FOREWORD.

In the production of the Eranos we have ventured out into an heretofore unexplored realm of college publication. Our hope is that by it we may be bound more closely together in the bond of Pan Hellenic Unity, that the friends of the college may see what place fraternities occupy in college life, that in reading these pages, each one of our alumni shall feel his heart kindle with a livelier interest in his fraternity and in the great principles of Fraternityism.

Having such hopes, we present this work to you, trusting that in the tempered censure of your sympathetic wisdom it shall not be pronounced that we have wrought in vain.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Emory College was named in honor of Bishop John Emory, of Maryland, who was elected to the episcopacy in 1832 on the same ballot with Bishop James O. Andrew, and who presided over the fourth session of the Georgia Conference, at Washington, Wilkes County, in 1834. In December, 1835, he was accidentally thrown from his carriage and killed, near his home in Baltimore. The Conference session of 1836, at Columbus, Ga., appointed trustees to incorporate the College, and directed them to call it Emory, probably at the suggestion of Bishop Andrew, as a tribute to the memory of his lamented colleague. In pursuance of the will of the Conference, the trustees bought 1,400 acres of woodland near Covington, Newton County, in the granite region of Georgia, for $14,000, and at the suggestion of Dr. Ignatius A. Few, gave it the classic name of Oxford, in honor of the old English university.

In 1838 the College was opened for the reception of students, under the presidency of Dr. I. A. Few, with Dr. Alexander Means and Rev. Charles W. Lane as professors. The first class, of three members, were graduated in 1841. During these years, 1487 men have received the diplomas of the College, and have since served the country and the church with honor to themselves and their Alma Mater.

During the presidency of Dr. A. G. Haygood, the College began to take on new life, when Mr. George I. Seney, of Brooklyn, N. Y., gave about $100,000 to the institution, erecting the building known as Seney Hall and making large additions to the endowment.

Under the presidency of Dr. W. A. Candler, $100,000 were added to the endowment, Rev. W. P. Patillo, of Atlanta, Ga., giving $25,000. The new library building named “Candler Hall” was erected at a cost of $25,000.

During the presidency of Dr. C. E. Dowman, a $50,000 Science Hall was projected, the corner-stone was laid, and the funds with which to erect the building were in a large measure secured, Capt. J. P. Williams, of Savannah, donating $15,000.

The original Board of Trustees was composed of men whose names are historic in Georgia Methodism: Ignatius A. Few, Lovick Pierce, Charles Hardy, William J. Parks, Elijah Sinclair, Samuel K. Hodges, Samuel J. Bryan, Alexander Speer, George F. Pierce, Daniel P. Hillhouse, William P. Graham, Seaborn Jones, Joseph A. Eve, Iverson L. Graves, Lucius Wittich, and John Park.

The following have filled the office of President: Ignatius A. Few, D.D., LL.D.; Augustus B. Longstreet, LL.D.; George F. Pierce, D.D., LL.D.; Alexander Means, D.D., LL.D.; James R. Thomas, LL.D.; Luther M. Smith, D.D.; Osborn L. Smith, D.D.; Atticus G. Haygood, D.D., LL.D.; Isaac S. Hopkins, D.D.; Warren A. Candler, D.D., LL.D.; C. E. Dowman, D.D. Three of these, Drs. Pierce, Haygood and Candler, were elected to the episcopacy from the presidency of the College. Dr. Haygood, however, declined the election in 1882 on account of his duty to the College, but was re-elected in 1890, after he had resigned the presidency.

Sigma Nu Fraternity; D. V. S.; University School Alumni Club; Commencement Speaker, 1904; Relay Runner, 1906; Track Team, 1907.

Almand entered the Freshman Class in the spring of 1904. At that time Grady was a young and frolicsome lad in knee trousers, and still, despite the lapse of nearly four years of arduous college labors, the fount of his exuberant, juvenile liveliness is not yet completely exhausted. After being in college a while, he desponded of ever being able to hold up under his work, and consulted his brother John, for advice. John informed him that he need not expect to do the work of a man in the garb of a boy. Grady’s astute judgment easily recognized the wisdom of his brother’s advice, and, acting thereon, donned long trousers, and to his ineffable joy, found his burden reduced to a bubble, which he has been gleefully blowing about ever since.

Almand entered the Freshman Class in the fall of 1903. Having learned all that is comprised in the curriculum at Stone Mountain, John came to Emory if peradventure he might increase his store of knowledge yet further. Arriving here, he was confronted by the necessity of choosing a course, and after due investigation discovered that he had mastered already everything contained in the curriculum here, except such studies as are afforded a candidate for the S.B. degree. He buckled down to work immediately, and having kept his eyes steadily fixed upon this degree four long and weary years, is finally nearing his goal. He delights in his work and regrets to see the end approaching, but accepts the inevitable with good grace, saying with true philosophic instinct, "I lose, but Emory gains, and equilibrium is preserved." At his leisure moments John amuses himself by helping Grady blow his "bubble."

Harry is a present to us from the University of Georgia. He is undoubtedly the sport of the class. He makes it a rule to wear the same suit exactly three times and then to pass it on to his brother Sam. He is the famous Covite, and worships at the shrine of a goddess "Divinely tall and most divinely fair," celestial Euterpe. But he is most especially famed for his matutinal propensities for music. He never gets up later than 12 m. to indulge in the favorite diversion, pianoforte playing. I will wind up these thoughts by saying that he is a very "cute" boy.

WRIGHTSVILLE, GEORGIA.

Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity; Pendragon; A. E. U. Honorary Society; Phi Gamma Literary Society; Winner Freshman Declamation Medal, '04; Winner Sophomore Declamation Medal, '05; Winner Junior Oration Medal, '06; Senior Speaker, '07; Impromptu Debater, '05, '06; and '07; May Debater, '05; Fall Term Debater, '05; Champion Debater, '07; President Phi Gamma Literary Society, '06; Managing Editor of Emory Phoenix, '07; Honor Roll, '04, '05 and '06; Class poet, '04-'05; Class Secretary and Treasurer, '04-'07; Class Baseba11 Team, four years; Captain Baseball Team, '06 and '07; All Emory Baseball Team, '05 and '06; Class Relay Runner, '05; Member Pan Hellenic Council.

Since Paul Easterling Bryan entered College as a Freshman, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and three; he has continually made himself decidedly felt. In fact, though rather diminutive in stature, Easterling is not of such a nature as to allow himself to be easily overlooked or ignored. He has stamped the impress of his forceful character deep in college life. Few, if any, men in college are so well rounded in their make-up as he. As a student, his record bears him out as standing among the leaders of his class. As a speaker and debater his forcefulness and eloquence have won him a place among the foremost ranks. As an athlete, he also possesses somewhat of a “rep” as he is conceded to be the best second-baseman in school and as captain of his team has repeatedly led it to victory. Many times and oft have the ladies come to dread his charms for he is wont to hold them hanging upon the utterances of his lips till the small hours of morning, yea, till the crowing cock proclaimed the approaching arrival of the cook.
William LeGrand Bryan, A.B.

Wrightsville, Georgia.

Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, Pendragon; Speaker's Place, '04, '05, '06, and '07; Honor Roll, '04, '05, and '06; Welcome Address, Few Society, '05; Poet, '06; President of Few Society, '06; Chairman of Board of Directors, Few Society, '06; Junior Greek Medal, '06; A. E. U. Honorary Society; Literary Editor of Eranos; Special Gym, '05 and '06; Baseball Team, '06, '07; Speaker at Senior Banquet, '07; Pan Hellenic Council, '07.

Will Bryan, he of the beard, otherwise known as LeG, has a mania for whiskers and poetry. Erato is his favorite Muse, too. Though most emphatically not a politician, he has succeeded in getting up quite a respectable list of honors. He is also justly famed for his speeling propensities. 'Tis said on good authority, though I do not vouch for it, that he made several remarks once to a girl down in Wrightsville. He is deplorably lacking in brass, however, even though Paul Bryan be his brother, but taking him as a whole, he is a worthy product of South Georgia soil.
William Thomas Burt, Ph.B.

Buena Vista, Georgia.

Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity; D. V. S.; Monte Carlo Social Club; Baseball Team, '06 and '07; All Emory Team, '06.

Bill Burt, who dances with Dozier occasionally, is a good-natured old soul, who plays baseball, smiles sweetly, and cuts for dopes. He is famed for his good looks and from the fact that he came from Buena Vista. Willie's chief distinction, however, is that he never changes his mind. He actually has kept the same seat in Bible during his entire college course. He also sits with Bill White Clark, much to the latter's discontent. For this reason, he has chosen Melpomene for his favorite Muse. He does not write tragedy, however, but only makes the raw material therefor.
Walter Turner Candler, B.S.

Atlanta, Georgia.

Kappa Alpha Fraternity; D. V. S.; M. I. E. Social Club; University School Alumni Club; Speaker's Place, '04 and '05; Georgia Day Orator, '06; Speaker at Senior Banquet; Football Team, '07; Relay Team, '04, '05, '06 and '07.

As Harry Brooks is the sport of the class, so is W. T. Candler its dude. The most dressy of men, he was never seen in any other habiliments than the "Very latest out." He has a stout boot-lick on the world of females, especially pretty ones, but rarely condescends to honor them with more than the tribute of a passing glance. Naturally, when these rare events come off, the fair sex are joyous, and Gov is wreathed in smiles for a week after one of Walter's visits. The aforesaid gentleman is gifted with a charming tenor voice, exhibited with much effect in Chapel, together with a pair of nose-squeezing eye-glasses. Walter took astronomy last fall, and at the time adopted Urania as his favorite Muse.
William White Clarke, A.B.

COVINGTON, GEORGIA.

Kappa Alpha Fraternity; Monte Carlo Social Club; University School Alumni Club.

Will White entered college with '06, but decided to investigate Stone Mountain and Goat Griffin, and so has afflicted '07 with his presence ever since Freshman year. He is a notoriously bad man and lover of Stone and his store. Especially does he shine as the knight of the (Hoyt) cologne bottle. Will White dominates Mid-way society, including Rivers hill. Thalia is his favorite among the Muses, perhaps because of the Monte Carlian associations. W. W. is a heavy sport and carries a big walking cane with him all the time.
William Abner Dozier, A.B.

Flovilla, Georgia.

Phi Delta Theta Fraternity; Pendragon M. I. E. Social Club; University Alumni Club; Esperanto Club; Phi Gamma Literary Society; Speaker, '06; February Debater, '06; Honor Roll, '05, '06.

That Terpsichore's charms have captivated Dozier is indubitable—he waltzes with Burt in Gym sometimes. Indeed Dozier is the ladies' man of the Senior class. His frequent expeditions to Macon, Atlanta and Gainesville not to mention Cov., have become famous in the college annals, fit subjects for Homeric songs. In his prestidigitatory moods, Dozier can tell us how he shot 'em for ten without looking at the lesson. He says he used to study when he was an under-class man, but when he became a Senior he put away Sophomore things, having found out that he could do just as well by boot-lick and by bluff as by hard digging.
William Hammond Johnson, A.B.

Johnson entered the Freshman Class in the fall of 1903. "Tub," as he is well known, is by no means claimed to be the smallest member of the Senior Class, a statement equally applicable in the realm of mind and of matter. By means of a fair sprinkling of "gray matter," together with the respect inspired by his huge corporeal system, he has succeeded in making good marks in the class-room, and at the same time has developed into a star football player. But his prowess by no means ends here. He has performed prodigious social stunts, and is a veritable "lion among the ladies," having slain many fair damsels with the dagger of his irresistible charms. After each fair slaughter he adds the reeking scalp of his victim to his already well-filled belt, and immediately goes out in search of newer and fairer conquests.
John Wesley Lowrance, A.B.

Martin, Tennessee.

Kappa Alpha Fraternity; Pendragon; Memorial Day Orator, '06; Washington's Birthday Orator, '07; Impromptu Debater, '06; President of Ministerial Association, '06, '07; President of Literary Club; President Shakespeare Club; Champion Debater, '07; Literary Editor of Emory Phoenix; Editor-in-Chief of Eranos; Football Team, '04, '05, '06; Manager of '06 Football Team, '04; All Emory Football Team, '05; Track Team, '05 and '06; Assistant Manager of Track Team, '07; Manager of Track Team, '07; Pan Hellenic Council, '07.

Lowrance entered as special in the fall of 1904, and joined the 1907 class the next fall; since that time he has successfully established himself securely in the heart of Charlie Pep by covering more ground in Greek than any man in recent years has covered in the same length of time. He was growing in stature when he came, but ever since he has been steadily growing in favor with Bill Weber and Frank Clyde Brown, until now even the new Gym is at his disposal. And perhaps more thoroughly than this has been his phenomenal growth in favor with the ladies of his acquaintance, for verily he has become a veritable shark, yea, ever a lion among the gentle ones, and it requires considerable effort on his part to keep from becoming entangled in the meshes of their nets before he graduates.

John has been very active in Emory athletics, and has acquired considerable prominence both as an athlete and as director of athletics, and as an enthusiastic worker in the literary society, he has developed into an able and forceful debater and speaker. In fact, his personality and innate ability are such as to have made him felt in all circles of college activity until now he is recognized as one of the strongest and most influential factors in college life.
Raiford Kemp Malone, A.B.
Cuthbert, Georgia.

Sigma Nu Fraternity; Pendragon; Few Literary Society; Pan Hellenic Council; Literary Editor of Eraxos; Boynton Medal, '06; Anniversary of Few Society, '06; Commencement Speaker, '07; Champion Debater, '07; First Violin, Emory Orchestra, '06 and '07; Honor Roll, '05 and '06.

Malone entered the Sophomore Class in the fall of 1904. Kemp, a luminary of the first magnitude, is an enthusiastic student of history and mythology. In these fields he has been given a great deal of rope and has grazed both thoroughly and widely. While the other fellows are playing ball or are engaged in some other form of athletics, he sits quietly in his room, diligently pouring over voluminous records of past events or storing away in the convolutions of his cerebrum the philosophic ideas of ancient sages. In this way he has succeeded in establishing for himself a reputation for learning, admixed with a slight degree of wisdom, despite his juvenility, and his perhaps most prominent idiosyncrasy, an indescribably peculiar laugh, of which he is recognized as being the sole exponent.
Kenneth Holmes McGregor, B.S.

Lumpkin, Georgia.

Phi Delta Theta Fraternity; D. V. S.; Athletic Editor of Eranos; Basket-ball Team, '03; Baseball Team, '04, '05, '06 and '07; Football Team, '05 and '06; Relay Runner, '05 and '06; Captain of Field Sports, '07.

K. H. McGregor entered the Sub-Freshman Class in the fall of 1901. At the end of the fall term Mac discovered that he was in too slow company, so he dropped out a year to join the ranks of 1907 in spring term Freshman. He by no means believes in doing to-day what may be deferred till to-morrow. This very likely accounts for the fact that he deserted the class of 1906 to cast in his lot with the class of 1907. But McGregor is a great athlete and the fundamental why of his appearance in the present Senior Class is beyond all doubt to be explained by the fact that this class was to break all past records by latching on to two football pennants as well as two baseball pennants. Whatever the reason for this change may be, however, Mac knows a good thing when he sees it.

Hal also is a present from '06 to us. He has been to Atlanta, to a medical school, and has also had appendicitis. The medical school soon shipped him, however, and Emory, i. e. Dr. Dickey, decided to try the virtues of '07-dom on him. We have all noticed the benefits he has derived from associating with us. Hal is also a confirmed ladies' man, Covite, and defender of the faith. In fact our class abounds in people of that ilk, did the world but know it. Hal's prowess is particularly to be commended, however, especially as his Muse is Polyhymnia, surprising as it may seem.

Wisenbaker entered the Sophomore Class in the fall of 1904. "Baker" is one of the largest Men in the Senior Class, and is a dread opponent on the football field. He is a star player, and when he makes a run with the ball, few there be that are anxious to place their corporeal systems in his path in an effort to induce him to halt. This is naught but wholesome fear, and we prescribe a liberal does of same, to be taken without hesitation and in due time, to all such as may oppose him on the football field at any future time. To the best of our knowledge, he has smashed the record for a big nose, and we doubt that any one can dispute his distinction with him.

To Someone.

Thy Beauty, fairest of the fair,
Is fairer still to me,
Nor mermaid haply here, a rare
Pure thing from purest sea,
Exquisite product of the foam,
Nor kindred loveliness
Of Zeus-born Naiad, wont to roam
In wanton blessedness
Caressing fondly dell and glade,
And comb her yellow hair
Beneath the willow’s densest shade
And com her beauty rare,
Can even shadow forth thy charm,
Thy winsome grace, thy pure
Sweet face—smiling face—warm
With life and light and lure.

R. K. Malone.
The Morning After.

My nerves are all a tingle,
My mind is in a jingle,
While countless thoughts do mingle
As I dream of gay last night.
My lips are sugar coated,
And the handsome tie I sported
Is all smeared with sweets that floated
From around the parlor light.

So stuck up I am feeling
I can hardly keep from squealing
And my mind goes 'round a reeling
When I dream of your sweet lips:
And the mem'ry is so lasting
I could go for months a fasting
For it is as sweetly tasting
As the nectar Venus sips.

W. CLYDE COOPER.
The Bliss in a Kiss.

Ah! who would give consent to miss,
Or e’en deny 'tis perfect bliss
To feel upon his lips a kiss,
When served by an attractive miss?

The thought, aye, e’en the simple thought,
Hath to my mouth the water brought;
Infusing me with great desire
To set my ladie’s lips afire,

By raining on her so sweet
A thousand kisses, all complete!
Complete means that she too would kiss,
Returning each without a miss!

Aye! though she kisses me o’er and o’er,
Until my lips were e’er so sore,
Still would I plead, “O, just one more!
Thy kisses sweet are to the core!”

“From thy sweet sugar-coated lips
This youth his sweetest honey sips;
He’d drink till from his finger tips
Exuding sweetness gently drips.”

While drinking on this theme sublime,
Distinctly I recall a time
When mother said, “Here is some pie
That you may have.” I made reply,

“There’s something sweeter passing by!”
And quickly to the gate did fly
To see and kiss, ere ’twas too late,
Sweet Angelina at the gate.
Delicious? Word, O hie away!
For you can't half express, nay, nay,
The bliss which I felt that glorious day
Derived from kissing my sweet fay

Upon her fair and rosy cheek!
And on her lips! She didn't speak,
But, with a face aglow with love,
Upon my lips did quickly shove,

Much to my rapturous delight,
A kiss that made the world so bright,
I felt I needed not the sun
So long as our lips were one.

Our hearts were from their moorings torn,
Launched out upon love's sea, and borne
Straight into harbor opened wide
By Cupid's hand, bewitching guide.

Ah! you would ne'er agree to miss,
But would affirm it untold bliss
To feel upon your lips a kiss,
Imprinted there by some sweet miss.

William LeGrand Bryan.
Beware!

In the year 1920 I was an unwilling witness to the following sad occurrence:

Col. W. H. Johnson and I are sitting in the one room of his little cottage, discussing his chance for being the next democratic nominee for president, when his wife, a diminutive but sinewy woman, puts her head in at the door and says: "Tub, the stove wood is out. Get me some at once," and immediately returned to the kitchen, which is situated some sixty yards from the house. "Tub," forgets his wife's orders until about fifteen minutes later, when she returns to find out why he has not obeyed. No sooner is his wife's head in the door than "Tub" has sought refuge under the bed. But her keen eye at once discovers the fugitive, and with the voice of a Stentor she exclaims,

"I'll teach you, wretch, that you must mind
   Whene'er I say, do this or that;
   And when your flogging's o'er, you'll find,
      Perhaps, some sense beneath your hat."

She immediately goes out, and "Tub," Jr., seeing his mother breaking and stripping peach-tree switches, says to "Tub," Sr.,

"O, papa, come out; mother's gone for a switch!
   Come out, darling papa, and flee, or you'll itch!
   Make haste, papa dear, and escape while you may
   Or mother will bring her dread switch into play,"

But terror-stricken "Tub" can only reply,

"Dear son, I'm afraid; my poor heart's dismayed;
   Behold on my countenance pallor portrayed.
   'Tis needless to flee; I'm weak in the knee;
   And can not e'en rise from the floor, as you see."

I hear Mrs. "Tub" returning, and being unwilling to witness the humiliating chastisement of my former classmate as he pitifully pleads,

"O! Mrs. Johnson, turn me loose," I take my leave unceremoniously.

W. L. B.
Retrospection.

When darkness closes silently,
Around a sleeping world,
And mystic beings seem to be,
In thousand places round about,
All o'er the place and in and out,
With whispers chill, and rustling queer,
While wondrous voices I can hear;
The curtains soft I then unfurl
And look back on a parted year.

The curtains then raised silently,
The mystic beings I behold,
And lo, they're dress'd with gayety,
And then I start, for naught are they
But blessed scenes of yesterday—
Such simple scenes, yet valued more,
Than countless wealth or hoarded lore,
Such priceless scenes, that were I told
They'd sell for worlds, I'd ask for more.

And gazing thus, despondency
Comes creeping in my soul,
As ghosts of scenes that used to be,
Are dancing in my sullen sight,
And seem to enter from the night,
While vainly seek I to embrace
Their flimsy forms, they madly race
Away, and naught but air I hold,
While just before they float in space.

The evenings thus pass pleasantly,
Again I live the times of yore,
And often gaze near breathlessly,
Lest I disturb and drive away
The scene long passed of some glad day,
Or frighten off a memory dear,
That's sacred made a parted year;
I sit and long for memories more,
And pray they always may be near.

WHEN IN ATLANTA GIVE US A CALL.
The Old Established Manufacturing Clothiers

Established 1865

Mongst the landmarks of Atlanta, none stand out more prominently as established monuments of success, than the “old established” Clothing house of EISEMAN BROS.

For upwards of half a century, these merchants have kept their standards of quality a guiding light for square dealing; and their palatial establishment on Whitehall Street, is an overwhelming testimonial to their integrity.

You are cordially invited to visit the “Big Store” when in Atlanta whether intent upon buying or not."

Here is an exposition of Men’s and Youth’s apparel, that for quality and completeness, it is without comparison in Atlanta or the South.

Clothing—Haberdashery—Hats and Shoes.

The most authoritative styles—fabrics—weaves and colors.

Every department a complete store in itself, carrying big varieties, immense stock and complete ranges of sizes.

The “Big Store” will dress you cap-a-pie, and with less tax on your purse (quality considered), than might be the results elsewhere.

ATLANTA, GA.
THE RIGHT PIANO FOR YOUR HOME

BUY a PIANO as you would a watch for inside excellence as well as outside show, and from a house whose guarantee is reliable. We sell Pianos just as Tiffany sells watches. We guarantee the hidden part as well as the outside—we will take off the case and let you see for yourself. You will know in ten years whether the Piano bought of us has lived up to our representations—and that is the length of time we guarantee them. Go through our stock, pick out a piano whose tone suits you and our guarantee as to material and construction makes you absolutely safe. Your satisfaction is our first concern. Coca-Cola adds a refreshing relish sold at all fountains and carbonated in bottles 5¢ to every form of exercise.
Certainly, the charter of taste was never so easily secured by young men from 15 to 20 years as it is now in the Muse Store.

Time was (and is in some stores) when a youth's choosing was kept to a prescribed groove.

Make a comparison between these Muse two and three piece Spring suits for youths and for men.

You will find almost all styles in duplicate.

By the way we owe a debt of gratitude to you College Students for popularizing our young men’s department.

It covers other things as carefully—

Face to face and show you how different our clothing is from the common run, we are satisfied that you would call it time well spent.

We are exclusive Atlanta agents for "College Brand" L. Adler & Co.'s, Rochester, and Strouse & Bros., High Art Clothing. Not that our goods are so much higher in price than others, but the many little points of excellence which are identified with the clothes we sell, so prominently assert themselves to the eye and good taste of the buyer, that for the nonce, our prices seem the littlest.

The vitals of our garments are of the rock ribbed king, which insures lasting wear, shape and color.

When you are ready to look or buy, our store is the store for you to see, the latch string hangs out.
