service is technical knowledge and skill. REPUTATION "record of performance" is of utmost importance. Reputations are built slowly, over a long period of years, by fine quality and superior service.

When it comes to selecting your Laboratory, the deciding factors are quality, service, prestige — and other considerations less tangible than price, but much more important. We have been in this business forty-nine years; this accumulated store of knowledge and experience is at your command.

OCTOBER 22 — Dooley takes a trip around the row to see what is new with the Greeks. All of them are found practicing for Sing. The Sigs feel that if they don’t win in football, they will do the campus a favor and win the sing. Norman Luboff seen eating dinner at the Sig house. Win or lose they are out to win. Gene Katibah can’t decide whether he is a Sig or in the dent school.

OCTOBER 23 — Plans for Greek Week begin to materialize. Dooley goes to I.F.C. and proposes that if Greeks won’t stay at banquet to hear speaker they should be able to eat in cafeteria early and not have to walk out before the speaker speaks. Pike is confronted with 600 people who would like their passes to eat early. All cheer Dooley.

OCTOBER 24 — Parents Day comes and goes. Nobody notices, except Dooley and the Parents. Dooley says that the mothers are getting prettier, and suggests that the boys take a better look next year.

OCTOBER 25 — Not to be out done by the I.F.C. and the Pledge I.F.C., Terri Tribble organizes a Junior Panhellenic council. Jody Weeks becomes President. Terri put on the rack by Theta.

OCTOBER 26 — Cohn gets President of Tau Epsilon Phi and is seen by Dooley talking to Bondi about the corruption of O.D.K.

OCTOBER 27 — Kim Taylor overheard talking to Pike about getting rid of certain people on the Wheel so that he will have no trouble getting editor of the newspaper this coming year. Pike talks but promises nothing.

OCTOBER 28 — Billy Johnson tries to give blood but is rejected. We women know about things like that.

OCTOBER 29 — Talmadge speaks to Greeks at banquet. Dooley wonders what made Pike pick Talmadge. Is it that Pike is going into law? It all goes to prove that it is not what you know, but who you know.

OCTOBER 30 — Satchmo arrives on campus. Dooley never thought that he would see the day. Band is not allowed to go to fraternity houses to eat. Dooley realizes that we are broad-minded at Emory, but not that broad-minded.

The Sigs are blocking with the Sigs and the Tau’s and the Ape’s are blocking against the rest of the campus. Well happy freshman elections!

NOVEMBER 4 — Lucerne Festival opens and Dooley decides to take off from studying for mid-terms to go. He doesn’t find anybody he knows there since he is the only student. Everyone else there is above forty. Dooley goes home and writes letter to the editor about how Emory always schedules things for the convenience of the student body.

NOVEMBER 5 — Wheel comes out and the Delts are angry. What right does Bondi have putting the Sigs on front page and putting them on the inside. Dooley agrees with the Delts for fear that Pike will get hurt.

NOVEMBER 6 — Dooley is thinking about calling a special Publications Council meeting to see what can be done with the Sigma Chi gazette—better known to the student body as the Wheel. Not only did the Sigs get front page on the Sing but also got all important headlines on the inside of the paper. Dooley calls Pike on phone and tells him that the least that he can do is to proofread the paper before it goes in.

NOVEMBER 7 — Goolsby appoints four secretaries to help him do all the work that a vice-president has to do. Talking about Kremlin we ought to look in our own backyard.

Sandy Saam decides that she is too far above it all and leaves.
NOVEMBER 14 — Players are busy making ready for their Fall production. Barry has Gunsard in lead part but finds it hard to locate her. Dooley finds her looking at herself in the mirror. She is convinced she is the young and the beautiful.

NOVEMBER 15 — Both Phi Beta Kappa and Alpha Epsilon Upsilon tap. Dooley is hurt that he did not get a bid to either. He doesn't feel too bad since he doesn't like the boys in either fraternity anyway.

NOVEMBER 16 — Tau Epsilon Phi pledges beat the Alpha Epsilon Pi pledges in the big football game. Dooley goes to game and stands in the middle and waits for game to end before cheering. He feels that in these blood-type games it is always better to wait to see who wins and then cheer for them. Sounds like some girls we all know.

NOVEMBER 17 — Freshman elections are over and nobody is happy except those who got in. Dooley is trying to find one of those who got elected to find out what the body is now going to do.

a Denture is an Emotional Experience...

... and the natural patient symptoms of fear and depression can be greatly reduced, and sometimes overcome, by skillful use of the many elements in the Trubyte Esthetics Program.

THE FIRST CONSULTATION CAN BE INFORMATIVE AND REASSURING

Trubyte Patient Education Aids make it possible for you to show your patients, clearly and dramatically, what modern prosthetic dentistry can accomplish. When your patients see "Living Dentures," they will understand, perhaps for the first time, that the denture experience need not be associated with advancing age and declining vigor. The proper presentation of this beautiful new patient education book will contribute immeasurably to the process of psychological readjustment, and will enlist the patient cooperation so necessary to the final success of the restoration.

THE PRELIMINARY CHAIR WORK CAN BUILD PATIENT CONFIDENCE

And facilitate the initial steps of the denture creation.

The Trubyte Bioform Professional Denture Service Unit can be invaluable to you and your patients. The Unit is an important aid to preliminary tooth selection and arrangement—equally important, perhaps, is its value in demonstrating to your patients the personalized and individualized character of your denture service. Your patients will understand what you are doing for them, and why.

THE TRY-IN CAN BE A MOMENT OF RELIEF AND GRATITUDE.

The first try-in of the completely successful restoration can be a richly rewarding experience for both you and your patient. Certainly, this experience is dependent primarily upon the application of your professional knowledge and skill to the problems of esthetic denture design. Yet many dentists have found that the Trubyte Bioform System of Tooth Selection and Arrangement, and the exclusive use of Trubyte Bioform Teeth, are essential to consistently excellent results. This is because the Trubyte Bioform System is based upon over sixty years of continuing study of Nature's underlying principles as evidenced in the healthy, natural dentition, and because Trubyte Bioform Teeth provide the wide variety of natural tooth forms, and the radiant vitality of natural tooth shades, which simulate the beauty of living teeth.

Esthetics and Trubyte are inseparable. Your Trubyte Representative will show you how both Esthetics and Trubyte can build your prosthetic practice.

JANUARY 19 — Jim McCord seen on campus, again. Dooley wonders where he’s been hibernating. Would seem he’d been away with Ann Hadley and Bob Carter, except he’s a Beta and the latter are connected with SAE, and those two groups don’t see eye to eye on Dean Cannon’s morality thesis.

JANUARY 20 — Henrietta Hill seen outside Beta House trying to get in. Evans seen inside throwing stones yelling, “I don’t even know who you are.” Dooley thinks he who lives in a glass house shouldn’t throw stones.

JANUARY 22 — Psychiatry ward holds open house. 80% of visitors detained. Bill Bracewell, Mary Lee, Dick Hobgood, and Larry Pike seen outside playing bridge licking their lips in anticipation of entrance. Dooley laughs.

JANUARY 23 — Betsy Blitch and her Mau Maus organize coffee shop in Den kitchen. Decides it will be a refuge for the individualists castigated by arch-conformist Pike. Mrs. Pike discloses the uniform for the day. Dooley reminds him that Georgia isn’t holding gubernatorial elections for another few years.

JANUARY 24 — Mensch given present by TEPphi pledges. He and Dooley cavort in Atlanta hotel room, all expenses paid. Pete Matlin laughs and says, “I told you you’d enjoy it.”

JANUARY 25 — Dooley finds out his name is not on the dean’s list of good little students. He really doesn’t wonder why. In retaliation he holds blast in Stella’s for all the have-nots. Too many show up, so Dooley joins Harrell Lott, Jerard Cranman, Elliott Moon, and Dr. Clark in quest for a place the bourgeois Chemistry 101 students haven’t heard of yet. Dooley suggests the Chem lab. Mr. Dixon decides to join the fun.

JANUARY 26 — Campus puzzled by a certain Mrs. G. Kimbrough Taylor’s name appearing on the Dean’s List. Taylor gets so mad he hits the ceiling. Dooley not surprised to see that he didn’t bother to come down but flew out of the room.

JANUARY 27 — Dooley hears of concert planned by some adolescent in the Glenn, and plants bomb in the stage ceiling. He figures there are too many children around Emory as is.

JANUARY 28 — Sig’s “I-almost-was-sweetheart” contingent mourn loss of Fanny Manny on the Wheel. Campus breathes sigh of relief. Kim takes over selecting Wheel girls and does same type of job.

JANUARY 29 — Lorin Hollander plays in the Glenn. Dooley’s bomb goes off as planned but misses Hollander, only gets piano. Senate prepares investigation of this insult to Emory’s reputation. Hollander, with surprising insight into the “Emory system,” tells them to go to the Devil.

JANUARY 30 — Ed Jordan and Blanton Bessinger get dates for wild orgy at the Sigma Nu house, but told they can’t. They have to guard the new ATO chapter room.

FEBRUARY 1 — The Student Senate replies to Wheel criticism by attempting to cut the Wheel’s budget by $1,000. Aspiring Editor Taylor points out that there is, as usual, no quorum and the meeting adjourns.

FEBRUARY 2 — Kappa Alphas begin disguising themselves as arm pits in preparation for annual Old Smell Ball.

FEBRUARY 3 — Entire campus is aghast when it is revealed that the Sigma Chi Chas are on social probation. Dooley, glancing over their membership, laughs.

NOTE: Dooley left instructions that all favorable comments on this year’s Diary should be referred in writing to the Dean of Students’ office. If any unfavorable reaction develops, please suffer in silence. Dooley confesses he’s sensitive, too. Dooley has just time to slip the last entry under the office door, and so adieu!
As I sit by my typewriter, I find myself lost for words. It is hard for a person to express himself about a job that he has done. It is sort of taking a full time job, enjoying it immensely, and then having to leave it.

I have more than enjoyed working and producing a yearbook: I have loved working and producing Emory's yearbook.

Working as I have for the past three years with the people in the catacombs and more recently with all the people in the university, I find that I have gotten more out of this university than a lot of people.

When I was first named editor, the feeling was one of "I finally have arrived." This was a false feeling and one that I had to overcome. This feeling was overcome by working with the people who were part of the Emory family and in turn making me feel that I was now an important part of the same family.

Dean Rece to whom this book is dedicated is a fine man to work with. In picking the man I had no choice in whom I was to dedicate this book. He stands for all I hope to be in the future. He is a man who is devoted to the Emory way.

I would like to thank my whole staff for the work that they all put into the book. As every editor says, "I couldn't do it without..." and then goes on to name a hundred names — I would like to just say thank you.

My last thank you I would like to give to the University and to the student body for giving me the opportunity of presenting this book to them.

Paul B. Cohn

Editor 1960 Campus
